Officials Deny Report On Berlin Policy Issue

Ike Assures Germany Of No Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials Friday dismissed as untrue reports published in West Berlin that President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev laid the basis for a Berlin agreement in talks at Camp David last weekend.

State Department press officer Lincoln White told a news conference he had no formal comment on the published report. But he said he thought the Berlin situation had been discussed fully by President Eisenhower at his news conference Monday and by Asst. Secretary of State Andrew H. Berding in a speech Thursday.

Eisenhower told a news conference that any Berlin settlement between the Western powers and the Soviet Union would have to be worked out with the approval of the people of West Berlin.

POLICY

Berding in effect reaffirmed basic U.S. foreign policy that this country intends to maintain military forces in West Berlin to protect the freedom of the people there until Germany is unified. He said the basis for maintaining the forces is provided by the rights and obligations arising from the World War II victory.

A story in the West Berlin newspaper Telegraf said Eisenhower and Khrushchev had sketched out major points for an agreement to this effect: First, a corridor would be established between West Germany and West Berlin. Second, the Western troops would be kept in West Berlin to supervise the

Rebels Drive Government From Posts

Offensive Runs Along 40-Mile Front In Valley

SAM NEUA, Laos (AP) — Pro-Communist rebels in this northeastern province have launched a new offensive and have driven government posts on the Nam Ma River defense line, Brig. Gen. Amkha Soukhavong announced Friday.

The commander of royal forces in the north told newsmen the two posts, Muong Het and Xieng Kho, fell to the rebels Wednesday.

"We pulled out because we were afraid that if we stayed the Reds would launch a really big offensive," the general said. "We just don't have the means to support large numbers of troops in those areas. We will advance again as soon as we can."

He said the offensive continues along a 40-mile front in the Nam Ma Valley running from 5 to 10 miles from Sam Neua province's northeastern border with Communist North Viet Nam.

WOUNDED

Twenty wounded men were evacuated from Muong Het and more are coming in, he reported.

He estimated that five rebel battalions are active in the province, three in the northeast and two in the northwest, with other small bands operating west and south of this provincial capital as well.

The U.N. team of fact finders, here exploring Laos' charges of Red aggression, cancelled a trip to Hua Muong, southwest of Sam Neua, because of the danger of running into wandering rebel bands.

Mun Muong Het was retaken by the government only last Saturday and Xieng Kho on Sunday. The rebel counteroffensive apparently was timed to coincide closely with the arrival of the U.N. mission here.

Nearly all 2,000 of Sam Neua's residents turned out in colorful finery to meet the U.N. team when it arrived Thursday.

Brig. Gen. Herberto Ahrens of Argentina said the U.N. team interviewed eight prisoners captured by the government.

"They told us they were Pathet Lao (Laotian rebel) soldiers," he said.

Several of the prisoners are teen-agers. One said he is 16 and joined the Pathet Lao when he was 13.

The U.N. team also inspected captured weapons.

Chiropractors State Meeting Opens In City

The two-day semi-annual Louisiana Chiropractors Association Convention gets underway at the Virginia today, with 100 delegates expected.

Dr. H. C. Sloat, local convention chairman, announced the complete program.

Featured speaker will be Dr. A. H. Swain, past president of the Arkansas Chiropractors Association, who will discuss "Ethics and Office Procedure."

SPEAKER

Dr. Swain of El Dorado, Ark. will speak at the 7:30 p.m. banquet on the roof of the Virginia Hotel, headquarters for the convention.

Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard will give the welcoming speech at the banquet.

Activities get underway at 5 p.m., as registration begins and the Board of Governors meets.

Dr. John R. Cullum of Marshal, Tex. will speak at the Sunday morning breakfast, at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

At 10 a.m., separate business sessions will be held for Association members and delegates to

Carole Free On Bail

Carole Tregoff, with a backward glance past her mother, Mrs. Gladys Tregoff, leaves court yesterday still free on $25,000 bail. The pretty young cocktail waitress, accused with her lover, Dr. Bernard Finch, of murdering his wife, Barbara, heard a judge say he could not revoke her bail nor would he increase it. The prosecution had sought to have her returned to jail or to have bail increased to $100,000 pending trial. (AP Wirephoto)

SERIES SQUARED

Dodger Sluggers Pace 4-3 Victory

CHICAGO (UPI) — Slender Charley Neal gave the Chicago White Sox two gift runs and then got back three with a furious bat which lashed two home runs Friday to give the Los Angeles Dodgers a 4-3 victory that squared the World Series at one game each.

A juggled double play ball and a single off Neal's glove set the Dodger second baseman up as the possible "goat" in the opening inning as those rampaging White Sox forged a quick two-run lead before 47,368 hostile fans.

But he more than made up for it later with a home run in the fifth which broke a string of 13 2-3 scoreless Dodger innings. And then, after pinch hitter Chuck Essegian's homer had tied it up, Neal hit a Ruthian two-run clout 430 feet into the centerfield bullpen which carried the Dodgers to their triumph.

DIFFERENCE

It was in the end, on this gray, cheerless day at Comiskey Park, the difference—and just enough to make southpaw Johnny Podres the winner and tack the loss on big Bob Shaw.

Because while Larry Sherry, the clutch relief pitcher as the Dodgers hammered down the stretch to win the National League crown in a playoff with the Milwaukee Braves, came on to finish it up

Advice

When automobiles were new, at the outset called "horseless carriages," they caused quite a hubub, according to our friend J. B. Dawkins. The other night he let us in on what happened in Virginia at a college where early vehicles of this kind made appearances. One of the freshmen there was provided with one of the new vehicles (his father was wealthy) and John Brown (we'll call him that) was having the time of his life in that new vehicle.

He took his boy and girl friends out after classes and they travelled far into the night for the sport of the thing.

Then his immediate professor got after him. "Son," he said, you stop all that fast riding with a car full of young folks. You must stay at home some nights and study!."

But soon after, the freshman was at his old trips in the car and he had a second call down from his professor who stated he was failing in two subjects.

The third call down came in quick order: "Sonny boy I have had enough of you! You are expelled! You and your car can take yourselves anywhere but in and around this school of ours!"

U.S., Philippines Work To Sooth Ire

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The United States and the Philippines tried Friday to pour oil on diplomatic waters roiled by a clash between two of their top U.N. delegates. But repercussions persisted both here and in Manila.

Efforts were made by the heads of both U.N. delegations to write off as a personal matter the sharp exchanges between Walter S. Robertson, former U.S. assistant secretary of state and Leon Maria Guerrero, the Philippine ambassador to London.

Both men are members of their delegations to the 82-nation General Assembly. The oral fireworks started at a private diplomatic luncheon Wednesday and continued in bristling statements issued Thursday.

Ambassador Francisco A. Delgado, head of the Philippine U.N. delegation, issued a statement describing the affair as "purely a personal one between the two gentlemen." He said the Philippine delegation regrets the incident and continues to maintain the same cordial relations as always with the U.S. delegation.

Several hours later Ambassador James J. Wadsworth, head of the U.S. delegation, put out a statement expressing appreciation for Delgado's "gracious and friendly sentiments."

Board Asks Hearing In Hoffa Case

Teamster Head Hit On Reforms For Elections

WASHINGTON (AP) — Court - appointed monitors complained to a federal judge Friday that Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa has refused to follow their recommendations for reforms in Teamsters election procedures.

In a new complaint, the board of monitors asked U.S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts to order Hoffa to put the reforms into effect. The monitors requested a hearing on the matter next week.

Letts already has before him a number of monitor petitions, one of which seeks Hoffa's removal on grounds he misused funds of Teamsters Local 299 in Detroit. Hoffa is president of this local, as well as of the parent union.

Another such pending complaint, on which Letts is expected to act soon, alleges that Hoffa and his top aide, Harold J. Gibbons, failed to safeguard now-missing financial records of Springfield, Mo., Local 245. Gibbons is the union's executive vice president.

REPORTED

It was reliably reported also that the monitors intend to file still more complaints next week against Hoffa and other Teamsters officers for alleged noncompliance with monitor reform proposals.

The monitors were named nearly two years ago in a compromise settlement of a lawsuit in which several dissident members alleged Hoffa's election to the top Teamsters post had been rigged.

Letts and a federal appeals court have held that reasonable monitor reform suggestions are enforceable by the courts under the compromise. But the Teamsters are appealing this to the Su-

Loyal Fan Just Missed Seeing Game

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP) — Herman J. Ruschel loved the Chicago White Sox.

For most of his life, he was a loyal Sox fan. He even kept a large collection of newspaper clippings, telling of the team's victories and defeats down through the years.

Now they were playing in a World Series for the first time in 40 years. Ruschel, a 59-year-old Dubuque salesman, had to get tickets.

So Ruschel packed up his clippings and sent them to the White Sox offices in Chicago.

IMPRESSED

Charles Comiskey, the club's vice president, was so impressed he sent two free tickets to Friday's game to Ruschel, whom he commended for being such a loyal fan.

But Ruschel never got to see his team go down to a 4-3 defeat.

His brother - in - law, Joseph Burke, of Austin, Minn., who accompanied him to the game, said Ruschel complained of chest pains while they were walking to their seats at Comiskey Park.

He collapsed and was taken to an emergency fire station in the ball park where he was given oxygen treatment.

He died a short time later of a heart attack in a Chicago hospital.

Police Force Loses 3 Tons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington's police force doesn't have the weight it did a couple of months ago—by about three tons.

Dieting has resulted in a loss averaging about 15 pounds for the 400 overweight men turned up in a survey.

The campaign started after a member of Congress linked local motorcycle policemen to "Kewpie Dolls with little pot bellies." Word went out that the overweight—42 per cent of the total force—needn't expect promotions. Rookies were instructed to keep their weight down.

Dock Strike May Run On Three Weeks

NEW YORK (AP)—A deadlock between employers and longshoremen gave signs Friday that the two-day dock strike gripping ports from Maine to Texas will last at least three weeks.

The New York Shipping Assn. announced it would not negotiate with the International Longshoremen's Assn. until Oct. 15—the date to which the union originally agreed to extend the old contract —unless the men return to work before hand.

William V. Bradley, ILA president, insisted that the men would not return until they have a new contract. And a new contract must wait upon further negotiations.

The shippers said further they would not negotiate until they get assurance from the union that dock workers here will carry out any agreement independent of action by longshoremen at other Atlantic Coast or Gulf ports.

AGREED

Bradley originally agreed with the New York shippers to extend to Oct. 15, the old contract that expired Sept. 30 on being assured that any wage or other gains in a new pact would be retroactive to Oct. 1.

Southern longshoremen said their employers gave no such assurance and they began walking out early Thursday. The northern longshoremen then struck in support of the southern dockers.

2-Headed Girl Dies In N.Y.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP) —A two-headed girl born Thursday died Friday.

The child also had two hearts, two stomachs and two spines, a physician at Memorial Hospital reported. There was one pelvis and one torso.

The doctor said five such births had been reported in the world in the last five years. Twins failed to separate during the early stages of pregnancy, he said. The development was not Siamese twins, he explained, because the Siamese twins grow from one egg with two close centers of organization. Such was not the case here.

The infant was fed through both mouths. One head slept while the other took nourishment. The two sides died 30 minutes apart.

The names of the parents, who have two other children, were withheld. The mother was reported recovering normally.

U.S. Negotiating Space Contract

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's space agency announced Friday that it is negotiating a contract for research vital to development of atomic-powered rockets for space ships of the future.

Test Rocket Fails Again After Launch

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — A short-range Polaris test rocket blew up 40 seconds after launch Friday and sent a spectacular shower of wreckage and flames plunging into the ocean off the cape.

It was the second such accident of the week for the sturdy little Navy missile, which had become almost routine in its successful firings. Last Monday, a Polaris spiraled out of control and was deliberately destroyed.

Officials said the "destruct" switch was not used on Friday's missile, forerunner of a submarine - launched weapon scheduled to become operational late in 1960.

The two-stage vehicle, 40th Polaris to date, bolted from its stable pad at 2:11 p.m. e.d.t. and trailed a brilliant white exhaust as it started on a programmed

GREEK-ENGLISH

'Hellenic Phrases' Throw Governors

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was English all right, but it was Greek to the governors of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund.

Xenophon Zolotas, governor of the Bank of Greece and chief Greek delegate to the bank and fund conference here, told the final session that politicians are cryptoplethorists.

That threw the finance experts until somebody figured out crypto is a prefix meaning hidden and plethorist is a promoter of excess —in other words in inflation backer.

"Although they emphatically stigmatize numismatic (monetary) plethora, they energize it through their tactics and practices," Zolotas went on rapidly.

By the time his audience got that simplified—politicians really encourage inflation even while they damn it — Zolotas was 300 words into his subject.

"We have to synchronize and harmonize more and more our economic and numismatic policies panethnically," he said.

Anybody who had translated numismatic into monetary did all right with that one down to the last word. It combines the prefix pan, meaning all, with an adverb meaning on the basis of nations and peoples.

From there Zolotas went on:

"The history of our didymous (a fancy word for dual) organiza-

Momentous Ruling Told For Du Pont

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal judge in a momentous decision ruled Friday that the Du Pont company may retain its 23 per cent stock interest in General Motors, but it cannot vote the shares or acquire more.

Voting rights must be surrendered to individual Du Pont stockholders.

Judge Walter J. La Buy of U.S. District Court made the ruling in compliance with a U.S. Supreme Court decision which found there was a tendency toward monopoly in the relationship between the two giant firms.

Du Pont and its family holding companies own 63 million shares of GM stock—worth nearly 3½ billion dollars. Du Pont is GM's largest supplier of paints and finishes.

DECISION

Under La Buy's decision, there will be no sweeping sale of GM stock as the government proposed and which Du Pont contended would seriously affect the nation's economy. He called the proposal "unnecessarily harsh and punitive."

"The effective means," said La Buy in a 101-page decree, "is to divest Du Pont of the votes on such General Motors shares and pass such votes through pro rata to Du Pont stockholders and then to enjoin the exercise of such votes as lodges in Christiana and Delaware and in officers and directors of Du Pont, Christiana and Delaware, their spouses and dependents." Christiana Securities Co., and Delaware Realty & Securities Corp. are Du Pont family affiliates.

The shippers said further they would not negotiate until they get assurance from the union that dock workers here will carry out any agreement independent of action by longshoremen at other Atlantic Coast or Gulf ports.

AGREED

Bradley originally agreed with the New York shippers to extend to Oct. 15, the old contract that expired Sept. 30 on being assured that any wage or other gains in a new pact would be retroactive to Oct. 1.

Southern longshoremen said their employers gave no such assurance and they began walking out early Thursday. The northern longshoremen then struck in support of the southern dockers.

2-Headed Girl Dies In N.Y.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP) —A two-headed girl born Thursday died Friday.

The child also had two hearts, two stomachs and two spines, a physician at Memorial Hospital reported. There was one pelvis and one torso.

The doctor said five such births had been reported in the world in the last five years. Twins failed to separate during the early stages of pregnancy, he said. The development was not Siamese twins, he explained, because the Siamese twins grow from one egg with two close centers of organization. Such was not the case here.

The infant was fed through both mouths. One head slept while the other took nourishment. The two sides died 30 minutes apart.

The names of the parents, who have two other children, were withheld. The mother was reported recovering normally.

FOR VITAL RESEARCH

U.S. Negotiating Space Contract

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's space agency announced Friday that it is negotiating a contract for research vital to development of atomic-powered rockets for space ships of the future.

An official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration cautioned against expecting any spectacular results. He called the research "simple one step" toward trying to find out if a nuclear rocket system will work. As of now, he said, "we just don't know."

EFFECTS

The contract, which is being negotiated with the Georgia Division of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., will be the first awarded by the space agency to a private firm for nuclear rocket research. It will run more than three years and cost about a million dollars.

The research is aimed at find-

Test Rocket Fails Again After Launch

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — A short-range Polaris test rocket blew up 40 seconds after launch Friday and sent a spectacular shower of wreckage and flames plunging into the ocean off the cape.

It was the second such accident of the week for the sturdy little Navy missile, which had become almost routine in its successful firings. Last Monday, a Polaris spiraled out of control and was deliberately destroyed.

Officials said the "destruct" switch was not used on Friday's missile, forerunner of a submarine - launched weapon scheduled to become operational late in 1960.

The two-stage vehicle, 40th Polaris to date, bolted from its stable pad at 2:11 p.m. e.d.t. and trailed a brilliant white exhaust as it started on a programmed

GREEK-ENGLISH

'Hellenic Phrases' Throw Governors

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was English all right, but it was Greek to the governors of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund.

Xenophon Zolotas, governor of the Bank of Greece and chief Greek delegate to the bank and fund conference here, told the final session that politicians are cryptoplethorists.

That threw the finance experts until somebody figured out crypto is a prefix meaning hidden and plethorist is a promoter of excess —in other words in inflation backer.

"Although they emphatically stigmatize numismatic (monetary) plethora, they energize it through their tactics and practices," Zolotas went on rapidly.

By the time his audience got that simplified—politicians really encourage inflation even while they damn it — Zolotas was 300 words into his subject.

"We have to synchronize and harmonize more and more our economic and numismatic policies panethnically," he said.

Anybody who had translated numismatic into monetary did all right with that one down to the last word. It combines the prefix pan, meaning all, with an adverb meaning on the basis of nations and peoples.

From there Zolotas went on:

"The history of our didymous (a fancy word for dual) organiza-

Ike Assures Germany Of No Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials Friday dismissed as untrue reports published in West Berlin that President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev laid the basis for a Berlin agreement in talks at Camp David last weekend.

State Department press officer Lincoln White told a news conference he had no formal comment on the published report. But he said he thought the Berlin situation had been discussed fully by President Eisenhower at his news conference Monday and by Asst. Secretary of State Andrew H. Berding in a speech Thursday.

Eisenhower told a news conference that any Berlin settlement between the Western powers and the Soviet Union would have to be worked out with the approval of the people of West Berlin.

POLICY

Berding in effect reaffirmed basic U.S. foreign policy that this country intends to maintain military forces in West Berlin to protect the freedom of the people there until Germany is unified. He said the basis for maintaining the forces is provided by the rights and obligations arising from the World War II victory.

A story in the West Berlin newspaper Telegraf said Eisenhower and Khrushchev had sketched out major points for an agreement to this effect: First, a corridor would be established between West Germany and West Berlin. Second, the Western troops would be kept in West Berlin to supervise the

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal judge in a momentous decision ruled Friday that the Du Pont company may retain its 23 per cent stock interest in General Motors, but it cannot vote the shares or acquire more.

Voting rights must be surrendered to individual Du Pont stockholders.

Judge Walter J. La Buy of U.S. District Court made the ruling in compliance with a U.S. Supreme Court decision which found there was a tendency toward monopoly in the relationship between the two giant firms.

Du Pont and its family holding companies own 63 million shares of GM stock—worth nearly 3½ billion dollars. Du Pont is GM's largest supplier of paints and finishes.

DECISION

Under La Buy's decision, there will be no sweeping sale of GM stock as the government proposed and which Du Pont contended would seriously affect the nation's economy. He called the proposal "unnecessarily harsh and punitive."

"The effective means," said La Buy in a 101-page decree, "is to divest Du Pont of the votes on such General Motors shares and pass such votes through pro rata to Du Pont stockholders and then to enjoin the exercise of such votes as lodge in Christiana and Delaware and in officers and directors of Du Pont, Christiana and Delaware, their spouses and dependents." Christiana Securities Co., and Delaware Realty & Securities Corp. are Du Pont family affiliates.

Dock Strike May Run On Three Weeks

shoremen has tied up cargo operations on about 200 freighters at a cost estimated by shippers at 20 million dollars a day.

It also posed some uncertainty concerning future passenger liner schedules should it last any appreciable length of time.

Most lines, however, intend to continue on their regular runs, at least for the present, instead of diverting inbound ships to Canadian ports.

The United States Lines, whose America and the United States are due here next week, said they expect to put into New York as scheduled.

During dock strikes in the past, American ships have been reprovisioned here by office employes. That practice presumably would be undertaken again.

However, ships putting into New York face another possible handicap. Should the unionized ships' crews respect the ILA picket lines, the ships would be unable to sail out again.

Still another possible obstacle would be a strike of towboat men, in sympathy with longshoremen. So far, the towboat men, who help to dock the big liners, have not indicated they will walk out.

Three passenger liners arrived here Friday—the Queen of Bermuda, the Vulcania and the Hanseatic.

Luggage, ordinarily handled by longshoremen, was removed by the passengers themselves with the aid of steamship office employes and crewmen.

A threatened "back-to-work movement" by a 3,000-member Brooklyn local failed to materialize after strike leaders warned against it.

During the negotiating prior to the strike, the union said it was willing to accept a three-year contract providing a 50-cent-an-hour package increase, including wages and benefits.

The New York Shipping Assn., representing 170 steamship and stevedoring firms, had offered 30 cents—20 the first year and 5 each the next two years.

Approximately 25,000 longshoremen in the port of New York have averaged $107.76 a week in pay.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A federal mediator renewed attempts Friday to settle the dock workers' strike that had the port of New Orleans all but deserted.

While an estimated 15,000 dock workers were idled by the strike, a huge load of imported steel was lying on the wharves. Some 36 vessels were caught in the strike here.

Ports from Maine to Texas were paralyzed as the walkout of 85,000 members of the International Longshoremen's Union entered its second day.

A union official said thousands more would be idled if they honor ILA picket lines, set up Thursday after a breakdown of last-minute negotiations for a new contract.

Al Chottenden, president of New Orleans ILA Local 1418, predicted the number of men affected could rise as high as 90,000 "in the next 24 hours."

Meantime at Mobile the president of the Mobile local of the International Longshoremen's Assn. said the present strike was caused by "a misunderstanding on the part of management in some ports."

George Dixon told representatives of other maritime unions he understood that in some other ports management "minundederstood the demands on the Gulf and South Atlantic.

"They thought an identical contract to the one agreed upon in New York was demanded. This was not the case.

"All we asked for was the same retroactive clause," Dixon continued. "We demanded that any benefits later agreed upon be retroactive to Oct. 1. We did not ask for all the benefits included in the New York contract. Many of those benefits are local in nature and would not apply in other ports."

An estimated 2,000 dock workers at Mobile are involved in the strike, although only about 1,000 normally work at any one time.

new arrangement rather than as occupation forces. Third, the United States would not object to a separate peace treaty between the Soviet Union and Communist East Germany.

On this latter point Herter has been in difficulty ever since he told newsmen in New York last week that the United States had no objection to a separate peace treaty between East Germany and the U.S.S.R.

The State Department press office subsequently sought to correct this by saying that Herter did not mean to imply approval of such a Communist treaty but only to point out there was nothing the United States could do to prevent the signing of such a treaty.

Department officials gave specific assurances on the treaty issue to the West German government. West German officials indicated they were satisfied there was no change in U.S. policy. Neverteheless, there is a widespread impression in Europe that the Eisenhower administration is in the process of remaking its policies on Berlin.

by Christiana and Delaware would be sterilized and voted by no one.

Without voting power, ruled La Buy, "and without directors on the General Motors Board, Du Pont is completely stripped of any potential power to penalize or reward the employes of GM in accordance with their demonstrated attitude toward Du Pont products."

In general, La Buy's ruling follows a proposal made by Du Pont attorneys in hearings earlier this year.

Du Pont and its affiliates will be prohibited from acquiring any additional GM stock and from attempting to influence General Motors in any way.

In other provisions, La Buy ruled that:

No officer or director of Du Pont or the family corporations will be permitted to vote any GM stock.

No officer or director of Du Pont or the family corporaations will be permitted to serve as an officer of GM and GM will be prohibited from employing an employ of Du Pont or the affiliate companies.

"All preferential trade arrangements or understandings between Du Pont and General Motors will be canceled and they will be prohibited from entering into any such arragements or embarking on joint commercial ventures so long as Du Pont owns General Motors stock."

Neither counsel for Du Pont and General Motors nor the government had any immediate comment. Attorneys said they wanted to study the long document.

However, Crawford H. Greenewalt, president of Du Pont, issued this statement from Wilmington, Del.: "We are gratified that the court has recognized that a forced distribution of the Du Pont company's General Motor stock is not necessary and would result, under the present tax law, in an 'unnecessarily harsh and punitive' penalty on hundreds of thousands of innocent stockholders."

Board Asks Hearing In Hoffa Case

preme Court. The High Court is likely to rule this fall.

Friday's complaint said that in many months of negotiations the union has refused to accept monitor proposals for election reforms. The monitors have been conferring frequently with Hoffa.

The petition said the election reforms are reasonable and asked Letts to order the union to adopt them so they can apply to numerous local union elections to be held this fall.

One proposal is that a union local be required to make mailing lists and other facilities equally available to opposing candidates and incumbents for distributing election literature.

The monitors also want to prohibit making members ineligible to vote or fun for office in the event that dues, after being checked off, are delayed in being turned over to the union. This long has been a bone of contention between Hoffa and the monitors.

Nominations for local union office also could be made by mail on petition of two members. This is intended to meet the problem of members being unable to attend nominating meetings because they were out driving trucks.

The new monitor complaint came after a Teamsters executive board meeting adjourned Thursday night.

Before quitting, the board formally authorized a new Teamsters legislative and political department—designed to put the union deeper into local and national politics.

Questions of the new department's scope and financing were put off for decision at a later executive board meeting, probably next winter.

ing out how rocket materials stand up under the combined effects of intense radiation and extreme cold.

Several parts of a nuclear rocket would be subjected to radiation from the atomic reactor and to temperatures of minus 425 degrees Fahrenheit. This is the temperature of liquid hydrogen, the best known propellant for nuclear rockets.

In a nuclear rocket, liquid hydrogen would be heated in a reactor. The expanded gas then would be expelled at great speed through an exhaust pipe to drive the ship forward.

The Atomic Energy Commission has conducted ground tests in Nevada looking toward development of a nuclear engine for space vehicles.

The space agency said an atomic rocket engine gives "promise of powering greater payloads over greater distances than chemical rockets, both liquid and solid, now planned."

Lockheed will do preliminary work on the project at its Marietta, Ga., plant. The main research will be carried out in NASA's 60 million watt reactor at Plum Brook, near Sandusky, Ohio.

But other people were getting into the act, and it appeared certain that the blowup would have repercussions on the political scene in the Philippines, where there's to be an election next month.

Curys S. Eaton, Cleveland industrialist who has interested himself in international affairs, sent a congratulatory telegram to Guerrero.

It said: "Millions of Americans applaud your speaking up to Walter Robertson, whose intemperate speeches and undiplomatic conduct have shocked those who believe in the United Nations."

The press officer, for the Philippine delegation said also that Guerrero, a former law associate of Claro Recto, Philippine nationalist leader, had received congratulatory messages from five Philippine government and civil leaders.

A highly placed delegation source said Guerrero is regarded as an exceptionally clever young diplomat and politician, very mindful of what effect his quarrel with Robertson will have at home.

Robertson called him arrogant and rude. Guerrero said if Robertson thought voicing nationalist opinions was rudeness, then the American "does not know the difference between rudeness and self-respect."

LONDON (UPI)—Laborite Leader Aneurin Bevan, who remained in parliament throughout World War II, Thursday night was heckled about his war record. "Then perhaps you'll join up this time!" shouted a man in the audience.

During the negotiating prior to the strike, the union said it was willing to accept a three-year contract providing a 50-cent-an-hour package increase, including wages and benefits.

The New York Shipping Assn., representing 170 steamship and stevedoring firms, had offered 30 cents—20 the first year and 5 each the next two years.

Approximately 25,000 longshoremen in the port of New York have averaged $107.76 a week in pay.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A federal mediator renewed attempts Friday to settle the dock workers' strike that had the port of New Orleans all but deserted.

While an estimated 15,000 dock workers were idled by the strike, a huge load of imported steel was lying on the wharves. Some 36 vessels were caught in the strike here.

Ports from Maine to Texas were paralyzed as the walkout of 85,000 members of the International Longshoremen's Union entered its second day.

A union official said thousands more would be idled if they honor ILA picket lines, set up Thursday after a breakdown of last-minute negotiations for a new contract.

Al Chottenden, president of New Orleans ILA Local 1418, predicted the number of men affected could rise as high as 90,000 "in the next 24 hours."

Meantime at Mobile the president of the Mobile local of the International Longshoremen's Assn. said the present strike was caused by "a misunderstanding on the part of management in some ports."

George Dixon told representatives of other maritime unions he understood that in some other ports management "minundederstood the demands on the Gulf and South Atlantic.

"They thought an identical contract to the one agreed upon in New York was demanded. This was not the case.

"All we asked for was the same retroactive clause," Dixon continued. "We demanded that any benefits later agreed upon be retroactive to Oct. 1. We did not ask for all the benefits included in the New York contract. Many of those benefits are local in nature and would not apply in other ports."

An estimated 2,000 dock workers at Mobile are involved in the strike, although only about 1,000 normally work at any one time.

Test Rocket Fails Again After Launch

700-mile flight down the Atlantic missile range.

But the first-stage booster burst away about 15 seconds too soon and hurtled toward the water. The second section had climbed almost out of sight when a sharp firecracker-like blast signaled its end.

The Defense Department said that the test vehicle "developed a malfunction about 40 seconds after launch" and that "cause of the malfunction was not available." Officials studied pictures of the launching.

The shot was designed to gather data on the Polaris guidance system.

new arrangement rather than as occupation forces. Third, the United States would not object to a separate peace treaty between the Soviet Union and Communist East Germany.

On this latter point Herter has been in difficulty ever since he told newsmen in New York last week that the United States had no objection to a separate peace treaty between East Germany and the U.S.S.R.

The State Department press office subsequently sought to correct this by saying that Herter did not mean to imply approval of such a Communist treaty but only to point out there was nothing the United States could do to prevent the signing of such a treaty.

Department officials gave specific assurances on the treaty issue to the West German government. West German officials indicated they were satisfied there was no change in U.S. policy. Neverteheless, there is a widespread impression in Europe that the Eisenhower administration is in the process of remaking its policies on Berlin.

Momentous Ruling Told For Du Pont

by Christiana and Delaware would be sterilized and voted by no one.

Without voting power, ruled La Buy, "and without directors on the General Motors Board, Du Pont is completely stripped of any potential power to penalize or reward the employes of GM in accordance with their demonstrated attitude toward Du Pont products."

In general, La Buy's ruling follows a proposal made by Du Pont attorneys in hearings earlier this year.

Du Pont and its affiliates will be prohibited from acquiring any additional GM stock and from attempting to influence General Motors in any way.

In other provisions, La Buy ruled that:

No officer or director of Du Pont or the family corporations will be permitted to vote any GM stock.

No officer or director of Du Pont or the family corporaations will be permitted to serve as an officer of GM and GM will be prohibited from employing an employ of Du Pont or the affiliate companies.

"All preferential trade arrangements or understandings between Du Pont and General Motors will be canceled and they will be prohibited from entering into any such arragements or embarking on joint commercial ventures so long as Du Pont owns General Motors stock."

Neither counsel for Du Pont and General Motors nor the government had any immediate comment. Attorneys said they wanted to study the long document.

However, Crawford H. Greenewalt, president of Du Pont, issued this statement from Wilmington, Del.: "We are gratified that the court has recognized that a forced distribution of the Du Pont company's General Motor stock is not necessary and would result, under the present tax law, in an 'unnecessarily harsh and punitive' penalty on hundreds of thousands of innocent stockholders."

Board Asks Hearing In Hoffa Case

preme Court. The High Court is likely to rule this fall.

Friday's complaint said that in many months of negotiations the union has refused to accept monitor proposals for election reforms. The monitors have been conferring frequently with Hoffa.

The petition said the election reforms are reasonable and asked Letts to order the union to adopt them so they can apply to numerous local union elections to be held this fall.

One proposal is that a union local be required to make mailing lists and other facilities equally available to opposing candidates and incumbents for distributing election literature.

The monitors also want to prohibit making members ineligible to vote or fun for office in the event that dues, after being checked off, are delayed in being turned over to the union. This long has been a bone of contention between Hoffa and the monitors.

Nominations for local union office also could be made by mail on petition of two members. This is intended to meet the problem of members being unable to attend nominating meetings because they were out driving trucks.

The new monitor complaint came after a Teamsters executive board meeting adjourned Thursday night.

Before quitting, the board formally authorized a new Teamsters legislative and political department—designed to put the union deeper into local and national politics.

Questions of the new department's scope and financing were put off for decision at a later executive board meeting, probably next winter.

ing out how rocket materials stand up under the combined effects of intense radiation and extreme cold.

Several parts of a nuclear rocket would be subjected to radiation from the atomic reactor and to temperatures of minus 425 degrees Fahrenheit. This is the temperature of liquid hydrogen, the best known propellant for nuclear rockets.

In a nuclear rocket, liquid hydrogen would be heated in a reactor. The expanded gas then would be expelled at great speed through an exhaust pipe to drive the ship forward.

The Atomic Energy Commission has conducted ground tests in Nevada looking toward development of a nuclear engine for space vehicles.

The space agency said an atomic rocket engine gives "promise of powering greater payloads over greater distances than chemical rockets, both liquid and solid, now planned."

Lockheed will do preliminary work on the project at its Marietta, Ga., plant. The main research will be carried out in NASA's 60 million watt reactor at Plum Brook, near Sandusky, Ohio.

But other people were getting into the act, and it appeared certain that the blowup would have repercussions on the political scene in the Philippines, where there's to be an election next month.

Curys S. Eaton, Cleveland industrialist who has interested himself in international affairs, sent a congratulatory telegram to Guerrero.

It said: "Millions of Americans applaud your speaking up to Walter Robertson, whose intemperate speeches and undiplomatic conduct have shocked those who believe in the United Nations."

The press officer, for the Philippine delegation said also that Guerrero, a former law associate of Claro Recto, Philippine nationalist leader, had received congratulatory messages from five Philippine government and civil leaders.

A highly placed delegation source said Guerrero is regarded as an exceptionally clever young diplomat and politician, very mindful of what effect his quarrel with Robertson will have at home.

Robertson called him arrogant and rude. Guerrero said if Robertson thought voicing nationalist opinions was rudeness, then the American "does not know the difference between rudeness and self-respect."

"Then perhaps you'll join up this time!" shouted a man in the audience.

Macmillan Gives Voters Warning

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told voters Friday night to beware of giving power to a party with some members who are "almost Communist." It was a new tack in his election campaign against the opposition Labor party.

In a hard-hitting speech at nearby Watford, Marmillan pressed the claims of his Conservative government to represent Britain at East-West summit talks.

"The Labor party is deeply divided on every great question of defense and foreign policy," he said. "Some are practically fellow travelers, some almost Communist. Some are good patriots to the right. Some want a policy of unilateral disarmament, but some agree with us that you can only have it by staged disarmament under control."

Mcmillan claimed again that his mission to Moscow last February broke the ice betwen East and West and led to a withdrawal of the Soviet Union's ultimatum on Berlin.

Morgan Phillips, Labor party secretary, issued a statement Friday containing a long list of alleged Conservative sins. The statement said Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government operates with the motto: "Fool the people."

Phillips told a news conference Labor candidates from now until next Thursday's polling are "going on the offensive in the biggest way possible."

Macmillan hit back with vigor. In a speech at Stamford he blasted Laborite promises of pension benefits and tax cuts. The Conservatives estimate these measures would cost 300 million pounds — 840 million dollars—a year and push the country into an inflationary spiral.

"If the Laborites go on at this rate they will have promised to take off all taxation before we get to polling day," Macmillan said. "These are not serious proposals of men who expect to hold power. They are irresponsible, last-minute bids of men who are determined to gain power by any means, reputable or disreputable. They are the last scene of the rake's progress. They are the gambler's last throw."

Record Crop Forecast For Monroe Area

A record cotton crop is forecast for Northeast Louisiana farmers by county agents over the area.

Some Ouachita parish cotton farmers were reported likely to yield as much as two and a half bales per acre by Ouachita Parish County Agent J. J. Joyce Jr.

Of course, Joyce added, others won't yield more than a bale per acre.

Joyce predicted Ouachita parish would average a record yield of just under a bale and a half per acre unless there is a seige of bad weather.

The previous record was just under one and a quarter bales per acre in 1956.

Summing up the cotton yield outlook for the Northeast Louisiana area Joyce said, "If the weather holds out we are almost certain to harvest a record yield this year."

The Ouachita agent urged farmers to keep the gin sample in mind while harvesting. "Some of the more important things that insure high grade samples are an avoidance of damp cotton at the gin and cleanliness of samples."

Majorettes Touch Off Killer Riot

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador (AP)—Two persons were killed and four injured in riots touched off by rowdies trying to strip scantily clad drum majorettes in Ecuador's largest city Thursday night.

A navy shore patrol unit came to the defense of parading teenagers who were being manhandled by hoodlums making lewd remarks. Some of the girls were nearly undressed before police and troops quelled the outbreak.

Soldiers fought the mob 2½ hours, stepping in after national and civil police had been virtually routed.

A store owner reportedly shot and killed two looters among the crowds that used the occasion to break into shops. Witnesses said police and soldiers did not fire into the mob.

A police patrol car was overturned and gasoline soaked rags were tossed on it, but they did not burst into flame. Two of the injured were policemen. None of the parading girls suffered serious injury, except to dinity.

The disturbance was considered an indication of Guayaquil's dissatisfaction with the government. Some contend the government, though most taxes are collected in the banana-rich coastal regions around Guayaquil, gives preference in alloting tax money to Quito, the capital. The government also is blamed for not solving the plight of Guayaquil's unemployed, who took advantage of every opportunity to transform parades and public meetings into riots so they could loot.

Guayaquil was the scene of rioting four months ago, sparked by a student demonstration, that left many dead and injured.

Miss. Officials Hunt For Youth Who Left Note

PICAYUNE, Miss. (AP)—Authorities Friday hunted for a 16-year-old Burntbridge community youth who disappeared Wednesday, leaving a note he was "leaving home and going to Mexico."

The youth, identified as Clifford Wiley Stockstill, however may be bound for Ohio.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. U. Stockstill Jr., said their son is 5 feet, 7 inches tall, weighs 130 pounds, has a flottop hair cut and was wearing a brown and white pinstripe shirt and blue-jeans.

Anyone knowing his whereabouts is requested to notify Picayune police or the Mississippi Highway Patrol.

2 Sentenced To Prison In District Court

A moderately - heavy Fourth District Court session yesterday saw two men sentenced to prison.

Judge Jesse Heard levied three five-year concurrent penitentiary terms on Joe Thomas McClain, 44, for three burglaries.

McClain admitted burglarizing a labor hall at 1900 Pine St., Hart's Grocery near Swartz and Phillips "66" Service Staton during August.

Fred Powell Jr. 31, alias Carl W. Smith, pled guilty to forgery and was sentenced to four years in the Louisiana State Penitentiary at Angola.

APPOINTED

Attorneys appointed by the court to defend Alonzo Dixon Jr., charged with murder, and Willie Lewis and Andrew Parker, both charged with theft, were relieved. Other attorneys were named to replace them.

Charges of fraudulent use of a driver's license and driving without a license, against Earl Edwards, were dropped.

Andrew Joasua Charles, 44-year-old Negro, was remanded for a pre - sentence investigation after pleading guilty to simple burglary of a house at 907 Adams street in Monroe, on Sept. 11.

In other action Judge Heard heard the following not guilty pleas: Maurice Laird, charged with simple burglary of Rickerson's Service Station in West Monroe on Sept. 26, set for trial on November 3: and Henry Lee Mack, Negro, also charged with simple burglary and set for trial on Nov. 2.

Dwight D. Moore, charged with taking wild game, squirrels, during a closed season, pleaded not guilty and will face trial on October 30.

Two persons were fined for reckless operation of a movable. C. C. Mitchell, Negro, was fined $75 and costs, while Carl Henry Warren received a fine of $25 and costs. In addition Mitchell was fined $25 and costs of court for failure to post bond.

A bond for John Y. Brooks, charged with reckless driving, was called when the defendant did not appear in court.

NO DRIVER'S LICENSE

Three persons were fined $25 and costs for having no driver's license. They were Sylvester West, James R. Waldrup and Minnie Lee Manning. Having no chauffeur's license brought a similar fine for James R. Kelley.

Two persons were charged with operating a motor vehicle with defective brakes. Willie H. Welch Jr., Negro, received a fine of $25. Homer L. Thompson pleaded not guilty to the charge and will face trial on October 16. Elmer U. Thompson charged with permitting the operation of a vehicle with defective brakes, will be tried on the same day.

Fred Dixon, Negro, was fined $50 and $25 respectively for speeding 85 miles an hour and failure to post a bond within the five-day period provided by law.

Henry W. Borsch pleaded not guilty to disturbing the peace and trespassing and will be tried on October 23.

Bonds were called for Nelson Flintroy, charged with simple obstruction of the highway; Leonard Ray Floyd charged on two counts with no chauffeur's license; and Huey R. West, also charged with no chauffeur's license.

"theirs has lemons in it"

leMonade 1¢
LEmonadE-2¢

So speaks a shopper who, in this case, wants a real lemon but never wants to get stuck with a figurative one. Smart girl! She's learned at an early age that sometimes a penny saved can also mean a penny wasted. Rather than snap up a "bargain" which she's got her doubts about, she'll pay that little bit more and get her two cents' worth—lemonade that tastes like lemonade.

Every shopper wants to get her money's worth, but some—unlike the wise little miss above—are fooled by cut-rate prices and by misleading advertisements that promise the impossible. Prices "discounted" below wholesale; products said to be equal in value to others costing dollars more; sales that are "too good to be true" (and generally are just that) : all these should be go-slow signals to a customer. If you stop to think about it, you'll know full well that no merchant can afford to give merchandise away. And when a store advertises at "giveaway" prices, it's most always a tip-off that the merchandise is missing an ingredient or two; that the lemons are missing from the lemonade.

We're not denying—nor would our thirsty little friend—that there are legitimate sales. End-of-season clearances, manufacturers' closeouts, special purchases, reductions resulting from buyers' mistakes (even the best get occasional "lemons") . . . these are all good reasons for sales, and reputable stores will tell you the reasons. We count ourselves among the latter —a store that will always play straight with you; always, sale or no sale, give you your two cents' worth. You'll never get a "lemon" here without knowing the reason why — and if we ever do take up lemonade purveying, you can be sure it'll be the real thing. No syrup substitutes for true quality will ever knowingly be sold at

So speaks a shopper who, in this case, wants a real lemon but never wants to get stuck with a figurative one. Smart girl! She's learned at an early age that sometimes a penny saved can also mean a penny wasted. Rather than snap up a "bargain" which she's got her doubts about, she'll pay that little bit more and get her two cents' worth—lemonade that tastes like lemonade.

Every shopper wants to get her money's worth, but some—unlike the wise little miss above—are fooled by cut-rate prices and by misleading advertisements that promise the impossible. Prices "discounted" below wholesale; products said to be equal in value to others costing dollars more; sales that are "too good to be true" (and generally are just that) : all these should be go-slow signals to a customer. If you stop to think about it, you'll know full well that no merchant can afford to give merchandise away. And when a store advertises at "giveaway" prices, it's most always a tip-off that the merchandise is missing an ingredient or two; that the lemons are missing from the lemonade.

We're not denying—nor would our thirsty little friend—that there are legitimate sales. End-of-season clearances, manufacturers' closeouts, special purchases, reductions resulting from buyers' mistakes (even the best get occasional "lemons") . . . these are all good reasons for sales, and reputable stores will tell you the reasons. We count ourselves among the latter —a store that will always play straight with you; always, sale or no sale, give you your two cents' worth. You'll never get a "lemon" here without knowing the reason why — and if we ever do take up lemonade purveying, you can be sure it'll be the real thing. No syrup substitutes for true quality will ever knowingly be sold at Zolotas closed by apologizing to his syllable-drowned audience for his "Hellenic phraseology," a reference to the fact that all but the auxiliary words in the speech were of Greek origin.

Dock Strike May Run On Three Weeks

shoremen has tied up cargo operations on about 200 freighters at a cost estimated by shippers at 20 million dollars a day.

It also posed some uncertainty concerning future passenger liner schedules should it last any appreciable length of time.

Most lines, however, intend to continue on their regular runs, at least for the present, instead of diverting inbound ships to Canadian ports.

The United States Lines, whose America and the United States are due here next week, said they expect to put into New York as scheduled.

During dock strikes in the past, American ships have been reprovisioned here by office employes. That practice presumably would be undertaken again.

However, ships putting into New York face another possible handicap. Should the unionized ships' crews respect the ILA picket lines, the ships would be unable to sail out again.

Still another possible obstacle would be a strike of towboat men, in sympathy with longshoremen. So far, the towboat men, who help to dock the big liners, have not indicated they will walk out.

Three passenger liners arrived here Friday—the Queen of Bermuda, the Vulcania and the Hanseatic.

Luggage, ordinarily handled by longshoremen, was removed by the passengers themselves with the aid of steamship office employes and crewmen.

A threatened "back-to-work movement" by a 3,000-member Brooklyn local failed to materialize after strike leaders warned against it.

During the negotiating prior to the strike, the union said it was willing to accept a three-year contract providing a 50-cent-an-hour package increase, including wages and benefits.

The New York Shipping Assn., representing 170 steamship and stevedoring firms, had offered 30 cents—20 the first year and 5 each the next two years.

Approximately 25,000 longshoremen in the port of New York have averaged $107.76 a week in pay.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A federal mediator renewed attempts Friday to settle the dock workers' strike that had the port of New Orleans all but deserted.

While an estimated 15,000 dock workers were idled by the strike, a huge load of imported steel was lying on the wharves. Some 36 vessels were caught in the strike here.

Ports from Maine to Texas were paralyzed as the walkout of 85,000 members of the International Longshoremen's Union entered its second day.

A union official said thousands more would be idled if they honor ILA picket lines, set up Thursday after a breakdown of last-minute negotiations for a new contract.

Al Chottenden, president of New Orleans ILA Local 1418, predicted the number of men affected could rise as high as 90,000 "in the next 24 hours."

Meantime at Mobile the president of the Mobile local of the International Longshoremen's Assn. said the present strike was caused by "a misunderstanding on the part of management in some ports."

George Dixon told representatives of other maritime unions he understood that in some other ports management "minundederstood the demands on the Gulf and South Atlantic.

"They thought an identical contract to the one agreed upon in New York was demanded. This was not the case.

"All we asked for was the same retroactive clause," Dixon continued. "We demanded that any benefits later agreed upon be retroactive to Oct. 1. We did not ask for all the benefits included in the New York contract. Many of those benefits are local in nature and would not apply in other ports."

An estimated 2,000 dock workers at Mobile are involved in the strike, although only about 1,000 normally work at any one time.

The Defense Department said that the test vehicle "developed a malfunction about 40 seconds after launch" and that "cause of the malfunction was not available." Officials studied pictures of the launching.

The shot was designed to gather data on the Polaris guidance system.

new arrangement rather than as occupation forces. Third, the United States would not object to a separate peace treaty between the Soviet Union and Communist East Germany.

On this latter point Herter has been in difficulty ever since he told newsmen in New York last week that the United States had no objection to a separate peace treaty between East Germany and the U.S.S.R.

The State Department press office subsequently sought to correct this by saying that Herter did not mean to imply approval of such a Communist treaty but only to point out there was nothing the United States could do to prevent the signing of such a treaty.

Department officials gave specific assurances on the treaty issue to the West German government. West German officials indicated they were satisfied there was no change in U.S. policy. Neverteheless, there is a widespread impression in Europe that the Eisenhower administration is in the process of remaking its policies on Berlin.

Momentous Ruling Told For Du Pont

by Christiana and Delaware would be sterilized and voted by no one.

Without voting power, ruled La Buy, "and without directors on the General Motors Board, Du Pont is completely stripped of any potential power to penalize or reward the employes of GM in accordance with their demonstrated attitude toward Du Pont products."

In general, La Buy's ruling follows a proposal made by Du Pont attorneys in hearings earlier this year.

Du Pont and its affiliates will be prohibited from acquiring any additional GM stock and from attempting to influence General Motors in any way.

In other provisions, La Buy ruled that:

No officer or director of Du Pont or the family corporations will be permitted to vote any GM stock.

No officer or director of Du Pont or the family corporaations will be permitted to serve as an officer of GM and GM will be prohibited from employing an employ of Du Pont or the affiliate companies.

"All preferential trade arrangements or understandings between Du Pont and General Motors will be canceled and they will be prohibited from entering into any such arragements or embarking on joint commercial ventures so long as Du Pont owns General Motors stock."

Neither counsel for Du Pont and General Motors nor the government had any immediate comment. Attorneys said they wanted to study the long document.

However, Crawford H. Greenewalt, president of Du Pont, issued this statement from Wilmington, Del.: "We are gratified that the court has recognized that a forced distribution of the Du Pont company's General Motor stock is not necessary and would result, under the present tax law, in an 'unnecessarily harsh and punitive' penalty on hundreds of thousands of innocent stockholders."

Board Asks Hearing In Hoffa Case

preme Court. The High Court is likely to rule this fall.

Friday's complaint said that in many months of negotiations the union has refused to accept monitor proposals for election reforms. The monitors have been conferring frequently with Hoffa.

The petition said the election reforms are reasonable and asked Letts to order the union to adopt them so they can apply to numerous local union elections to be held this fall.

One proposal is that a union local be required to make mailing lists and other facilities equally available to opposing candidates and incumbents for distributing election literature.

The monitors also want to prohibit making members ineligible to vote or fun for office in the event that dues, after being checked off, are delayed in being turned over to the union. This long has been a bone of contention between Hoffa and the monitors.

Nominations for local union office also could be made by mail on petition of two members. This is intended to meet the problem of members being unable to attend nominating meetings because they were out driving trucks.

The new monitor complaint came after a Teamsters executive board meeting adjourned Thursday night.

Before quitting, the board formally authorized a new Teamsters legislative and political department—designed to put the union deeper into local and national politics.

Questions of the new department's scope and financing were put off for decision at a later executive board meeting, probably next winter.

ing out how rocket materials stand up under the combined effects of intense radiation and extreme cold.

Several parts of a nuclear rocket would be subjected to radiation from the atomic reactor and to temperatures of minus 425 degrees Fahrenheit. This is the temperature of liquid hydrogen, the best known propellant for nuclear rockets.

In a nuclear rocket, liquid hydrogen would be heated in a reactor. The expanded gas then would be expelled at great speed through an exhaust pipe to drive the ship forward.

The Atomic Energy Commission has conducted ground tests in Nevada looking toward development of a nuclear engine for space vehicles.

The space agency said an atomic rocket engine gives "promise of powering greater payloads over greater distances than chemical rockets, both liquid and solid, now planned."

Lockheed will do preliminary work on the project at its Marietta, Ga., plant. The main research will be carried out in NASA's 60 million watt reactor at Plum Brook, near Sandusky, Ohio.

heartedly agree with him that the two delegations continue the same cordial relations that have always existed between us in the past."

But other people were getting into the act, and it appeared certain that the blowup would have repercussions on the political scene in the Philippines, where there's to be an election next month.

Curys S. Eaton, Cleveland industrialist who has interested himself in international affairs, sent a congratulatory telegram to Guerrero.

It said: "Millions of Americans applaud your speaking up to Walter Robertson, whose intemperate speeches and undiplomatic conduct have shocked those who believe in the United Nations."

The press officer, for the Philippine delegation said also that Guerrero, a former law associate of Claro Recto, Philippine nationalist leader, had received congratulatory messages from five Philippine government and civil leaders.

A highly placed delegation source said Guerrero is regarded as an exceptionally clever young diplomat and politician, very mindful of what effect his quarrel with Robertson will have at home.

Robertson called him arrogant and rude. Guerrero said if Robertson thought voicing nationalist opinions was rudeness, then the American "does not know the difference between rudeness and self-respect."

LONDON (UPI)—Laborite Leader Aneurin Bevan, who remained in parliament throughout World War II, Thursday night was heckled about his war record. "Then perhaps you'll join up this time!" shouted a man in the audience.

Free Press In Cuba

It is almost universally known that any nation which has a free press is still free. If the press has lost its freedom, so has the nation. It is as simple as that.

Right now is a critical time in determining whether Cuba shall be free. The outcome is almost certain to be known before long.

Premier Fidel Castro, new dictator who ousted Fulgencio Batista, was under an unprecedented heavy attack from major independent Havana newspapers for his denunciations of the Cuban press and newsmen who criticized his regime.

It was the first time since Castro led his revolutionary forces into power last January 1 that the press had openly taken such strong exceptions to his remarks. The war of words was touched off by Castro's criticisms during a long nationwide television appearance Monday night.

There were rumors that the Havana newspaper Diario de la Marina would suspend publication because of the attack by Castro.

In a preliminary reaction, the newspaper termed the Castro attack "representative of Cuba's worst interests." In an editorial prepared for publication, it said, "We are tired of so many threats, so much intolerance and so many gratuitous accusations and unjustified charges."

It said press freedom existed in Cuba but it was a "very special freedom." It said there were no censors and no agreement by the newspaper not to criticize the Castro government, but it added:

"You should know by now that there are two big and shameful facts that damage the freedom of press in our country.

Castro's purpose in attacking the press seems to be all too clear. He wants to intimidate the publishers so that they will not dare voice any criticism of him or his administration. He is following a policy similar to that he used in ousting his own former premier. On that occasion, he resigned his government post and forced a showdown among the people, with the result that he was chosen premier.

There was no way of knowing whether the people really wanted him, since he was the country's "strong man" and most of the people would have been afraid to oppose him even if they had not wanted him. It was his way of crushing opposition.

Castro wants to claim his country has freedom of the press but he does not want criticism by the press. His tactics in this case are to attack the press, undoubtedly with the expectation that it will bring public denunciation of the press, as he thinks the people, either through willingness or fear, will stand behind him in his demands. Through these means he hopes to quell the press and yet be able to say there is no censorship and that freedom of the press exists.

The newspapers are making it hard for him. By denouncing his tactics, they are forcing a showdown. Apparently the independent newspapers intend to have some real freedom to say what they think or to close down.

Usual tactics in dictator countries are to close down the opposition papers and to take over the more willing or more timid newspapers as government organs.

Apparently this is what is about to be done in Cuba now. Newspaper defiance has forced Castro's hand. Either he will have to put up with the criticism of what the newspapers think are his undemocratic methods or he will have to put the opposition newspapers out of business.

There can be little doubt what his decision will be. His dictator methods are so obnoxious that if the newspapers were allowed to expose them in frequent comment for the public benefit his powers and following would be certain to decline.

If the indications are what they appear to be, we are about to witness the overthrow of what is left of the freedom of the press in Cuba and with it the disappearance of the last of the democratic rights of the people. We are about to see Castro cast aside all just claims to democracy.

Unless the newspapers can win public support in Cuba, we are about to see full-grown, unadulterated dictatorship in action.

Farm Output Levels Off

As far as acreage under cultivation in the nation is concerned, farm production for 1959 stands a good chance of showing an increase. But several paradoxes on the farm front show that an overall decrease in earnings for the year may be predicted.

One survey places the net drop in earnings at close to a billion dollars under last year's total. Falling farm prices, rising production expenses and a decline in direct government subsidies through the soil bank were listed as reasons for expected decline.

In northeast Louisiana, the continued growth of crop abandonment has also been noted as a reason for reduced farm income. While fewer farmers tilling the soil may produce a misleading figure in per capita income, the fact that more people are "leaving the land" does not present a healthy overall picture.

Actual crop output, said to be down about one per cent from last year, still remains enormous. The output of all crops last year averaged an 11 per cent increase over any previous crop year and a mere one per cent drop would not do anything positive to eliminate the surplus pileups.

The Farm Bureau Federation and a few other organizations are trying to bring about a healthier agricultural picture by reducing the farmer's dependence on the federal government. This will require the solution of the riddle in which improved farming methods, crop diversification, small farms and mounting surpluses all play a part.

Rigid crop controls by the government have not reduced surpluses. Neither, apparently, will crop abandonment in the so-called "marginal farms" judging from the above figures. As a matter of fact, making the small farm pay its way would be far more constructive step than leaving idle land.

Another paradox for 1959 is the increase in farm spending. Tractors, including larger diesels are selling well, also the large types of equipment: automatic devices to feed livestock, mechanical strippers and pickers. Companies making such equipment report sales increases from 10 to 35 per cent.

As to the impact on the individual farmer, the picture is not gloomy. The farm population has declined from 26 million to less than 21 million in the past 10 years. This has brought the per capita farm income to a figure around $1,000 — somewhat above what it was 10 years ago.

On the political farm front, the officials view the nation's per capita income rise for the same period — in the neighborhood of $1,500 to $2200 — and wonder why the farm programs cannot give the farmer a similar gain.

Perhaps there is no single cure for the farmer's income, surplus and crop - abandonment developments. But it is hoped that adjustments can be made, perhaps through greater crop alternation, whereby a substantial number of citizens can sustain themselves on their own farms.

Muzzling Corporations

United Steel Workers Given Privilege Of Advertising Their Side But Management Is Criticized

It would seem as though Representative Charles O. Porter of Oregon has raised an issue which worries some businessmen because they wonder whether those in American management have become secondary citizens with limited rights. For instance, the United Steel Workers of America takes full page advertisements in newspapers across the country to set forth the point of view of the management of that union. On the other hand, when a corporation advertises its views on current questions, particularly such as affect its business, along comes a congressman as Porter and criticizes the corporation for undue expenditure of its funds.

Are the corporations to be silent when their businesses are being destroyed? I have before me a very interesting letter addressed to Porter by Walter S. Johnson of the American Forest Products Corporation. I think that this paragraph should be given wide circulation because it faces up to a situation which neither corporation management nor labor management can much longer ignore:

"Out here on the Pacific Coast we are kept fairly well informed because in this age of rapid communications and transportation we are only minutes behind Washington, D.C. From my office window we look down upon the docks of San Francisco and see numerous ships from foreign lands arriving with imports. A substantial number of these are from Japan, Holland, Denmark, Sweden and other countries bringing imports in greater quantity as the months go by. Those from Germany bring Volkswagons by the shipload and Japan sends tremendous quantities of merchandise of all sorts. Of course, the score board is what counts and the last reports I saw indicated exports are now falling a little behind imports. In other words, a few years back our exports substantially exceeded imports but the lines have crossed according to the charts and imports are increasing while exports are slowly dwindling away as of July 1 of this year. These figures do not include the many millions our citizens spend abroad as tourists and if this was added the situation would be still more alarming."

Possibly Representative Porter would say that if American industry is not efficient, it deserves to lose its markets. But the question is not one of efficiency. It is taxes, high wages, inflation and a generally difficult economic situation. Walter S. Johnson answers the question this way:

". . . the United States unlike other countries is faced with growing taxes, but I do find the statement that each year taxes take more of industries' dollars and certainly there is nothing spurious about that. The (Union Oil Company) advertisement shows we are pricing ourselves out of world markets and if we do not stay competitive it is the same thing as pricing ourselves out of our jobs. If Japan can land steel on the Pacific Coast at $20.00 a ton cheaper than American mills, if Belgium can bring steel up the St. Lawrence to Cleveland $20.00 cheaper, if oil companies can build tankers in Japan at great savings in cost over American shipyards, if Japan can buy logs in the Philippines, take to Japan and make into plywood and ship to the United States cheaper than we can make plywood from our own native woods, if Monroe Calculating, Royal Typewriter, and Remington-Rand can build office equipment in Europe and ship to the United States cheaper than it can be manufactured here, we have something to worry about. . ."

The fact of the matter is that American companies are finding it economical to manufacture abroad, particularly for world markets. Instead of using American labor and American materials, instead of paying taxes to the government of the United States or to states or municipalities, they erect factories in foreign countries, exporting American capital for that purpose. They cannot compete any other way.

It is fatuous for Congressman Porter to apply 19th century free trade concepts concerning the open market to a world in which the markets have become closed by government fiat. The principal sufferer of the closed market will be the American worker who is forced to live in a war economy or face unemployment because he is outpricing himself in both world and home markets. American steel is now outpriced. Management can export capital; what can the individual worker export when he is stuck with this kind of a situation? He can't export his job.

Khrush's Shift

Food Intended For Russian Premier Suddenly Placed Elsewhere

FOOD CHECKER AT WORK— United States and Soviet security agents stumbled over one another in the scramble to make sure that Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev escaped unharmed during his visit to this country. Newspaper accounts reported repeatedly how special detection instruments were used to check underneath every table at which the Communist boss would eat to make sure there were no hidden booby - traps. It has just come to light how even these measures were not enough to convince one Russian security official. Well in advance of Khrushchev's appearance before the National Press Club waiters set the tables, put out the bread and butter and half a honeydew melon for each dinner. The usual check for booby traps went off without a hitch and the Khrushchev party was about to enter the dining room. Suddenly, a Soviet security agent rushed over to the head table spot reserved for the premier. He grabbed the salt and pepper shaker along with the honeydew melon and exchanged them with the same items on a table some distance away. Some unknown Washington correspondent might well have become a victim of history had the Khrushchev melon and salt and pepper been poisoned.

SLEUTHING COMES HIGH — Now that the bills are being added up it looks like $8,787,000 was spent this year on Congressional investigations —$5,195,000 in the Senate and $3,592,000 in the House. This is more than two-thirds of the $12,109,090 spent the two years of the 85th Congress. Investigation of labor racketeering is one that everyone is familiar with. But there were many more. Congress probed such diverse matters as the problems of small sawmill owners, lamb and meat grading, management of the radio spectrum, to name a few.

PICK YOUR OWN ANSWER— Sen. Karl E. Mundt, Rep.-S. D., asks the question, "Did the taxpayer win or lose?" And a second question explains the first, "What did Congress do to me this time?" Mundt, in what may be a rare Republican tribute to a Democratic - controlled Congress, answers the two questions in this fashion, "Evaluation of the net results in comparison to the outlook last January leads to only one conclusion — the American taxpayer held his own and perhaps made a gain or two."

TIN PAN ALLEY BLUES — For years and years the word "moon" was associated with romance. No songwriter worth his salt would miss the opportunity to write about the moon. Rep. James M. Quigley, Dem.-Pa., put it this way, "I don't know what they can do with it, but the song writers now have themselves a new word to rhyme with 'moon.' It's 'gloom.' The obvious reference, of course, is to the fact that Soviet Russia beat the United States with a rocket hit to the moon.

Daily Devotional

Say not thou, I will recompense evil; but wait on the Lord, and He shall save Thee. —Proverbs 20:22.

It is human to seek vengeance when one has been wronged. But here, in the Old Testament, this idea is opposed. And later, in the New Testament, we are reminded: "Vengeance is Mine, I repay, saith the Lord." Much as we may dislike the idea, therefore, the principle of "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" must be abandoned, as our Saviour directed when He said, "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them that despitefully use you."

Gracious God, help us to leave all matters of retribution unto Thee, in Thine own good time. In Christ's holy name we ask. Amen.

Nervous Stomach

May Stem From Variety Of Ailments, Or From Tension

"Dear Dr. Steincrohn: My doctor tells me I have a 'nervous stomach.' Just what does that mean? And is there anything to do for it? —Mrs. H. H., Miami."

COMMENT: I learned a good lesson about "nervous stomach" when I was just starting out in practice. Since then, I have never made this diagnosis until I had ruled out every other possibility, as a cause of the stomach symptoms.

A nervous young man in his 20's came to me complaining of a chronic stomach upset. He was sure he had an ulcer. He had gnawing pain, gas and burning. Nothing seemed to relieve him.

I sent him to an X-ray man for studies of his gall bladder, stomach and bowels. The doctor couldn't find any trouble. But the young man still complained.

"Just what's the trouble?" he asked. "There must be something wrong to make me feel this way." And I answered: "You have no organic trouble. Your symptoms are due to a 'nervous stomach.'" I gave him sedatives but his condition didn't improve.

He went to another doctor, out of town. At this time our patient was also complaining of some pain over one of his kidneys. They took X-rays.

He had a stone. They removed it. Within two weeks all his "nervous indigestion" disappeared. The kidney stone had been causing stomach symptoms reflexly.

The patient returned for a social chat. He brought along the stone for me to look at.

"Here's your 'nervous stomach," he said.

I'm sure I blushed and stammered an apology. But I told him that I really appreciated his coming back to talk it over.

He had taught me this lesson which I have never forgotten: Never make a diagnosis of "nervous stomach" unless you are absolutely sure that you have tried to rule out every possibility of real, organic illness.

Now, that's what I am asking you, Mrs. H. H. If that was done in your case, I suppose you have no other choice but to accept the tag: "nervous stomach."

Once I feel that the symptoms are caused by nervousness, I think it is important that you try to straighten out any problems that you may be having at home or at work. You must accept the fact that nervous tension and emotional upsets can raise the very devil with the stomach and intestines — as well as with other organs.

If faulty, reorganize your way of life. Learn how to relax. Take frequent, short vacations if possible. Take a regular, wholesome diet. Get sufficient sleep. Restrict coffee, tea, alcohol and tobacco.

Your doctor will prescribe the necessary sedatives, stomach relaxants and other medicines. Do these things, Mrs. H. H., and you are sure to improve.

GLAND TREATMENT OF MENOPAUSE

The other night I saw a woman of 45 who was in evident discomfort. She was giving a small party for some friends. Every few minutes she kept breaking out into sweats. Her handkerchief was kept quite busy.

She was a good sport about it. "I've had these flashes for five years, now," she said. "But I don't make a fuss over them. After all, it's natural for some women to go through this. And I don't believe in taking female hormones to help along. What do you think?"

I said I didn't think every woman in the menopause should take them. But that I believed it was worth while taking these estrogens (in pill form) to control excessive sweating and other symptoms.

"Trouble is," I said, "that many doctors don't believe in prescribing them. They tell their patient to bear up and go through the menopause naturally.'

I don't go along with that. Taken under supervision, estrogens make the patient comfortable (why suffer needlessly?)"

She said if the "darn flashes" didn't let up, she'd talk it over with her doctor.

Note to Mrs. S. L. B.: Tell your daughter that dieting can be overdone. Before she gets into a pattern of "starving herself" write to me c-o this paper for my leaflet S-2, "How to Overcome Obesity." Enclose 10 cents in a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Let's see if we can't get her to diet sensibly.

• • •

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, S-5, "How to Overcome Your Child's Greatest Menace: Accidents", will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self - addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for handling charges. Address your request for the leaflet to Dr. Steincrohn, in care of this paper.

SYLVIA PORTER

Auto Sales Year

Nation Is On Threshold Of Biggest Buying Year Since 1955

We're on the threshold of the biggest auto buying year since 1955 and quite possibly the biggest auto buying year ever — and we're into a cycle of the most expensive credit in a generation.

What does this mean to you? It means that as never before in your lifetime of buying on-the-cuff, it's essential that you realize what the use of the great service of installment credit costs you.

Even in periods when credit has been ample and interest rates have been low, buying on the installment plan has raised the price of what you have bought. Or as General Motors Acceptance Corp., the largest auto financing organization in the world, puts it bluntly, "When you buy on time, the high cost of so-called 'easy terms' may be easily overlooked . . . The more credit you use, the more credit costs you."

And in this period, when credit is scarce and interest rates are at historic highs, padding your installment loans more than is necessary to buy what you want is just a waste of your own money.

Let's be even more specific with an illustration worked out for me on a $3,000 car — a price which includes most popular models.

We'll assume you're putting down one - third or $1,000 (GMAC says its average down payment is better than one-third.) We'll assume you're financing the $2,000 balance due on your car.

Your auto insurance in New York and most other big cities will come to around $84 a year.

Your credit life insurance — the insurance you'll buy to make sure your loan is taken care of in case of your death — will cost you from $10.82 to $22.84, depending on the length of your payment period.

If you arrange to pay off your loan in 18 months, your $2,000 balance will come to $2,288.80-- covering your auto insurance, credit life insurance and financing charges of $188.98.

If you arrange to pay off your loan in 24 months, your $2,000 balance will come to $2,356.07 — covering your auto insurance, credit life insurance and financing charges of $252.44.

If you make a deal to pay off in 30 months, your $2,000 balance will amount to $2,423.79.

If you make a deal to pay off in 36 months, your $2,000 balance will rise to $2,491.97.

The 36-month deal may seem the "easiest" because the monthly payments come to only $69.22. The 18 - month deal may seem the "most expensive," because the monthly payments come to $127.15.

• • •

But just glance at the difference between the price of the car to you on an 18-month and a 36-month repayment arrangement and then decide which is "easiest," which is "most expensive."

Another illustration may pound it home even more dramatically.

If you buy a car on the basis of one - third down, 24 months to pay off, the first five monthly payments will go for finance charges and insurance costs.

• • •

If you buy it on the basis of one-third down, 36 months to pay off, the first 10½ monthly payments will go for these charges. You'll be paying installments for almost a year before you start to reduce the principal of your auto loan!

• • •

Use installment credit, of course — but never forget this basic guide:

The cheapest way to buy anything is to pay cash for it. Then you pay no finance charges at all.

The next cheapest way to buy is to pay down as much as you can, pay off as quickly as you can.

The most expensive way to buy is to pay down as little as you are permitted, stretch your repayment period as far as you're permitted.

• • •

This guide always has made sense. In today's era of expensive borrowing the sense can be translated into big totals of dollars.

NEW TACK

Macmillan Gives Voters Warning

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told voters Friday night to beware of giving power to a party with some members who are "almost Communist." It was a new tack in his election campaign against the opposition Labor party.

In a hard-hitting speech at nearby Watford, Marmillan pressed the claims of his Conservative government to represent Britain at East-West summit talks.

"The Labor party is deeply divided on every great question of defense and foreign policy," he said. "Some are practically fellow travelers, some almost Communist. Some are good patriots to the right. Some want a policy of unilateral disarmament, but some agree with us that you can only have it by staged disarmament under control."

Mcmillan claimed again that his mission to Moscow last February broke the ice betwen East and West and led to a withdrawal of the Soviet Union's ultimatum on Berlin.

Morgan Phillips, Labor party secretary, issued a statement Friday containing a long list of alleged Conservative sins. The statement said Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government operates with the motto: "Fool the people."

Phillips told a news conference Labor candidates from now until next Thursday's polling are "going on the offensive in the biggest way possible."

Macmillan hit back with vigor. In a speech at Stamford he blasted Laborite promises of pension benefits and tax cuts. The Conservatives estimate these measures would cost 300 million pounds — 840 million dollars—a year and push the country into an inflationary spiral.

"If the Laborites go on at this rate they will have promised to take off all taxation before we get to polling day," Macmillan said. "These are not serious proposals of men who expect to hold power. They are irresponsible, last-minute bids of men who are determined to gain power by any means, reputable or disreputable. They are the last scene of the rake's progress. They are the gambler's last throw."

Record Crop Forecast For Monroe Area

A record cotton crop is forecast for Northeast Louisiana farmers by county agents over the area.

Some Ouachita parish cotton farmers were reported likely to yield as much as two and a half bales per acre by Ouachita Parish County Agent J. J. Joyce Jr.

Of course, Joyce added, others won't yield more than a bale per acre.

Joyce predicted Ouachita parish would average a record yield of just under a bale and a half per acre unless there is a seige of bad weather.

The previous record was just under one and a quarter bales per acre in 1956.

Summing up the cotton yield outlook for the Northeast Louisiana area Joyce said, "If the weather holds out we are almost certain to harvest a record yield this year."

The Ouachita agent urged farmers to keep the gin sample in mind while harvesting. "Some of the more important things that insure high grade samples are an avoidance of damp cotton at the gin and cleanliness of samples."

2 Sentenced To Prison In District Court

A moderately - heavy Fourth District Court session yesterday saw two men sentenced to prison.

Judge Jesse Heard levied three five-year concurrent penitentiary terms on Joe Thomas McClain, 44, for three burglaries.

McClain admitted burglarizing a labor hall at 1900 Pine St., Hart's Grocery near Swartz and Phillips "66" Service Staton during August.

Fred Powell Jr. 31, alias Carl W. Smith, pled guilty to forgery and was sentenced to four years in the Louisiana State Penitentiary at Angola.

APPOINTED

Attorneys appointed by the court to defend Alonzo Dixon Jr., charged with murder, and Willie Lewis and Andrew Parker, both charged with theft, were relieved. Other attorneys were named to replace them.

Charges of fraudulent use of a driver's license and driving without a license, against Earl Edwards, were dropped.

Andrew Joasua Charles, 44-year-old Negro, was remanded for a pre - sentence investigation after pleading guilty to simple burglary of a house at 907 Adams street in Monroe, on Sept. 11.

In other action Judge Heard heard the following not guilty pleas: Maurice Laird, charged with simple burglary of Rickerson's Service Station in West Monroe on Sept. 26, set for trial on November 3; and Henry Lee Mack, Negro, also charged with simple burglary and set for trial on Nov. 2.

Dwight D. Moore, charged with taking wild game, squirrels, during a closed season, pleaded not guilty and will face trial on October 30.

Two persons were fined for reckless operation of a movable. C. C. Mitchell, Negro, was fined $75 and costs, while Carl Henry Warren received a fine of $25 and costs. In addition Mitchell was fined $25 and costs of court for failure to post bond.

A bond for John Y. Brooks, charged with reckless driving, was called when the defendant did not appear in court.

NO DRIVER'S LICENSE

Three persons were fined $25 and costs for having no driver's license. They were Sylvester West, James R. Waldrup and Minnie Lee Manning. Having no chauffeur's license brought a similar fine for James R. Kelley.

Two persons were charged with operating a motor vehicle with defective brakes. Willie H. Welch Jr., Negro, received a fine of $25. Homer L. Thompson pleaded not guilty to the charge and will face trial on October 16. Elmer U. Thompson charged with permitting the operation of a vehicle with defective brakes, will be tried on the same day.

Fred Dixon, Negro, was fined $50 and $25 respectively for speeding 85 miles an hour and failure to post a bond within the five-day period provided by law.

Henry W. Borsch pleaded not guilty to disturbing the peace and trespassing and will be tried on October 23.

Bonds were called for Nelson Flintroy, charged with simple obstruction of the highway; Leonard Ray Floyd charged on two counts with no chauffeur's license; and Huey R. West, also charged with no chauffeur's license.

Majorettes Touch Off Killer Riot

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador (AP)—Two persons were killed and four injured in riots touched off by rowdies trying to strip scantily clad drum majorettes in Ecuador's largest city Thursday night.

A navy shore patrol unit came to the defense of parading teenagers who were being manhandled by hoodlums making lewd remarks. Some of the girls were nearly undressed before police and troops quelled the outbreak.

Soldiers fought the mob 2½ hours, stepping in after national and civil police had been virtually routed.

A store owner reportedly shot and killed two looters among the crowds that used the occasion to break into shops. Witnesses said police and soldiers did not fire into the mob.

A police patrol car was overturned and gasoline soaked rags were tossed on it, but they did not burst into flame. Two of the injured were policemen. None of the parading girls suffered serious injury, except to dinity.

The disturbance was considered an indication of Guayaquil's dissatisfaction with the government. Some contend the government, though most taxes are collected in the banana-rich coastal regions around Guayaquil, gives preference in alloting tax money to Quito, the capital. The government also is blamed for not solving the plight of Guayaquil's unemployed, who took advantage of every opportunity to transform parades and public meetings into riots so they could loot.

Guayaquil was the scene of rioting four months ago, sparked by a student demonstration, that left many dead and injured.

Miss. Officials Hunt For Youth Who Left Note

PICAYUNE, Miss. (AP)—Authorities Friday hunted for a 16-year-old Burntbridge community youth who disappeared Wednesday, leaving a note he was "leaving home and going to Mexico."

The youth, identified as Clifford Wiley Stockstill, however may be bound for Ohio.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. U. Stockstill Jr., said their son is 5 feet, 7 inches tall, weighs 130 pounds, has a flottop hair cut and was wearing a brown and white pinstripe shirt and bluejeans.

Anyone knowing his whereabouts is requested to notify Picayune police or the Mississippi Highway Patrol.

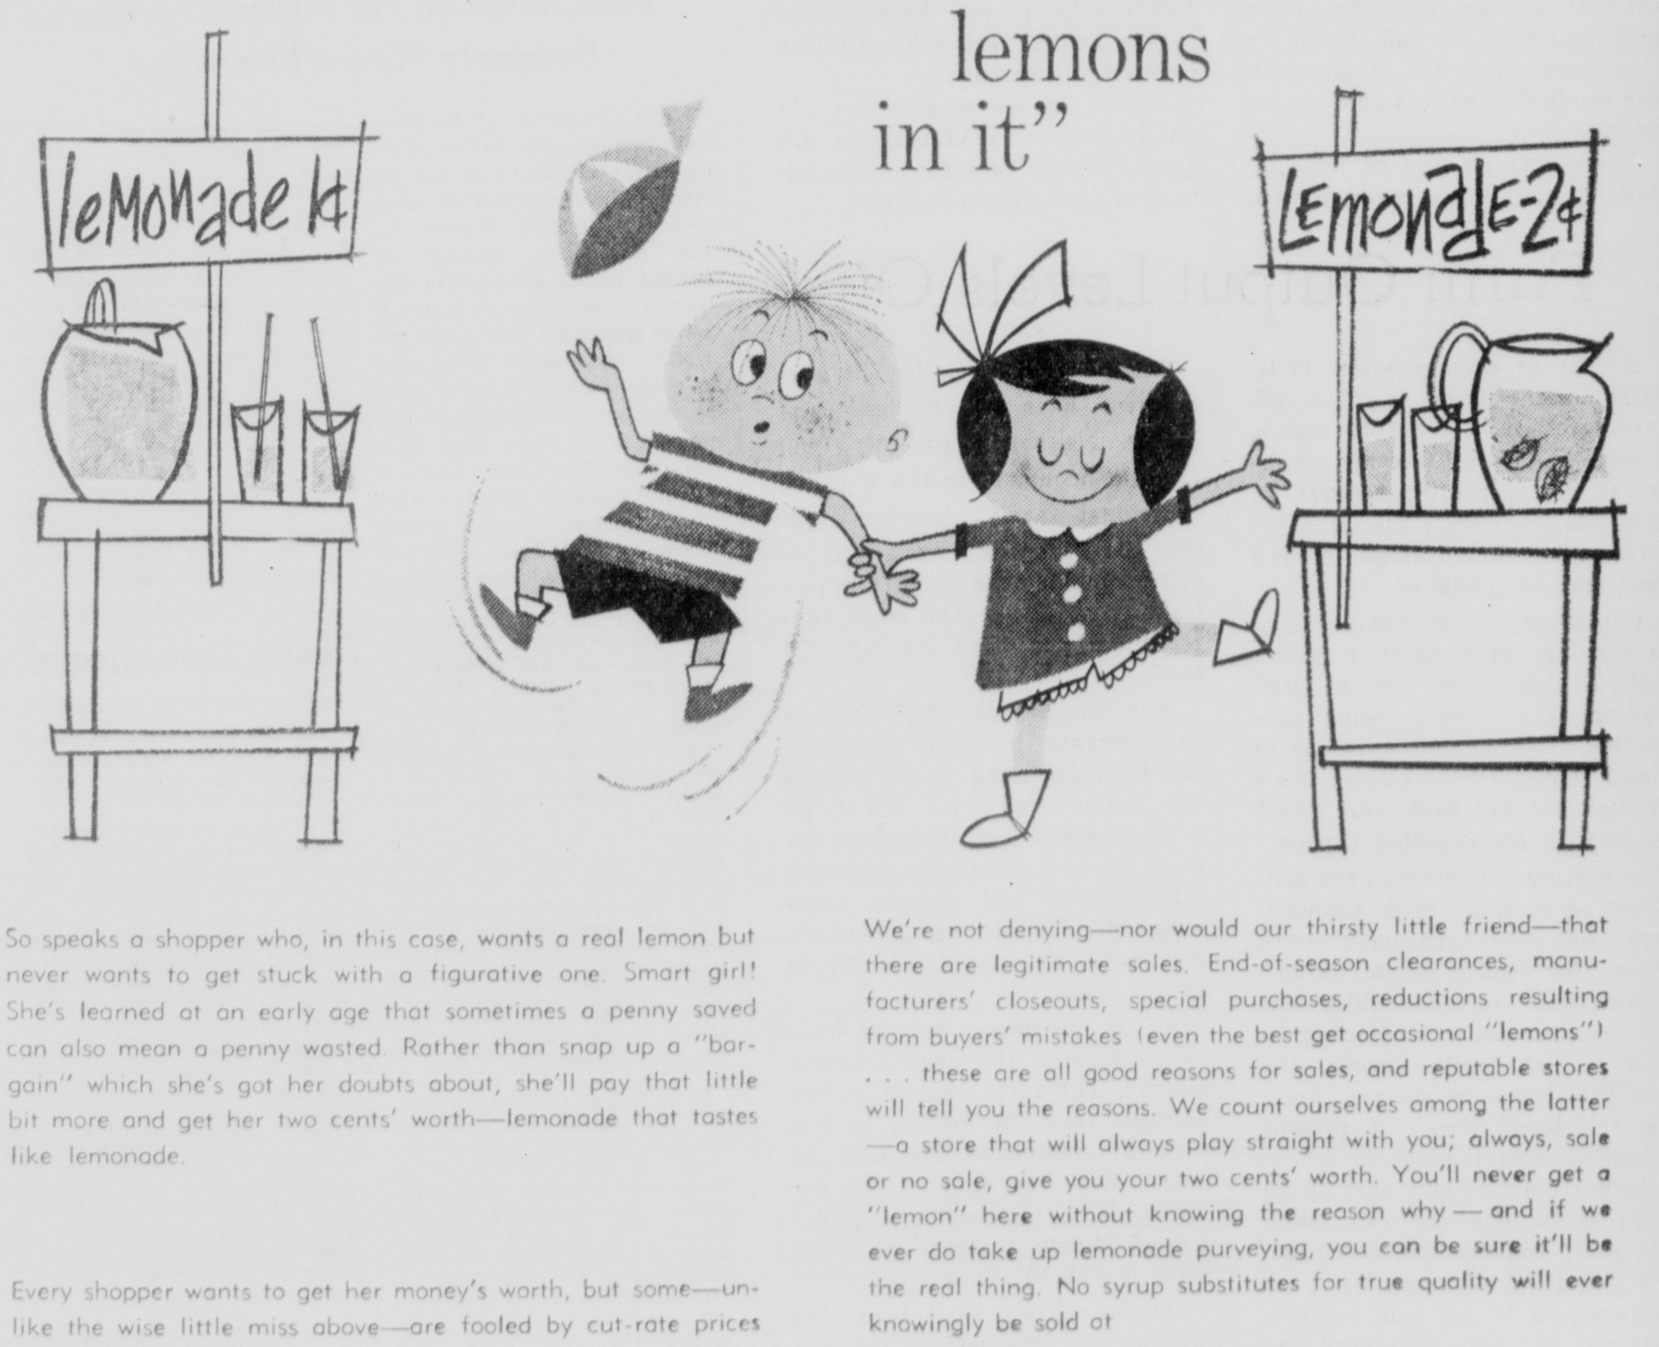
"theirs has lemons in it"



So speaks a shopper who, in this case, wants a real lemon but never wants to get stuck with a figurative one. Smart girl! She's learned at an early age that sometimes a penny saved can also mean a penny wasted. Rather than snap up a "bargain" which she's got her doubts about, she'll pay that little bit more and get her two cents' worth—lemonade that tastes like lemonade.

Every shopper wants to get her money's worth, but some—unlike the wise little miss above—are fooled by cut-rate prices and by misleading advertisements that promise the impossible. Prices "discounted" below wholesale; products said to be equal in value to others costing dollars more; sales that are "too good to be true" (and generally are just that): all these should be go-slow signals to a customer. If you stop to think about it, you'll know full well that no merchant can afford to give merchandise away. And when a store advertises at "giveaway" prices, it's most always a tip-off that the merchandise is missing an ingredient or two; that the lemons are missing from the lemonade.

We're not denying—nor would our thirsty little friend—that there are legitimate sales. End-of-season clearances, manufacturers' closeouts, special purchases, reductions resulting from buyers' mistakes (even the best get occasional "lemons") . . . these are all good reasons for sales, and reputable stores will tell you the reasons. We count ourselves among the latter —a store that will always play straight with you; always, sale or no sale, give you your two cents' worth. You'll never get a "lemon" here without knowing the reason why — and if we ever do take up lemonade purveying, you can be sure it'll be the real thing. No syrup substitutes for true quality will ever knowingly be sold at

Warnings Given In Monroe Areas On Fire Hazards

Warnings on seven potential "fire makers" in homes were issued yesterday by Monroe Postmaster W. W. Hathorn, prior to National Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 4 through 10.

"Stop fires — save lives" posters have been placed throughout the Post Office, and letters describing fire hazards have been sent to families of all postal employees.

Hathorn listed the seven hazards as:

1. Curtains near gas stoves and kitchen ranges, that can be blown into the flame by unexpected wind.
2. Rags wet with furniture polish, wax, cleaner, thrown in a pile or heaped in closets.
3. Scrap or waste materials piled in storerooms, attics and garages.
4. Matches within reach of small children.
5. Too many electrical appliances plugged into one outlet.
6. Frayed or deteriorated extension cords and cords attached to lamps, irons, toasters and other electrical appliances.
7. Improperly stored paint and flammable solvents.

Music Major Feature At Game Halftime

A 19 - year - old Northeast music major, who has combined network television and stage appearances with a top academic record, will be trumpet soloist in a bull - fight setting at halftime ceremonies here Saturday night.

Kirby Jane Mooney of Centralia, Ill. will perform with the Northeast band between the halves of the Indian - East Texas state game.

Game time is 8 p.m. at Brown Stadium.

The Winnsboro and Neville high school bands will also take part in the half-time ceremonies.

MEXICAN SHOW

Northeast's band, directed by William R. Kloster, will do a Mexican show, climaxed by the forming of a bull ring. On a podium in the center of the ring Miss Mooney will play a piece traditional before bull fights, "Virgin de la Macarena."

Miss Mooney, who is a transfer student from the University of Houston, is a sophomore music major in the Division of Fine Arts at Northeast. She has appeared on Lawrence Welk's television program and was a three-time winner on Ted Mack's Amateur Hour in May.

Later she was trumpet soloist during a seven-week engagement in the stage show at New York's famed Radio City Music Hall.

Miss Mooney, who makes her permanent home with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer L. Hanson of Centralia, started playing the cornet in the fourth grade.

Bankers Leave For Game Today

About 35 Northeast Louisiana bankers and their wives will board a bus in Monroe today for Shreveport where they will attend the LSU-Baylor football game.

Coordinated by the Central Savings Bank of Monroe, the trip is being headed by Central banker Grayson Guthrie Jr.

Guthrie said yesterday the group would return to Monroe tonight for a dinner at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Luncheon Slated

Members of the Greek Orthodox Church will serve a benefit luncheon Sunday at 1011 North 4th St. in Monroe from 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., it was announced yesterday.

Carry-out box lunches will also be available, the luncheon committee reported.

Drivers Unhurt In 2-Car Crash

Two West Monroe residents were unhurt yesterday morning after a two - car collision at the intersection of Cotton and Bridge streets.

Police said the cars involved were driven by Frances Acree, 27, 706 Hinkle Drive, and Johnnie W. Gore, 41, 606 North Sixth street.

Gore, traveling north on Cotton in a small foreign car, collided with a station wagon operated by Acree, officers reported.

EXPLODING TV MYTHS

A four year study on the relationship between television and the child was completed recently by Dr. Hilde T. Himmelweit and her London colleagues. In her words, "If TV is a window on the world, it gives a view not very different from that provided in books, comics, films, and radio programs."

Dr. Himmelweit dispels many misconceptions about TV and blames the basic personality and immaturity of the child for many of the bad effects attributed to this medium. An intelligent, well adjusted child spends his leisure time on various interesting things besides TV.

The shy, insecure boy or girl with personality problems thrives on viewing for hours and hours because this compensates for poor social adaptation. This explains why some youngsters are addicts whereas others take it along with out of door play, reading, and pursuing hobbies.

Indian stories and westerns produce little or no anxiety reactions except in very young and insecure children. On the other hand, programs intended for adults are more likely to prove disturbing. This is particularly true when violence is presented realistically and in a familiar setting. It is easier for the youngster to identify himself with these characters.

Does TV interfere with sleep? There was no indication that it did except in the extremely young and in those with neurotic tendencies. In addition, it is not wholly responsible for late hours. Boys and girls who usually postponed bedtime stayed up late regardless of television; early bedtimers turned off the set sooner and went to bed at the usual time.

This study also discredited the misconception that TV is a source of restlessness, morning tiredness, and poor concentration in school. This was done by comparing these manifestations with those in an equal number of children whose families never had TV.

In addition, the investigators found no significant loss of initiative and dulling of imagination among the viewers. TV did not interfere with book reading. If anything, it stimulated a wider range of reading, including nonfiction. But comic books suffered a loss of popularity.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, addressed envelope accompanies request.

FACTORS IN HYPERTENSION

J. Q. writes: Is high blood pressure due chiefly to the emotional make-up?

REPLY

High blood pressure is a complex disturbance. The cause is not known but various factors make the disorder worse once it develops. Among these aggravating conditions are nervousness, tension, a high salt intake, stimulants, and obesity.

BONE SOFTENING

R. T. writes: What causes softening of the leg bones in an older person?

REPLY

Osteoporosis is a common cause after age 60. Underfunctioning of the glandular system is thought to play a role and dramatic relief often follows the use of hormones. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this disorder.

HERNIA AFTER SURGERY

J. N. writes: Why does hernia sometimes develop after an abdominal operation?

REPLY

Because the wound fails to heal completely. In some instances, one or more stitches pull out when the individual strains or coughs within 24 hours of the operation.

HORMONES AND CANCER

L. J. writes: Is cancer of the prostate operable?

REPLY

Yes, but in many instances, estrogenic hormones keep the condition under control for 10 or more years.

Three Locations Staked Recently In Monroe Area

Three new well sites were staked recently in the 14-parish Monroe District, yesterday reported Duncan S. Cook, manager of the local office of the Louisiana Department of Conservation.

In Catahoula parish Kinsey and Kinsey located their wildcat Wright No. 1 in section 3, township 8 north, range 6 east. The well will be drilled to 5,000 feet.

David Crow and Petroleum, Inc. staked their R. S. Wilds Estate No. 3 in Concordia parish's Wildsville Field in section 17, township 7 north, range 7 east. A total depth of 5,250 feet is planned.

Slated to go down to 9,600 feet in section 26, township 14 north, range 9 east of Franklin parish's Killens Ferry Field is American Petrofina Co. of Texas' Ayer Timber Co., Inc. A-2.

Free Press In Cuba

It is almost universally known that any nation which has a free press is still free. If the press has lost its freedom, so has the nation. It is as simple as that.

Right now is a critical time in determining whether Cuba shall be free. The outcome is almost certain to be known before long.

Premier Fidel Castro, new dictator who ousted Fulgencio Batista, was under an unprecedented heavy attack from major independent Havana newspapers for his denunciations of the Cuban press and newsmen who criticized his regime.

It was the first time since Castro led his revolutionary forces into power last January 1 that the press had openly taken such strong exceptions to his remarks. The war of words was touched off by Castro's criticisms during a long nationwide television appearance Monday night.

There were rumors that the Havana newspaper Diario de la Marina would suspend publication because of the attack by Castro.

In a preliminary reaction, the newspaper termed the Castro attack "representative of Cuba's worst interests." In an editorial prepared for publication, it said, "We are tired of so many threats, so much intolerance and so many gratuitous accusations and unjustified charges."

It said press freedom existed in Cuba but it was a "very special freedom." It said there were no censors and no agreement by the newspaper not to criticize the Castro government, but it added:

"You should know by now that there are two big and shameful facts that damage the freedom of press in our country.

Castro's purpose in attacking the press seems to be all too clear. He wants to intimidate the publishers so that they will not dare voice any criticism of him or his administration. He is following a policy similar to that he used in ousting his own former premier. On that occasion, he resigned his government post and forced a showdown among the people, with the result that he was chosen premier.

There was no way of knowing whether the people really wanted him, since he was the country's "strong man" and most of the people would have been afraid to oppose him even if they had not wanted him. It was his way of crushing opposition.

Castro wants to claim his country has freedom of the press but he does not want criticism by the press. His tactics in this case are to attack the press, undoubtedly with the expectation that it will bring public denunciation of the press, as he thinks the people, either through willingness or fear, will stand behind him in his demands. Through these means he hopes to quell the press and yet be able to say there is no censorship and that freedom of the press exists.

The newspapers are making it hard for him. By denouncing his tactics, they are forcing a showdown. Apparently the independent newspapers intend to have some real freedom to say what they think or to close down.

Usual tactics in dictator countries are to close down the opposition papers and to take over the more willing or more timid newspapers as government organs.

Apparently this is what is about to be done in Cuba now. Newspaper defiance has forced Castro's hand. Either he will have to put up with the criticism of what the newspapers think are his undemocratic methods or he will have to put the opposition newspapers out of business.

There can be little doubt what his decision will be. His dictator methods are so obnoxious that if the newspapers were allowed to expose them in frequent comment for the public benefit his powers and following would be certain to decline.

If the indications are what they appear to be, we are about to witness the overthrow of what is left of the freedom of the press in Cuba and with it the disappearance of the last of the democratic rights of the people. We are about to see Castro cast aside all just claims to democracy.

Unless the newspapers can win public support in Cuba, we are about to see full-grown, unadulterated dictatorship in action.

Farm Output Levels Off

As far as acreage under cultivation in the nation is concerned, farm production for 1959 stands a good chance of showing an increase. But several paradoxes on the farm front show that an overall decrease in earnings for the year may be predicted.

One survey places the net drop in earnings at close to a billion dollars under last year's total. Falling farm prices, rising production expenses and a decline in direct government subsidies through the soil bank were listed as reasons for expected decline.

In northeast Louisiana, the continued growth of crop abandonment has also been noted as a reason for reduced farm income. While fewer farmers tilling the soil may produce a misleading figure in per capita income, the fact that more people are "leaving the land" does not present a healthy overall picture.

Actual crop output, said to be down about one per cent from last year, still remains enormous. The output of all crops last year averaged an 11 per cent increase over any previous crop year and a mere one per cent drop would not do anything positive to eliminate the surplus pileups.

The Farm Bureau Federation and a few other organizations are trying to bring about a healthier agricultural picture by reducing the farmer's dependence on the federal government. This will require the solution of the riddle in which improved farming methods, crop diversification, small farms and mounting surpluses all play a part.

Rigid crop controls by the government have not reduced surpluses. Neither, apparently, will crop abandonment in the so-called "marginal farms" judging from the above figures. As a matter of fact, making the small farm pay its way would be far more constructive step than leaving idle land.

Another paradox for 1959 is the increase in farm spending. Tractors, including larger diesels are selling well, also the large types of equipment: automatic devices to feed livestock, mechanical strippers and pickers. Companies making such equipment report sales increases from 10 to 35 per cent.

As to the impact on the individual farmer, the picture is not gloomy. The farm population has declined from 26 million to less than 21 million in the past 10 years. This has brought the per capita farm income to a figure around $1,000 — somewhat above what it was 10 years ago.

On the political farm front, the officials view the nation's per capita income rise for the same period — in the neighborhood of $1,500 to $2200 — and wonder why the farm programs cannot give the farmer a similar gain.

Perhaps there is no single cure for the farmer's income, surplus and crop - abandonment developments. But it is hoped that adjustments can be made, perhaps through greater crop alternation, whereby a substantial number of citizens can sustain themselves on their own farms.

Muzzling Corporations

United Steel Workers Given Privilege Of Advertising Their Side But Management Is Criticized

It would seem as though Representative Charles O. Porter of Oregon has raised an issue which worries some businessmen because they wonder whether those in American management have become secondary citizens with limited rights. For instance, the United Steel Workers of America takes full page advertisements in newspapers across the country to set forth the point of view of the management of that union. On the other hand, when a corporation advertises its views on current questions, particularly such as affect its business, along comes a congressman as Porter and criticizes the corporation for undue expenditure of its funds.

Are the corporations to be silent when their businesses are being destroyed? I have before me a very interesting letter addressed to Porter by Walter S. Johnson of the American Forest Products Corporation. I think that this paragraph should be given wide circulation because it faces up to a situation which neither corporation management nor labor management can much longer ignore:

"Out here on the Pacific Coast we are kept fairly well informed because in this age of rapid communications and transportation we are only minutes behind Washington, D.C. From my office window we look down upon the docks of San Francisco and see numerous ships from foreign lands arriving with imports. A substantial number of these are from Japan, Holland, Denmark, Sweden and other countries bringing imports in greater quantity as the months go by. Those from Germany bring Volkswagons by the shipload and Japan sends tremendous quantities of merchandise of all sorts. Of course, the score board is what counts and the last reports I saw indicated exports are now falling a little behind imports. In other words, a few years back our exports substantially exceeded imports but the lines have crossed according to the charts and imports are increasing while exports are slowly dwindling away as of July 1 of this year. These figures do not include the many millions our citizens spend abroad as tourists and if this was added the situation would be still more alarming."

Possibly Representative Porter would say that if American industry is not efficient, it deserves to lose its markets. But the question is not one of efficiency. It is taxes, high wages, inflation and a generally difficult economic situation. Walter S. Johnson answers the question this way:

"... the United States unlike other countries is faced with growing taxes, but I do find the statement that each year taxes take more of industries' dollars and certainly there is nothing spurious about that. The (Union Oil Company) advertisement shows we are pricing ourselves out of world markets and if we do not stay competitive it is the same thing as pricing ourselves out of our jobs. If Japan can land steel on the Pacific Coast at $20.00 a ton cheaper than American mills, if Belgium can bring steel up the St. Lawrence to Cleveland $20.00 cheaper, if oil companies can build tankers in Japan at great savings in cost over American shipyards, if Japan can buy logs in the Philippines, take to Japan and make into plywood and ship to the United States cheaper than we can make plywood from our own native woods, if Monroe Calculating, Royal Typewriter, and Remington-Rand can build office equipment in Europe and ship to the United States cheaper than it can be manufactured here, we have something to worry about..."

The fact of the matter is that American companies are finding it economical to manufacture abroad, particularly for world markets. Instead of using American labor and American materials, instead of paying taxes to the government of the United States or to states or municipalities, they erect factories in foreign countries, exporting American capital for that purpose. They cannot compete any other way.

It is fatuous for Congressman Porter to apply 19th century free trade concepts concerning the open market to a world in which the markets have become closed by government fiat. The principal sufferer of the closed market will be the American worker who is forced to live in a war economy or face unemployment because he is outpricing himself in both world and home markets. American steel is now outpriced. Management can export capital; what can the individual worker export when he is stuck with this kind of a situation? He can't export his job.

Khrush's Shift

Food Intended For Russian Premier Suddenly Placed Elsewhere

FOOD CHECKER AT WORK— United States and Soviet security agents stumbled over one another in the scramble to make sure that Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev escaped unharmed during his visit to this country. Newspaper accounts reported repeatedly how special detection instruments were used to check underneath every table at which the Communist boss would eat to make sure there were no hidden booby - traps. It has just come to light how even these measures were not enough to convince one Russian security official. Well in advance of Khrushchev's appearance before the National Press Club waiters set the tables, put out the bread and butter and half a honeydew melon for each dinner. The usual check for booby traps went off without a hitch and the Khrushchev party was about to enter the dining room. Suddenly, a Soviet security agent rushed over to the head table spot reserved for the premier. He grabbed the salt and pepper shaker along with the honeydew melon and exchanged them with the same items on a table some distance away. Some unknown Washington correspondent might well have become a victim of history had the Khrushchev melon and salt and pepper been poisoned.

SLEUTHING COMES HIGH — Now that the bills are being added up it looks like $3,787,000 was spent this year on Congressional investigations —$5,195,000 in the Senate and $3,592,000 in the House. This is more than two-thirds of the $12,109,090 spent the two years of the 85th Congress. Investigation of labor racketeering is one that everyone is familiar with. But there were many more. Congress probed such diverse matters as the problems of small sawmill owners, lamb and meat grading, management of the radio spectrum, to name a few.

PICK YOUR OWN ANSWER— Sen. Karl E. Mundt, Rep.-S. D., asks the question, "Did the taxpayer win or lose?" And a second question explains the first, "What did Congress do to me this time?" Mundt, in what may be a rare Republican tribute to a Democratic - controlled Congress, answers the two questions in this fashion, "Evaluation of the net results in comparison to the outlook last January leads to only one conclusion — the American taxpayer held his own and perhaps made a gain or two."

TIN PAN ALLEY BLUES — For years and years the word "moon" was associated with romance. No songwriter worth his salt would miss the opportunity to write about the moon. Rep. James M. Quigley, Dem.-Pa., put it this way, "I don't know what they can do with it, but the song writers now have themselves a new word to rhyme with 'moon.' It's 'gloom.' The obvious reference, of course, is to the fact that Soviet Russia beat the United States with a rocket hit to the moon.

Daily Devotional

Say not thou, I will recompense evil; but wait on the Lord, and He shall save Thee. —Proverbs 20:22.

It is human to seek vengeance when one has been wronged. But here, in the Old Testament, this idea is opposed. And later, in the New Testament, we are reminded: "Vengeance is Mine, I repay, saith the Lord." Much as we may dislike the idea, therefore, the principle of "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" must be abandoned, as our Saviour directed when He said, "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them that despitefully use you."

Gracious God, help us to leave all matters of retribution unto Thee, in Thine own good time. In Christ's holy name we ask. Amen.

So Much I Owe You

I LOVE you, darling, for your kiss
... And for your soft caress ...
And all the other ways in which ... You bring me happiness
... The inspiration of the words ... So tenderly you say ...
To help me strive with heart and soul ... For all we hope and pray ... The sweet forgiveness of your lips ... And of your loving eyes ... When I do something wrong, dear one
... And I apologize ... You understand me better than ...
I understand myself ... Countless are the treasures, dear ...
You place upon my shelf ... My darling, I am grateful and ... Believe me, this is true ... Whatever good there is in me
... It is because of you.

Nervous Stomach

May Stem From Variety Of Ailments, Or From Tension

"Dear Dr. Steincrohn: My doctor tells me I have a 'nervous stomach.' Just what does that mean? And is there anything to do for it? —Mrs. H. H., Miami."

COMMENT: I learned a good lesson about "nervous stomach" when I was just starting out in practice. Since then, I have never made this diagnosis until I had ruled out every other possibility, as a cause of the stomach symptoms.

A nervous young man in his 20's came to me complaining of a chronic stomach upset. He was sure he had an ulcer. He had gnawing pain, gas and burning. Nothing seemed to relieve him.

I sent him to an X-ray man for studies of his gall bladder, stomach and bowels. The doctor couldn't find any trouble. But the young man still complained.

"Just what's the trouble?" he asked. "There must be something wrong to make me feel this way." And I answered: "You have no organic trouble. Your symptoms are due to a 'nervous stomach.'" I gave him sedatives but his condition didn't improve.

He went to another doctor, out of town. At this time our patient was also complaining of some pain over one of his kidneys. They took X-rays.

He had a stone. They removed it. Within two weeks all his "nervous indigestion" disappeared. The kidney stone had been causing stomach symptoms reflexly.

The patient returned for a social chat. He brought along the stone for me to look at.

"Here's your 'nervous stomach," he said.

I'm sure I blushed and stammered an apology. But I told him that I really appreciated his coming back to talk it over.

He had taught me this lesson which I have never forgotten: Never make a diagnosis of "nervous stomach" unless you are absolutely sure that you have tried to rule out every possibility of real, organic illness.

Now, that's what I am asking you, Mrs. H. H. If that was done in your case, I suppose you have no other choice but to accept the tag: "nervous stomach."

Once I feel that the symptoms are caused by nervousness, I think it is important that you try to straighten out any problems that you may be having at home or at work. You must accept the fact that nervous tension and emotional upsets can raise the very devil with the stomach and intestines — as well as with other organs.

If faulty, reorganize your way of life. Learn how to relax. Take frequent, short vacations if possible. Take a regular, wholesome diet. Get sufficient sleep. Restrict coffee, tea, alcohol and tobacco.

Your doctor will prescribe the necessary sedatives, stomach relaxants and other medicines. Do these things, Mrs. H. H., and you are sure to improve.

GLAND TREATMENT OF MENOPAUSE

The other night I saw a woman of 45 who was in evident discomfort. She was giving a small party for some friends. Every few minutes she kept breaking out into sweats. Her handkerchief was kept quite busy.

She was a good sport about it. "I've had these flashes for five years, now," she said. "But I don't make a fuss over them. After all, it's natural for some women to go through this. And I don't believe in taking female hormones to help along. What do you think?"

I said I didn't think every woman in the menopause should take them. But that I believed it was worth while taking these estrogens (in pill form) to control excessive sweating and other symptoms.

"Trouble is," I said, "that many doctors don't believe in prescribing them. They tell their patient to bear up and go through the menopause naturally.'

I don't go along with that. Taken under supervision, estrogens make the patient comfortable (why suffer needlessly?)"

She said if the "darn flashes" didn't let up, she'd talk it over with her doctor.

Note to Mrs. S. L. B.: Tell your daughter that dieting can be overdone. Before she gets into a pattern of "starving herself" write to me c-o this paper for my leaflet S-2, "How to Overcome Obesity." Enclose 10 cents in a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Let's see if we can't get her to diet sensibly.

• • •

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, S-5, "How to Overcome Your Child's Greatest Menace: Accidents", will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self - addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for handling charges. Address your request for the leaflet to Dr. Steincrohn, in care of this paper.

Auto Sales Year

Nation Is On Threshold Of Biggest Buying Year Since 1955

We're on the threshold of the biggest auto buying year since 1955 and quite possibly the biggest auto buying year ever — and we're into a cycle of the most expensive credit in a generation.

What does this mean to you?

It means that as never before in your lifetime of buying on-the-cuff, it's essential that you realize what the use of the great service of installment credit costs you.

Even in periods when credit has been ample and interest rates have been low, buying on the installment plan has raised the price of what you have bought. Or as General Motors Acceptance Corp., the largest auto financing organization in the world, puts it bluntly, "When you buy on time, the high cost of so-called 'easy terms' may be easily overlooked . . . The more credit you use, the more credit costs you."

And in this period, when credit is scarce and interest rates are at historic highs, padding your installment loans more than is necessary to buy what you want is just a waste of your own money.

Let's be even more specific with an illustration worked out for me on a $3,000 car — a price which includes most popular models.

We'll assume you're putting down one - third or $1,000 (GMAC says its average down payment is better than one-third.) We'll assume you're financing the $2,000 balance due on your car.

Your auto insurance in New York and most other big cities will come to around $84 a year.

Your credit life insurance — the insurance you'll buy to make sure your loan is taken care of in case of your death — will cost you from $10.82 to $22.84, depending on the length of your payment period.

If you arrange to pay off your loan in 18 months, your $2,000 balance will come to $2,288.80— covering your auto insurance, credit life insurance and financing charges of $188.98.

If you arrange to pay off your loan in 24 months, your $2,000 balance will come to $2,356.07 — covering your auto insurance, credit life insurance and financing charges of $252.44.

If you make a deal to pay off in 30 months, your $2,000 balance will amount to $2,423.79.

If you make a deal to pay off in 36 months, your $2,000 balance will rise to $2,491.97.

The 36-month deal may seem the "easiest" because the monthly payments come to only $69.22. The 18 - month deal may seem the "most expensive," because the monthly payments come to $127.15.

• • •

But just glance at the difference between the price of the car to you on an 18-month and a 36-month repayment arrangement and then decide which is "easiest," which is "most expensive."

Another illustration may pound it home even more dramatically.

If you buy a car on the basis of one - third down, 24 months to pay off, the first five monthly payments will go for finance charges and insurance costs.

• • •

If you buy it on the basis of one-third down, 36 months to pay off, the first 10½ monthly payments will go for these charges. You'll be paying installments for almost a year before you start to reduce the principal of your auto loan!

• • •

Use installment credit, of course — but never forget this basic guide:

The cheapest way to buy anything is to pay cash for it. Then you pay no finance charges at all.

The next cheapest way to buy is to pay down as much as you can, pay off as quickly as you can.

The most expensive way to buy is to pay down as little as you are permitted, stretch your repayment period as far as you're permitted.

• • •

This guide always has made sense. In today's era of expensive borrowing the sense can be translated into big totals of dollars.

Few Sightseers Show Up Near Ike's Hideaway

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Relatively few sightseers have shown up so far at President Eisenhower's Desert White House, possibly because it's not too easy to find.

Except for several official cars parked out front, George E. Allen's winter home looks like all other luxury houses in the area. You can easily overlook it.

But every now and then a knowledgeable motorist with family or friends in the car will approach the house and either stop and look from a distance or drive slowly past.

There actually isn't much to see from the road: a high wall, the tile roof, a cluster of ornamental palm trees, the mountain behind and — through the gateway — a corner of the front porch.

The Santa Rosa Mountains which rim the La Quinta Valley on three sides, add to the feeling of seclusion and serve to protect the area from the brisk winds that periodically stir up the sand elsewhere.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

I P F C J L F N F H J E F J K L B L Z F U S W,

I P F H F W W N F B H T I I F L I P F C—C J H Z F L F.

Warnings Given In Monroe Areas On Fire Hazards

Warnings on seven potential "fire makers" in homes were issued yesterday by Monroe Postmaster W. W. Hathorn, prior to National Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 4 through 10.

"Stop fires — save lives" posters have been placed throughout the Post Office, and letters describing fire hazards have been sent to families of all postal employees.

Hathorn listed the seven hazards as:

1. Curtains near gas stoves and kitchen ranges, that can be blown into the flame by unexpected wind.
2. Rags wet with furniture polish, wax, cleaner, thrown in a pile or heaped in closets.
3. Scrap or waste materials piled in storerooms, attics and garages.
4. Matches within reach of small children.
5. Too many electrical appliances plugged into one outlet.
6. Frayed or deteriorated extension cords and cords attached to lamps, irons, toasters and other electrical appliances.
7. Improperly stored paint and flammable solvents.

Music Major Feature At Game Halftime

A 19 - year - old Northeast music major, who has combined network television and stage appearances with a top academic record, will be trumpet soloist in a bull - fight setting at halftime ceremonies here Saturday night.

Kirby Jane Mooney of Centralia, Ill. will perform with the Northeast band between the halves of the Indian - East Texas state game.

Game time is 8 p.m. at Brown Stadium.

The Winnsboro and Neville high school bands will also take part in the half-time ceremonies.

MEXICAN SHOW

Northeast's band, directed by William R. Kloster, will do a Mexican show, climaxed by the forming of a bull ring. On a podium in the center of the ring Miss Mooney will play a piece traditional before bull fights, "Virgin de la Macarena."

Miss Mooney, who is a transfer student from the University of Houston, is a sophomore music major in the Division of Fine Arts at Northeast. She has appeared on Lawrence Welk's television program and was a three-time winner on Ted Mack's Amateur Hour in May.

Later she was trumpet soloist during a seven-week engagement in the stage show at New York's famed Radio City Music Hall.

Bankers Leave For Game Today

About 35 Northeast Louisiana bankers and their wives will board a bus in Monroe today for Shreveport where they will attend the LSU-Baylor football game.

Coordinated by the Central Savings Bank of Monroe, the trip is being headed by Central banker Grayson Guthrie Jr.

Guthrie said yesterday the group would return to Monroe tonight for a dinner at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Luncheon Slated

Members of the Greek Orthodox Church will serve a benefit luncheon Sunday at 1011 North 4th St. in Monroe from 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., it was announced yesterday.

Carry-out box lunches will also be available, the luncheon committee reported.

Drivers Unhurt In 2-Car Crash

Two West Monroe residents were unhurt yesterday morning after a two - car collision at the intersection of Cotton and Bridge streets.

Police said the cars involved were driven by Frances Acree, 27, 706 Hinkle Drive, and Johnnie W. Gore, 41, 606 North Sixth street.

Gore, traveling north on Cotton in a small foreign car, collided with a station wagon operated by Acree, officers reported.

EXPLODING TV MYTHS

A four year study on the relationship between television and the child was completed recently by Dr. Hilde T. Himmelweit and her London colleagues. In her words, "If TV is a window on the world, it gives a view not very different from that provided in books, comics, films, and radio programs."

Dr. Himmelweit dispels many misconceptions about TV and blames the basic personality and immaturity of the child for many of the bad effects attributed to this medium. An intelligent, well adjusted child spends his leisure time on various interesting things besides TV.

The shy, insecure boy or girl with personality problems thrives on viewing for hours and hours because this compensates for poor social adaptation. This explains why some youngsters are addicts whereas others take it along with out of door play, reading, and pursuing hobbies.

Indian stories and westerns produce little or no anxiety reactions except in very young and insecure children. On the other hand, programs intended for adults are more likely to prove disturbing. This is particularly true when violence is presented realistically and in a familiar setting. It is easier for the youngster to identify himself with these characters.

Does TV interfere with sleep? There was no indication that it did except in the extremely young and in those with neurotic tendencies. In addition, it is not wholly responsible for late hours. Boys and girls who usually postponed bedtime stayed up late regardless of television; early bedtimers turned off the set sooner and went to bed at the usual time.

This study also discredited the misconception that TV is a source of restlessness, morning tiredness, and poor concentration in school. This was done by comparing these manifestations with those in an equal number of children whose families never had TV.

In addition, the investigators found no significant loss of initiative and dulling of imagination among the viewers. TV did not interfere with book reading. If anything, it stimulated a wider range of reading, including nonfiction. But comic books suffered a loss of popularity.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, addressed envelope accompanies request.

FACTORS IN HYPERTENSION

J. Q. writes: Is high blood pressure due chiefly to the emotional make-up?

REPLY

High blood pressure is a complex disturbance. The cause is not known but various factors make the disorder worse once it develops. Among these aggravating conditions are nervousness, tension, a high salt intake, stimulants, and obesity.

BONE SOFTENING

R. T. writes: What causes softening of the leg bones in an older person?

REPLY

Osteoporosis is a common cause after age 60. Underfunctioning of the glandular system is thought to play a role and dramatic relief often follows the use of hormones. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this disorder.

HERNIA AFTER SURGERY

J. N. writes: Why does hernia sometimes develop after an abdominal operation?

REPLY

Because the wound fails to heal completely. In some instances, one or more stitches pull out when the individual strains or coughs within 24 hours of the operation.

HORMONES AND CANCER

L. J. writes: Is cancer of the prostate operable?

REPLY

Yes, but in many instances, estrogenic hormones keep the condition under control for 10 or more years.

Three Locations Staked Recently In Monroe Area

Three new well sites were staked recently in the 14-parish Monroe District, yesterday reported Duncan S. Cook, manager of the local office of the Louisiana Department of Conservation.

In Catahoula parish Kinsey and Kinsey located their wildcat Wright No. 1 in section 3, township 8 north, range 6 east. The well will be drilled to 5,000 feet.

David Crow and Petroleum, Inc. staked their R. S. Wilds Estate No. 3 in Concordia parish's Wildsville Field in section 17, township 7 north, range 7 east. A total depth of 5,250 feet is planned.

Slated to go down to 9,600 feet in section 26, township 14 north, range 9 east of Franklin parish's Killens Ferry Field is American Petrofina Co. of Texas' Ayer Timber Co., Inc. A-2.

Test Pilot Survives Jet Sea Crash

GARLIESTON, Scotland (AP)—Almost given up for dead, a top test pilot staggered up a Scottish beach Friday 30 hours after he bailed out of a 1,500 m.p.h. jet plane that crashed into the sea.

Johnny Squier, 39, and his lightning plane vanished on a test flight above the Irish Sea Thursday. Planes and ships failed to find him.

Friday Squier paddled weakly ashore here in a dinghy ejected with him from the plane. He limped half a mile to the schoolhouse and told Miss Jocelyn Donaldson: "I've just come out of the sea."

Friday night, Squier rested in Miss Donaldson's house, fed with hot Scottish broth.

"He's safe and well now," Miss Donaldson said. "He's just exhausted and a little shocked. But he wasn't injured in the crash."

Squier came ashore 30 miles from the point where his plane disappeared off radar screens.

In the small dinghy, equipped with survival equipment, he made his own landfall, apparently unseen by search planes and ships.

English Electric, makers of the Lightning had no details of the cause of the crash of the largely still-secret fighter. It said the plane "got into difficulties."

The Lightning is due to enter Royal Air Force service next year.

Squier, chief production test pilot of English Electric, is married with two children. He fought in RAF fighter squadrons during the battle of Britain.

BUT NOT HOPEFUL

New Stage Seen In Steel Strike

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Negotiations to end the 80-day steel strike progressed into "a new stage" Friday, but neither side held hope of reaching the "negotiated settlement" asked by President Eisenhower by Oct. 8.

The four - man industry team, headed by R. Conrad Cooper of the United States Steel Corp., and the union negotiators, headed by David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers, began talks at 10:30 a.m. e.d.t.

Before the start of the morning session McDonald told reporters, "I am afraid I am not hopeful," that was the only comment made by any of the negotiators.

However, United Press International learned the industry began spelling out its demands for contract changes which it said would increase efficiency and "make more money" for the strikers.

The industry team, representing the 12 major basic steel producers, was reported to have complied with the union demand for a "cents per hour" accounting of the workers' share of this increased productivity.

Since before the strike started July 15 the industry has contended that if the union consented to revision of "working conditions" provisions of the previous contract, the industry would grant a "modest" wage increase next year.

But according to reports, for the first time since the strike began the company negotiators have been willing to put a price tag on the revisions they demand.

Even this concession by the industry was viewed as a "lateral" move by the USW, a union source said. The source did not regard it as a direct step toward a settlement in the period requested by President Eisenhower in a White House conference with the top union and industry men on Wednesday.

The President made it plain he wanted the costly strike, which has idled 500,000 steel workers and 170,000 workers in related industries, settled before he returned to the capital from his co'd enforced California vacation Oct. 8.

TOTAL ECLIPSE

Modern Man Sees Old Phenomena

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Modern man, straining on the threshold of celestial exploration, Friday was treated to one of the oldest and eeriest phenomena of outer space, a total eclipse of the sun.

The moon moved into a position where it blocked the sun's rays for a brief period, leaving only a radiant halo to light the strange darkness of the heavens.

The grandeur of the sight baffled and terrified ancient man. Battles were won or lost when the unexpected advent of an eclipse spread panic among adversaries. Even animals are said to be disturbed by the spectacle.

However, Friday's eclipse was welcomed by scientists. Each such occurrence adds a bit to their knowledge of the universe and its mysterious functioning.

Thousands of nonscientific onlookers were denied a clear view of the eclipse by clouds on both sides of the Atlantic. However, planes took astronomers and students aloft for a clear view.

In this hemisphere, the eclipse was visible in varying degrees from Greenland to Florida and as far west as Michigan.

The eclipse was total in the Boston area, although clouds spoiled it for ground observers who jammed traffic as they sought vantage points.

Associated Press staffer Don Guy went aloft for a look.

"The sun appeared to rise at 6:41 a.m. at the eastern edge of a sea of clouds. It rose partially eclipsed and looked like a brilliant crescent with the horns pointing outward," he reported.

"For nine minutes, as the sun rose, the moon progressively darkened more and more of the solar surface. Suddenly at 6:50 the last brilliant streak of sunlight vanished and the glowing solar corona ringed the moon."

Beneath the path of the total eclipse, glowing dawn reverted to night shadow.

In the Canary Islands, vehicles had to turn on their headlights to proceed. Lunchtime idlers in sidewalk cafes along the Champs Elysees in Paris gaped through smoked glasses at an eclipse that was partial there.

Thousands rubber-necked in Lisbon streets, where hawkers passed among them selling dark glasses.

Dr. Donald H. Menzel, director of the Harvard Observatory and a world solar authority, took aloft with him 10 Harvard freshmen students and a Radcliffe coed.

The greatest concentration of scientific minds and instruments was on Mt. Jandia in the Canary Islands. There American, British, Dutch, German and Spanish scientists sought to photograph and analyze the eclipse.

The most recent eclipse of the sun was last Oct. 12. It was visible only in parts of South America. The next, Feb. 15, 1961, will be visible in sections of Europe.

MINTON CRITICAL

NEW ALBANY, Ind. (UPI) — Former U.S. Supreme Court Justice Sherman Minton remained in critical condition Friday from the effects of a heart attack suffered Wednesday in his home. Minton, 68, neither improved nor worsened since condition reports were issued at St. Edward's Hospital Thursday. Nurses were on duty at his bedside on an around-the-clock basis.

CRASH KILLS 19

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — An express train hit a bus loaded with men going to work Friday, killing 19 and injuring nine seriously. The accident occurred at an unguarded grade crossing in Jezioki Podlaskie Village, 10 miles south of Warsaw.

Few Sightseers Show Up Near Ike's Hideaway

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Relatively few sightseers have shown up so far at President Eisenhower's Desert White House, possibly because it's not too easy to find.

Except for several official cars parked out front, George E. Allen's winter home looks like all other luxury houses in the area. You can easily overlook it.

But every now and then a knowledgeable motorist with family or friends in the car will approach the house and either stop and look from a distance or drive slowly past.

There actually isn't much to see from the road: a high wall, the tile roof, a cluster of ornamental palm trees, the mountain behind and — through the gateway — a corner of the front porch.

The Santa Rosa Mountains which rim the La Quinta Valley on three sides, add to the feeling of seclusion and serve to protect the area from the brisk winds that periodically stir up the sand elsewhere.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Minorities, Small Towners Benefit

By EDWARD COWAN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government is expanding its program to help people in small towns and members of minority groups get home loans.

With $290,000 appropriated by Congress for personnel, the Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program (VHMCP) is going to double its staff—from 19 to 40.

The VHMCP is the smallest and least known of the government's several housing programs.

Congress set it up in 1954 to reduce the demand for direct GI home loans from the government. Since it began in January, 1955, the program has helped 40,000 families obtain some 400 million dollars in home loans.

There are offices in Washington, Atlanta, Dallas, Chicago and San Francisco.

The $10,000 average mortgage size shows that the program aids mainly home buyers in moderate income categories. By the traditional rule of thumb, a family with a $4,000 income could carry a $10,000 mortgage.)

The loans are made by private lenders—banks, insurance companies, savings associations, etc. No government money is involved and VHMCP does not charge borrowers for its services.

However, only applications for FHA-insured of VA-guaranteed mortgages are processed through VHMCP. Conventional loans are barred.

The program authorized in the Housing Act of 1954, is intended to help make mortgage money accessible to people in small communities and to members of minority groups who cannot obtain loans on terms as favorable as are generally available to others in the area.

By helping such prospective borrowers find private financing, the government eases the demand for direct GI loans.

Joseph B. Graves Jr., executive secretary of the VHMCP National Committee, believes the program has served still another purpose: to show private lenders that a home buyer from a small town or rural area, or who is a member of a minority group, is as good a credit risk as anyone else in comparable financial circumstances.

"We have shown that the delinquency rate is as low on well checked loans to the people we serve as on loans to the general public," Graves said.

He added that his program's placement figures show that lenders agree. Since it started, VHMCP has placed about two out of five mortgage applications it referred to lenders. But in the past 18 months, Graves said, the ratio has been about three out of five. VHMCP forwards loan applications to lenders only if the prospective borrower has sought financing from two local or nearby lenders without success.

Negro Sought Found Friday

HAMMOND, La. (AP)—A Negro man wanted in connection with the rape of a 40-year-old Hammond white woman was caught near here Friday.

Clarence Wilson admitted his identity when confronted by Charles Gianoble, who held a gun on the Negro until sheriff's officers arrived.

Producer To Buck Top TV Westerns

By JOE FINNIGAN
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Probably one of the bravest men in TV these days is the producer of an untried series which debuts Saturday night against two top-rated horse operas.

"We're not kidding ourselves at all," says Herbert Bayard Swope Jr., as he turns his tiger, "Five Fingers," loose against "Gunsmoke" and "Have Gun Will Travel."

Swope's hour-long spy thriller series stars David Heddison and Luciana Paluzzi, a comely Italian miss.

"We don't expect success over night against two first-rate westerns," he said. "But we do expect interest.

"Furthermore, we're in a position to develop scope because we are the challenger. We should pick up a good audience by using suspense and adventure combined with romance and humor."

HAS NEW IDEAS

Even though he's the underdog in the battle for TV's elusive ratings, Swope knows, from bitter experience, that he can come out on top.

"I produced a New York TV show called "Lights Out" in 1952 and 'I Love Lucy' came along and knocked it out of the ratings," he pointed out. "So, you see, it is possible for a new series to win out against the established ones.

"Also, we've got some ideas that are unique," he said. "We've been picking guest stars who do well in other areas of entertainment and placing them in different roles.

"For instance, Edgar Bergen plays a Swiss agent who doubles as a ventriloquist. Even his pal, 'Charlie McCarthy' is doing a different part.

DUMMY PLAYS DUMMY

"He'll portray 'Wackernagel', another dummy," Swope laughed. "Then, we have opera star Salvatore Baccaloni in the role of an Italian spy who sings 'Dixie.' And Monty Wooley is the head of a spy ring."

Besides the aforementioned, Herb plans to line up other top personalities in unusual characterizations.

"We hope to use people like Milton Berle, Jack Paar, Steve Allen, Peggy Lee and Celeste Holm in straight dramatic roles," he explained. "One group feels that top performers like something different for a change of pace."

Herb may have hit upon something. TV could use a "change of pace."

Tattoo Parlors Are Ordered To Clean Facilities

NEW YORK (UPI) — Health officials Friday ordered tattoo parlors to clean up or close their doors.

A 17-year-old boy died this week after picking up a deadly virus from unclean tattooing needles.

An inspection of six tattoo parlors revealed that all were operating "in seriously unclean and unsanitary condition and lacking in suitable sanitary facilities," the health department said. It recommended that they shut down now pending the introduction of safer practices.

Anthony Wiszuk died Tuesday in Queens General Hospital from hepatitis, a dangerous liver disease he contracted after being tattooed with an unsterilized needle, the health department charged. He was the city's first tattoo death.

New Society Hopes To Kill 'John' Complex

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Let's Have Better Mottoes Association announced today its selection of the motto for October — "Please don't talk while I'm interrupting."

E. V. Roberts, secretary of the local chapter, said the following were also - rans in monthly competition:

"Why worry about the boss —he's not afraid of you?"

"I like the way you put it—simple."

"Do it the ethical way unless there's no chance of getting caught."

"I think all the time, but I never think of anything."

Roberts said a new group would be formed within the association and that all members named John were invited to join. The group will be known as the society for the prevention of calling bathrooms "Johns."

BILLY GRAHAM

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — An 80,000-word account of evangelist Billy Graham's tour of Australia and New Zealand this year has been produced by the Anglican dean of Melbourne, Dr. S. Barton Babbage, in collaboration with free lance newsman Ian Siggins. It is being sent to Graham's headquarters in the United States.

Ala. Group Studying Race Issue

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Legislature's Racial Screening Committee Friday recommended passage of legislation to give the governor power to close the schools to prevent integration.

But committee members, conferring with Gov. John Patterson, suggested an amendment striking out a provision which would give the chief executive sole authority to reopen the schools once closed.

The Screening Committee cannot actually amend a bill, but it passes on all measures affecting segregation before other standing committees take formal action.

Two bills were involved in Friday's deliberations. One gives the governor the right to close public schools. The other permits him to shut down institutions of higher learning.

The committee recommended leaving it up to the local boards to reopen the schools, explaining it might invite federal court intervention if only the governor could do it.

Committee members explained that if the governor alone could close and reopen the schools, the courts might construe that to mean that the state operates them.

Under a recent ruling in Virginia, a federal court panel has held that if the state operates the schools, they must remain all closed or all open.

Ceylon Restores Death Penalty In Murder Cases

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — One week after the assassination of Prime Minister Solomon Bandaranaike, the government Friday restored the death penalty for murder.

Bandaranaike had made life imprisonment the maximum sentence, by administrative decree, after Ceylon's Parliament split on a bill to abolish capital punishment.

Test Pilot Survives Jet Sea Crash

GARLIESTON, Scotland (AP)—Almost given up for dead, a top test pilot staggered up a Scottish beach Friday 30 hours after he bailed out of a 1,500 m.p.h. jet plane that crashed into the sea.

Johnny Squier, 39, and his lightning plane vanished on a test flight above the Irish Sea Thursday. Planes and ships failed to find him.

Friday Squier paddled weakly ashore here in a dinghy ejected with him from the plane. He limped half a mile to the schoolhouse and told Miss Jocelyn Donaldson: "I've just come out of the sea."

Friday night, Squier rested in Miss Donaldson's house, fed with hot Scottish broth.

"He's safe and well now," Miss Donaldson said. "He's just exhausted and a little shocked. But he wasn't injured in the crash."

Squier came ashore 30 miles from the point where his plane disappeared off radar screens.

In the small dinghy, equipped with survival equipment, he made his own landfall, apparently unseen by search planes and ships.

English Electric, makers of the Lightning had no details of the cause of the crash of the largely still-secret fighter. It said the plane "got into difficulties."

The Lightning is due to enter Royal Air Force service next year.

Squier, chief production test pilot of English Electric, is married with two children. He fought in RAF fighter squadrons during the battle of Britain.

BUT NOT HOPEFUL

New Stage Seen In Steel Strike

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Negotiations to end the 80-day steel strike progressed into "a new stage" Friday, but neither side held hope of reaching the "negotiated settlement" asked by President Eisenhower by Oct. 8.

The four - man industry team, headed by R. Conrad Cooper of the United States Steel Corp., and the union negotiators, headed by David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers, began talks at 10:30 a.m. e.d.t.

Before the start of the morning session McDonald told reporters, "I am afraid I am not hopeful," that was the only comment made by any of the negotiators.

However, United Press International learned the industry began spelling out its demands for contract changes which it said would increase efficiency and "make more money" for the strikers.

The industry team, representing the 12 major basic steel producers, was reported to have complied with the union demand for a "cents per hour" accounting of the workers' share of this increased productivity.

Since before the strike started July 15 the industry has contended that if the union consented to revision of "working conditions" provisions of the previous contract, the industry would grant a "modest" wage increase next year.

But according to reports, for the first time since the strike began the company negotiators have been willing to put a price tag on the revisions they demand.

Even this concession by the industry was viewed as a "lateral" move by the USW, a union source said. The source did not regard it as a direct step toward a settlement in the period requested by President Eisenhower in a White House conference with the top union and industry men on Wednesday.

The President made it plain he wanted the costly strike, which has idled 500,000 steel workers and 170,000 workers in related industries, settled before he returned to the capital from his cold enforced California vacation Oct. 8.

TOTAL ECLIPSE

Modern Man Sees Old Phenomena

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Modern man, straining on the threshold of celestial exploration, Friday was treated to one of the oldest and eeriest phenomena of outer space, a total eclipse of the sun.

The moon moved into a position where it blocked the sun's rays for a brief period, leaving only a radiant halo to light the strange darkness of the heavens.

The grandeur of the sight baffled and terrified ancient man. Battles were won or lost when the unexpected advent of an eclipse spread panic among adversaries. Even animals are said to be disturbed by the spectacle.

However, Friday's eclipse was welcomed by scientists. Each such occurrence adds a bit to their knowledge of the universe and its mysterious functioning.

Thousands of nonscientific onlookers were denied a clear view of the eclipse by clouds on both sides of the Atlantic. However, planes took astronomers and students aloft for a clear view.

In this hemisphere, the eclipse was visible in varying degrees from Greenland to Florida and as far west as Michigan.

The eclipse was total in the Boston area, although clouds spoiled it for ground observers who jammed traffic as they sought vantage points.

Associated Press staffer Don Guy went aloft for a look.

"The sun appeared to rise at 6:41 a.m. at the eastern edge of a sea of clouds. It rose partially eclipsed and looked like a brilliant crescent with the horns pointing outward," he reported.

"For nine minutes, as the sun rose, the moon progressively darkened more and more of the solar surface. Suddenly at 6:50 the last brilliant streak of sunlight vanished and the glowing solar corona ringed the moon."

Beneath the path of the total eclipse, glowing dawn reverted to night shadow.

In the Canary Islands, vehicles had to turn on their headlights to proceed. Lunchtime idlers in sidewalk cafes along the Champs Elysees in Paris gaped through smoked glasses at an eclipse that was partial there.

Thousands rubber-necked in Lisbon streets, where hawkers passed among them selling dark glasses.

Dr. Donald H. Menzel, director of the Harvard Observatory and a world solar authority, took aloft with him 10 Harvard freshmen students and a Radcliffe coed.

The greatest concentration of scientific minds and instruments was on Mt. Jandia in the Canary Islands. There American, British, Dutch, German and Spanish scientists sought to photograph and analyze the eclipse.

The most recent eclipse of the sun was last Oct. 12. It was visible only in parts of South America. The next, Feb. 15, 1961, will be visible in sections of Europe.

MINTON CRITICAL

NEW ALBANY, Ind. (UPI) — Former U.S. Supreme Court Justice Sherman Minton remained in critical condition Friday from the effects of a heart attack suffered Wednesday in his home. Minton, 68, neither improved nor worsened since condition reports were issued at St. Edward's Hospital Thursday. Nurses were on duty at his bedside on an around-the-clock basis.

Fox Scores For Rebs

West Monroe halfback Buck Fox, hidden under a maze of Yellow Jackets, knifes over from one yard out in the fourth quarter for the Rebel touchdown against Byrd last night. Identifiable players are the Rebs' Ronnie Farmer (10) and Byrd's Brian Parsons (12) and Sam Hillburn (56). West Monroe won, 21-6, for the first district 1-AAA decision. (Staff photo by Jim Julien)

MILETELLO SPARKS 21-6 VICTORY

Rebs Come From Behind For 1-AAA Win Over Byrd

By JIM CALHOUN
Staff Sports Writer

Reserve halfback Leon Miletello came off the bench in the third quarter to fire the West Monroe Rebels to a 21-6 come-from-behind victory over the Byrd Yellow Jackets for their first district 1-AAA win of the season here Friday night.

Stymied for two quarters by a sputtering offense and three fumbles, the Rebs came to life late in the third period. Miletello, a piston-legged 138-pounder, churned 37 yards on the last play of the third stanza to set up what proved to be the winning touchdown and added the clincher midway in the final quarter.

STATISTICS	Rebels	Yellow Jackets
First Downs	10	8
Yards Rushing	165	165
Passes	4-2	2-0
Yards Passing	33	0
Passes Int. by	0	0
Penalties	4-20	6-50
Fumbles lost	3	1
Punts	2-28.5	4-29

Miletello was the leading West Monroe rusher, picking up 55 yards in 6 tries, all of which came in the second half. John Moses, who split the uprights for the extra point after each Confederate touchdown chalked up 35 yards in 9 cracks at the gold-shirted Byrd line.

The West Monroe offense flopped miserably in the first half, accounting for only 55 yards on the ground. Only once did the Rebs pass midfield in the first two stanzas. Two completed passes from Farmer to end Fred Hooter and Moses moved the ball to Byrd's 41 just as the half ended.

The Jackets, sparked by the running of halfback Deam Mann and fullback Charles Beach moved for 120 yards on the ground in the first half. Their lone score came with 6:50 remaining in the second when speedy Tommy Gay took a handoff from his wingback slot and raced 22 yards for the go-ahead touchdown. Fred White's attempted conversion failed.

The first real Reb drive began just before the third quarter gun sounded. Fox took an enemy punt and dashed from his own 44 to the Bryd 45. Halfback Dwain picked up one yard.

Then Miletello broke loose and rambled 37 yards to the five. Three plays later Fox leaped over the center of the line from one yard out for the touchdown. Moses booted the point to make it 7-6.

That was all the Rebels needed, but they weren't satisfied. After the Jackets failed to move the ball, Moses took Beach's punt on his own 29 and, reversing his field three times, squirmed through a host of yellow shirted defenders to the 5-yard-line for a 66-yard return.

It took Miletello two tries to reach the end zone. Moses' kick barely made it over the crossbar.

Farmer bootlegged the ball over from nine yards out after a 49-yard march for the final score. Again Moses' kick hit the mark.

Mann was the game's leading gainer, racking up 82 yards in 10 bursts. Teammate Beach followed him with 55 yards gained in 15 tries.

Outstanding defensively for the invaders were guard Ray Burroughs who recovered two West Monroe fumbles and tackles Bill Burns and Jimmy Caskey.

For the home-standing Rebs it was center Butch Labrano, guards Jerry Harris and Lamar Greer and tackles Steve Hamm and Glen Bell.

The win evened the Rebs' season record at 2-2.

WITH LEMA

Casper Fires 64 To Tie For Lead

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Bill Casper Jr. fired an 8-under-par 64 and tied for first place at the halfway point in the $20,000 Centennial Open. He shared the lead with young Tony Lema at 133.

Casper—his putting work at its best—almost equaled the 63-stroke course record for professionals. But a 10-foot putt on the 18th green hung on the lip of the cup.

The U.S. Open champion from Apple Valley, Calif., wasn't the only threat to Lema, the 25-year-old from San Leandro, Calif., who grabbed the first-round lead Thursday with a 65. Lema had a 68 Friday.

Veteran Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif., also had a 64. Coupled with a 70, it gave him runner-up spot at 134.

Behind them came Al Besselink of Grossinger, N.Y., Jim Ferree of Crystal River, Fla., and Bob Duden of Oswego, Ore., all at 136.

Then came Don January of Denver, Colo., Dick Knight of San Diego, Calif., and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., all at 137.

Casper didn't slip over par on a single hole. He was 5-under on the first nine and then picked up three more birdies on the back nine to go 8-under on the par 35-37—72 Portland Golf Club course.

"It's the best one I've shot in a long time," the easy-going Casper said. "I pulled tremendously."

Caster was in trouble but once, that was when a drive struck a tree on the second hole. But he was able to gain a par on the hole.

Lema, never a winner in two years on the tournament trail, was even par on the front nine, but 4 under on the back nine to salvage a tie.

The leaders:

FOURTH WIN

Neville Humbles Farmers, 40-13

FARMERVILLE, La. (Special)—Neville's unbeaten Tigers mauled winless Farmerville, 40-13, here last night for their fourth victory of the season.

Quarterback Joe Turner started the scoring for Neville's district 2-AA champions, running 10 yards into paydirt in the first quarter.

Joe Cage rammed one yard for another score in the second and Dooley Haddad took a pass from Cage for 37 yards and another first-quarter touchdown.

Haddad tallied again in the second when he dashed 55 yards from scrimmage. Cage was successful on his third of four conversion to make it 27-0.

Farmerville scored in the second when halfback Kirby Morris rambled 29 yards into the end zone. Quarterback Joe Albritton kicked the extra point and it was 27-7 at the half.

In the third period, Cage scored again, dashing 35 yards for a touchdown and kicked the extra point to give him a personal total of 16 points for the night.

Farmerville tallied again in the final half with Albritton sneaking over from two-yards out. Albritton missed the conversion try.

Reserve back R. F. Wilson added the final Neville touchdown with a 36-yard scamper in the final period. Mickey Cox missed the conversion try.

Tackle Jack Youngblood stood out for Neville on defense and Cox was one of the top blocker in the line.

Neville had only a slight edge in first downs, 14 to 12, but was in control all the way. Reserves saw most of the action for Bill Ruple's Tigers.

21 TO 6

Ouachita Whips Hope, Arkansas

HOPE, Ark. (Special) — Ouachita swiped a pass and recovered a fumble in the last quarter to set up two touchdowns on the way to a 21-6 victory over Hope here Friday night.

After a scoreless first half that saw neither team threatening, Ouachita pushed over the first touchdown with a 60-yard drive climaxed by Woody Mahoney's 11-yard dash around left end for a touchdown. Bobby Hendrix kicked the first of three extra points.

STATISTICS	Hope	Ouachita
First Downs	9	10
Yards Rushing	181	121
Passes	6-1	12-6
Passes Int. By	0	1
Fumbles Lost	1	2
Punting	6-33	5-36
Penalties	1-15	2-20

Hope jumped back with their touchdown in the period, driving 76 yards with halfback Eddie King sprinting 45 for the touchdown.

The extra point attempt failed and Ouachita led at the end of the third period, 7-6.

Hope threatened in the fourth, grinding to the Ouachita 15-yard line. Harry Crowe picked off a pass and returned 67 yards to the Hope 18. Hendrix sneaked three yards several plays later and added the extra point for a 14-6 lead.

In the fading moments of the contest, Ouachita's Billy Rushing recovered a fumble by Ralph Smiley on the Hope 32 and Hendrix ran 20 yards for the touchdown in the last minute. Hendrix converted to make it 21-6.

The win was the second in three tries for Bob Ellen's Lions and the loss was Hope's third in four games.

Ellen, who once starred at halfback in his high school days at Hope, was carried off the field after the game on the shoulders of his players.

High School Grid Results

PANTHERS WIN, 12-0

MANGHAM, La. (Special) — Lake Providence took a big step toward the district 2-B title with two last quarter touchdowns and a 12-0 victory over loop rival Mangham here Friday night.

Bill Burton's 30-yard run to the Mangham 15 set up the first Panther touchdown, scored by Gene Edmondson from six yards out.

Leon Overby, an all-district guard last year, dashed 50 yards with a pitchout from Burton for the final touchdown. Overby was almost gone before the home-standing Dragons knew who had the ball.

Lake Providence missed both extra points.

Coach Armed Mathews' Mangham club had the edge in first downs, 7 to 5, an advantage compiled largely by a good passing attack.

Jerry Smith and Ellis Wilson were outstanding in the Mangham line.

The victory was Lake Providence's second in district play against no losses. Jim Herrington's Panthers have only Southside and Columbia to play in the district.

BERNICE 41, HAUGHTON 20

BERNICE, La. (Special) Bernice High considered itself on the rebound in district 1-B football last night with a 41-20 conquest of Haughton.

Bernice, with a 2-1 conference mark for the season, had taken its lone league loss from Plain Dealing which had in turn been beaten by Haughton. In conquering Haughton last night, Coach Johnny Emmons credited his Bernice athletes with a "fine team effort, good blocking and tackling all night."

Morris Reeves and Jimmy Harris each scored two touchdowns for Bernice, both of Harris' runs on 57 and 47-yard dashes. Reeves ran for one and 11. They each converted twice. Sam Johnson romped 34 yards for a third quarter TD and converted once, and Fred Marsh went two yards for a Bernice TD.

A passing combination of Ison to Hollis accounted for two Haughton TD', one on a 60-yard play in the second quarter and the other on a 78-yard play in the final period. Garrett also added a fourth quarter touchdown and accounted for two extra points for the visitors.

WINNSBORO BEATEN

RAYVILLE, La. (Special) — Rayville's Hornets ended Winnsboro's winning streak at three here last night with a 27-6 district 2-A victory.

Rayville, beaten only by Bastrop, jumped to a 14-0 lead on touchdowns in the first and second periods.

Guard Sam Wright set up the initial Hornet TD by intercepting a Wildcat pass on the Winnsboro 20. Halfback Bobby Martin ran into the end zone on the next play and Billy Miller kicked the PAT.

Fullback Red Mayo ran up the middle for six yards and the second Rayville TD in the second period and Miller converted again to make it 14-0.

Winnsboro came back to score when Allen Parks ran over from the one. The TD was set up by a 30-yard pass from Joe Henry to Johnny Sisk to the one.

After a scoreless third period, Rayville wrapped up the game with two touchdowns in the fourth. Halfback Will Ed Jones dashed 35 yards on a brilliant run for one TD after taking a pass from Stuart Dyer and Dyer ran six yards for the final score. Miller converted after the last TD.

TALLULAH 35, OAK GROVE 6

OAK GROVE, La. (Special) — The Tallulah offense was more than the Oak Grove defense could handle and the state Class A champion Trojans marched over the Tigers, 35-6, in their conference game here last night.

Carl Williamson went 60 yards for the first Tallulah touchdown in the first quarter, and moments later Ed Island intercepted an Oak Grove pass and ran 20 yards to score.

Modell O'Neal plunged one yard for Oak Grove's only touchdown in the second quarter, and in the same period Tallulah's Tommy Neumann romped for two touchdowns, and in the third period Leonard Neumann galloped 60 yards on a reverse play for another TD.

Jerry Fairbanks picked the point behind every Tallulah TD, five of them.

Oak Grove, showing fairly well on offense and twice losing the ball on fumbles on Tallulah's one, didn't have enough defense to contain the champs.

MINDEN ROMPS

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — Fullback Bobby Ashley gained 205 yards in 18 carries to lead once-beaten Minden to a 26-0 victory over Jonesboro-Hodge here last night.

Halfback Sherburn Sentell opened the scoring for Minden, beaten only by Ruston, with a one-yard plunge with 3:45 left in the first period. Bill Gray kicked the extra point.

With 20 seconds left in the first stanza, Minden tallied again with Ashley going four yards. Early in the third period, Ashley scored again with a 32-yard jaunt.

Early in the last period, Edwin Greer passed 45 yards to Sentell for the final TD. Gray converted.

WISNER, 26-6

SICILY ISLAND (Special) — The spectacular touchdown run was in vogue here last night, and the style seemed to fit Wisner fine, as they galloped to a 26-6 victory over Sicily Island.

Wisner's Mike Caldwell broke loose in the first quarter and ran 60 yards for the first touchdown. The extra point try failed.

Kenneth Thornhill started things moving again in the second quarter, shooting a pass to fullback Jerry Ensminger who poured on the coal in a 70-yard trip that counted for six. Quarterback Sonny Bondurant ran through for the extra point.

Caldwell, on a 60-yard breakthrough, scored early in the third quarter with Buddy Powell, right halfback running the extra point. The final Wisner score came when Sicily Island fumbled a kickoff and Powell powered for 30 yards and the TD.

Sicily Island's lone tally came in the fourth stanza via a 25-yard pass from halfback Charles Miller to his co-halfback Johnny Young who traveled the remaining six yards for paydirt. The extra point try was no good.

BLOCK IN RUNAWAY

JONESVILLE, La. (Special) — Fullback Tad Egloff ran for two touchdowns the hard way, 70 yards for the first and 80 for the second, as Block's Bears clawed Vidalia, 45-0, in a district 3-B battle here last night.

Quarterback Billy Brooks scored first for Block, going one yard in the first period. Halfback Billy Edwards kicked the extra point and later ran 35 yards for another touchdown in the second period.

Egloff got off on his 70-yard jaunt in the second, and Brooks went one yard again for a third-period score. Edwards kicked both PATs.

Edwards sprinted 75 yards on a punt return for another touchdown before Egloff dashed 80 yards for his second.

Halfback G. S. Fairbanks ran 65 yards for a touchdown that was called back because of a penalty but scored for keeps on a 10-yard jaunt later.

Edwards also had a TD called back, a 55-yard run in the second period.

Jim Stringer and David Rachel starred in the Vidalia backfield.

Block gained 450 yards rushing to Vidalia's 174.

WINNFIELD WINS

WINNFIELD (Special) — The Winnfield Tigers trounced LaSalle of Olla 25 to 6 here last night and all but sewed up the District 1-A Conference Crown.

The victory gave Winnfield a 3-0 record in 1-A loop play with two more conference games to go.

It was quarterback Mike Tinnerello who opened Winnfield's scoring when he connected to Jerry Burch for a 26-yard scoring pass late in the first period.

LaSalle took over in the second and drove to the Winnfield 18 where fullback Johnny Higgins went over for the score. Halfback Jerry Ingram got a low pass from center and was tackled before he could make the PAT.

With the score 6 and 6, Winnfield bounced back in the same quarter and sent fullback Bennie Canerday over from the one-yard line.

Tinnerello's pass to Tommy Wyatt for the PAT was too low making the score 12-6 Winnfield.

Late in the third quarter, Tinnerello took things in his own hands and plunged over from the one-yard line for a touchdown, but fullback Gerald Bryant failed on a run up the middle for the PAT, leaving the score 18-6 Winnfield.

With two minutes remaining, Winnfield took over on the LaSalle 38 yard line, and with second and 8, halfback James Collins got loose for 38 yards around right end to score.

This time, Willie Carter ran over the point, making it 25 to 6 and a hopeless case for LaSalle.

Winnfield will take a second record of 3-1 to Ruston next weekend and will return home Nov. 6 against Natchitoches.

DELHI 12, FERRIDAY 0

FERRIDAY, La. (Special) — The Delhi Bears, a pre-season choice as the club most likely to unseat state championship Tallulah in the district Class A race, converted two Ferriday fumbles into touchdowns here last night to paste the Bulldogs, 12 to 0.

Twice Ferriday's fine defense had spiked Delhi drives at the Bulldog one when, in the second quarter Ferriday's Carl Chapman fumbled and Delhi's Ken Newton recovered and scampered 16 yards to score.

In the fourth quarter Ferriday's Billy Clifton fumbled, and Delhi's Charles Hixson, a tackle, scooped up the ball and rambled 75 yards to paydirt.

BASTROP FALLS

BOSSIER, La. (Special) — Bossier opened its bid for the district 1-AAA title with a 28-13 victory over Bastrop's determinded Rams last night in a game marred by frequent fumbles.

Four touchdowns, two by each team, were set up by fumbles.

Bossier opened the scoring in the first period when Tommy Taylor capped a 54-yard drive with a five-yard burst through tackle. Taylor ran over the extra point.

Early in the second period, Bastrop tied the score after Gary Cox had recovered a Bossier fumble on the Cat 33. Jerry Hollis scored from five yards out then Charles Burks kicked the point to tie the score at 7-all.

Bossier took a halftime lead after recovering a fumble on the Boastrop 15. Bill Alley went 15 yards for the touchdown and Dennis Kile lunged across for the extra point.

After a scoreless third quarter, Bastrop cut the Cat margin to 14-13 early in the fourth chapter. Winfred Day recovered a fumbled punt on the Bossier 22 and four plays later, Charles McGee went one yard for the TD. Burks' try for point fizzled.

Bossier roared back and went 59 yards in eight plays for the clinching score. Tommy Cook ran 16 yards for the touchdown. Taylor ran for the 21st point.

With 42 seconds left, Bossier's Bill McClung scored Emmett Irby's fumble on the Cat 10 and raced 90 yards to score. Alley ran the PAT.

Bossier led in first downs, 15-12, and in total offense, 241 to 182. Bastrop's total was the most ammassed against Bossier this year.

WATERPROOF 13, DAVIDSON 0

ST. JOSEPH, La. (Special) The Waterproof Tigers, finding the Davidson Warriors putting up one of the best battles ever offered by the St. Joseph school, squeezed out a 13-0 triumph over the Warriors here last night.

It wasn't until the closing minutes of the first half that Bennie Lopoo broke free for Waterproof's opening wedge, galloping 75 yards for a touchdown. Jackie Hopkins added the point.

A 25-yard pass play, with Moss pitching and Mike Martion catching, brought the Tigers their second TD.

A third quarter Davidson touchdown was erased by a penalty.

COLUMBIA, 26-0

NEWELLTON (Special) —Columbia downed Newellton to the tune of 26 to 0 here last night.

In the first quarter right halfback Odis Darden scampered 40 yards to pay dirt and tackle Doublas Crockett booted the extra point.

Halfback Glen Haddox ground out a four-yard touchdown in the third quarter, but the kick for the extra point was blocked by Newellton.

Scoring picked up again in the fourth quarter when quarterback Dennis Dannell scooted 21 yards for a touchdown. Again the extra point try ended in failure.

Just before time ran out the Darden-Crockett combination clicked again for seven more points. This time Darden scurried 36 yards for his second touchdown.

Tech's Sophs Favorites To Beat Clemson

ATLANTA (AP) — Can Georgia Tech's sophomore-spotted Yellow Jackets play better than they know how in two straight football games?

Coach Bobby Dodd said Friday unless they do he's afraid Tech is in for a long, rough afternoon against rugged Clemson Saturday.

"They'll have to come up with as good a game as they played against Southern Methodist (Tech's 16-12 victim last week)," said Dodd. "We've got 13 sophomores in the first two teams. They surprised me with their fine play against SMU. With the kind of spirit they've shown, they can—and I hope they do—surprise me again this week."

Although Clemson is ranked sixth nationally, one notch ahead of Tech, the host Jackets are favored by a whiser. The 44,174-seat stadium is sold out.

Clemson stacks up as much stronger than the 1958 team which Tech upset 13-0. Neither of the Tigers' top quarterbacks was healthy last year but both Harvey White and Lowndes Shingler are rarin' to go this time. Their passing and the strong running of Bill Mathias, George Usry and Doug Cline give the Tigers a dangerous two-way attack.

Tech, a shade faster than the slightly heavier Tigers, may do more passing than usual because injuries have depleted its halfback corps. That could bring quarterback Jimmy Sides into the offensive picture for the first time this season. Normally used only on defense, Sides has been passing better than any other quarterback except Fred Braselton, star of the SMU upset.

Colo. Mines Back Leading Offense Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Vince Tesome of Colorado School of Mines, who has accounted for 69 per cnet of his team's yardage, tops the nation's small colleges in total offense.

Tesome, who also ranks fifth in punting, has gained 255 yards rushing and 288 yards passing in three games, the NCAA Service Bureau figures showed Friday.

Other individual leaders include Allan Lewis of St. Benedict's, (Kan.), topping the ball carriers with 366 yards; Ron Costello of Xavier (Ohio), leading the passer with 29 completions; Bill Hughes of Pacific University, heading the pass catchers with 14 grabs and Joe Roy of New Mexico Highlands, who has averaged 48.5 yards on 12 punts.

Walt Beach of Central Michigan, Garney Henley of Huron, S.D., and Joe Womack of Los Angeles State each have scored six touchdowns, but Beach, with four PAT's to his credit, leads the scorers with 40 points.

Joe Denone of Geneva, Pa., is the passing accuracy leader with 70 per cent completions, and his six touchdown passes also are tops. Terry O'Brien of McMurry, Tex., has the most passing yardage—454.

Although Bowling Green, Ohio, and New Hampshire lead in total offense with 494 and 467 yards, respectively, they have played only one game each. Xavier, (Ohio), has averaged 463.7 for three games, and McMurry 457 for three games

Los Angeles Confident of Dodger Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "We're gonna win the Series, Mister!"

A hard-bitten Dodger fan clinched his cigar in his teeth Friday and gave voice to the wave of confidence which swept through the City of Angeles.

Word of the Dodgers' first World Series victory sent the big cheer rolling across the city — a city where radios played even in libraries and funeral homes, and portables seemed to wire every bellboy, elevator operator and newspaper vendor for sound.

"Please, the score," pleaded the Weather Bureau's Los Angeles office, via teletype, of the bureau's International Airport facility. "We're in a tomb here."

Back came the score. "Welll, welll, and another welll." replied the downtown office — where the Federal Building's thick walls blocked radio reception. "Thanks for the pleasant news."

Actor Rayford Barnes emerged from a Hollywood set where a TV film was shooting and slapped his forehead at word of the 4-3 victory.

"I'll be a son-of-a-gun," he groaned. "A guy offered me the Dodgers at 5-1 when the score was 2-2, and I didn't take it: I should've known they'd do it."

"Another coronary" was the way a downtown cigar counter clerk described the game. "4 to 3 They're gettin' worse than the Rams!"

NEAL, ESSEGIAN

Series Heroes Have Things In Common

CHICAGO (AP) — The two heroes of Friday's Los Angeles Dodgers' 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox in the World Series had two things in common:

Candor, and an admission that didn't know what pitches they hit for homers.

If they can be believed, neither Charlie Neal nor Chuck Essegian had a single thought in his head as he trotted grandly around the bases.

"I wasn't trying to hit homers," said Neal. "I didn't know what I hit. The first one I knew was gone but the second one (a powerful drive to center that carried more than 420 feet and put the Dodgers ahead 4-2) I wasn't sure about."

"I'm not sure what I hit either," said Essegian.

Then to the obvious question, if this was his biggest thrill of baseball, he said with a sly grin, "I'll have to say that."

After all it was a pinch-hit homer to tie the score and you can't do much better than that.

Someone asked him about his football days at Stanford, and Dodger teammates in the background took up the chant:

"Essegian is back in the Rose Bowl, fellows. He's talking Stanford again."

Neal is 28, stands 5-10, and is listed on the roster as weighing 160, but he admitted Friday he is down to 155—15 pounds below his peak weight. He was born in Compton, Calif.

"Nothing wrong with my weight, just comes from playing steady," he said.

Essegian, a star linebacker at Stanford who might have sought a career in pro football instead of baseball, is 27, also stands 5-10, weighs 200 and looks it. He is another native Californian, having been born in Los Angeles.

Neal has prominent gold dental work, a coffee colored skin, and speaks in a soft voice.

"This," he said, "is my best year. Chuck Dressen helped me with my hitting. I used to swing for the fence all the time and he made me choke up on the bat, about an inch.

"He put a big wad of tape at the end of my bat so I couldn't get my grip down to the end."

"That's right," said Coach Dressen, the former Dodger manager. "He used to hold the bat at the end and his hand would slip over the end when he swung. Choking up sure hasn't cost him any power. He gets plenty of that the way he throws the head of the bat out."

Neal has an easy, lashing swing that packs a terrific wallop—the kind that is more associated with baseball's 225-pounders than with a slender second baseman.

In Thursday's game Neal missed one home run down the left field line that went foul by a few feet, and a second near the same spot.

He uses a 30-ounce bat.

"It's a Pee Wee Reese model," he said. "Pee Wee was using one a little heavier when we were in Brooklyn, and I ordered one a little lighter than his.

He wears shinguards.

"I got a bad leg," he said. "The way my skin is, when I get cut it takes a long time to heal."

Neal's two homers — only four times prior to Friday has a National Leaguer hit two an a single Series game — helped take the string off a play in the first inning that might very well have been the turning point of the game.

Luis Aparicio had led off with a double and advanced to third on Nelson Fox's fly. Jim Landis drew a walk and at this juncture big Ted Kluszewski rapped a grounder at Neal. It looked like a double play that would end the inning.

Neal grabbed the ball only to have it squirt out of his hands. He pounced on it and managed to throw out Kluszewski at first. But Aparicio scored and a moment later Landis came home on Sherman Lollar's single to put the Sox ahead 2-0.

"The ball came up on me," said Neal. "This is a bad infield. No, I wasn't watching the runners. You couldn't catch the ball if you did."

Neal said that Bob Shaw, the starting Sox pitcher, "had plenty of good stuff—sinkers and sliders," and Pee Wee Reese added that when a pitcher gets hit hard it does not necessarily mean he is losing his stuff—"Maybe he just can't put the ball where he wants it."

Smiling faintly, Neal agreed with Essegian that this was his "happiest day in baseball."

Minorities, Small Towners Benefit

By EDWARD COWAN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government is expanding its program to help people in small towns and members of minority groups get home loans.

With $290,000 appropriated by Congress for personnel, the Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program (VHMCP) is going to double its staff—from 19 to 40.

The VHMCP is the smallest and least known of the government's several housing programs.

Congress set it up in 1954 to reduce the demand for direct GI home loans from the government. Since it began in January, 1955, the program has helped 40,000 families obtain some 400 million dollars in home loans.

There are offices in Washington, Atlanta, Dallas, Chicago and San Francisco.

The $10,000 average mortgage size shows that the program aids mainly home buyers in moderate income categories. (By the traditional rule of thumb, a family with a $4,000 income could carry a $10,000 mortgage.)

The loans are made by private lenders—banks, insurance companies, savings associations, etc. No government money is involved and VHMCP does not charge borrowers for its services.

However, only applications for FHA-insured of VA-guaranteed mortgages are processed through VHMCP. Conventional loans are barred.

The program authorized in the Housing Act of 1954, is intended to help make mortgage money accessible to people in small communities and to members of minority groups who cannot obtain loans on terms as favorable as are generally available to others in the area.

By helping such prospective borrowers find private financing, the government eases the demand for direct GI loans.

Joseph B. Graves Jr., executive secretary of the VHMCP National Committee, believes the program has served still another purpose: to show private lenders that a home buyer from a small town or rural area, or who is a member of a minority group, is as good a credit risk as anyone else in comparable financial circumstances.

"We have shown that the delinquency rate is as low on well checked loans to the people we serve as on loans to the general public," Graves said.

He added that his program's placement figures show that lenders agree. Since it started, VHMCP has placed about two out of five mortgage applications it referred to lenders. But in the past 18 months, Graves said, the ratio has been about three out of five. VHMCP forwards loan applications to lenders only if the prospective borrower has sought financing from two local or nearby lenders without success.

Negro Sought Found Friday

HAMMOND, La. (AP)—A Negro man wanted in connection with the rape of a 40-year-old Hammond white woman was caught near here Friday.

Clarence Wilson admitted his identity when confronted by Charles Gianoblé, who held a gun on the Negro until sheriff's officers arrived.

Producer To Buck Top TV Westerns

By JOE FINNIGAN
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Probably one of the bravest men in TV these days is the producer of an untried series which debuts Saturday night against two top-rated horse operas.

"We're not kidding ourselves at all," says Herbert Bayard Swope Jr., as he turns his tiger, "Five Fingers," loose against "Gunsmoke" and "Have Gun Will Travel."

Swope's hour-long spy thriller series stars David Heddison and Luciana Paluzzi, a comely Italian miss.

"We don't expect success over night against two first-rate westerns," he said. "But we do expect interest.

"Furthermore, we're in a position to develop scope because we are the challenger. We should pick up a good audience by using suspense and adventure combined with romance and humor."

HAS NEW IDEAS

Even though he's the underdog in the battle for TV's elusive ratings, Swope knows, from bitter experience, that he can come out on top.

"I produced a New York TV show called "Lights Out" in 1952 and 'I Love Lucy' came along and knocked it out of the ratings," he pointed out. "So, you see, it is possible for a new series to win out against the established ones.

"Also, we've got some ideas that are unique," he said. "We've been picking guest stars who do well in other areas of entertainment and placing them in different roles.

"For instance, Edgar Bergen plays a Swiss agent who doubles as a ventriloquist. Even his pal, 'Charlie McCarthy' is doing a different part.

DUMMY PLAYS DUMMY

"He'll portray 'Wackernagel', another dummy," Swope laughed. "Then, we have opera star Salvatore Baccaloni in the role of an Italian spy who sings 'Dixie.' And Monty Wooley is the head of a spy ring."

Besides the aforementioned, Herb plans to line up other top personalities in unusual characterizations.

"We hope to use people like Milton Berle, Jack Paar, Steve Allen, Peggy Lee and Celeste Holm in straight dramatic roles," he explained. "One group feels that top performers like something different for a change of pace."

Herb may have hit upon something. TV could use a "change of pace."

Tattoo Parlors Are Ordered To Clean Facilities

NEW YORK (UPI) — Health officials Friday ordered tattoo parlors to clean up or close their doors.

A 17-year-old boy died this week after picking up a deadly virus from unclean tattooing needles.

An inspection of six tattoo parlors revealed that all were operating "in seriously unclean and unsanitary condition and lacking in suitable sanitary facilities," the health department said. It recommended that they shut down now pending the introduction of safer practices.

Anthony Wiszuk died Tuesday in Queens General Hospital from hepatitis, a dangerous liver disease he contracted after being tattooed with an unsterilized needle, the health department charged. He was the city's first tattoo death.

New Society Hopes To Kill 'John' Complex

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Let's Have Better Mottoes Association announced today its selection of the motto for October — "Please don't talk while I'm interrupting."

E. V. Roberts, secretary of the local chapter, said the following were also - rans in monthly competition:

"Why worry about the boss —he's not afraid of you?"

"I like the way you put it—simple."

"Do it the ethical way unless there's no chance of getting caught."

"I think all the time, but I never think of anything."

Roberts said a new group would be formed within the association and that all members named John were invited to join. The group will be known as the society for the prevention of calling bathrooms "Johns."

BILLY GRAHAM

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — An 80,000-word account of evangelist Billy Graham's tour of Australia and New Zealand this year has been produced by the Anglican dean of Melbourne, Dr. S. Barton Babbage, in collaboration with free lance newsman Ian Siggins. It is being sent to Graham's headquarters in the United States.

Ala. Group Studying Race Issue

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Legislature's Racial Screening Committee Friday recommended passage of legislation to give the governor power to close the schools to prevent integration.

But committee members, conferring with Gov. John Patterson, suggested an amendment striking out a provision which would give the chief executive sole authority to reopen the schools once closed.

The Screening Committee cannot actually amend a bill, but it passes on all measures affecting segregation before other standing committees take formal action.

Two bills were involved in Friday's deliberations. One gives the governor the right to close public schools. The other permits him to shut down institutions of higher learning.

The committee recommended leaving it up to the local boards to reopen the schools, explaining it might invite federal court intervention if only the governor could do it.

Committee members explained that if the governor alone could close and reopen the schools, the courts might construe that to mean that the state operates them.

Under a recent ruling in Virginia, a federal court panel has held that if the state operates the schools, they must remain all closed or all open.

Ceylon Restores Death Penalty In Murder Cases

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — One week after the assassination of Prime Minister Solomon Bandaranaike, the government Friday restored the death penalty for murder.

Bandaranaike had made life imprisonment the maximum sentence, by administrative decree, after Ceylon's Parliament split on a bill to abolish capital punishment.

Louisiana Tech To Play Cowboys

LAKE CHARLES, La. (Special) — Louisiana Tech, hailed by many as the second best college football team in Louisiana, will help the McNeese State College Cowboys open their home season Saturday night.

The Cowboys and Bulldogs are scheduled to hook up in Lake Charles high school's stadium at 8 p.m.

Tech has always been a difficult foe for McNeese to cope with and the 1959 Bulldog edition is not expected to prove an exception. In seven meetings since the clubs started playing each other in 1952, coach Joe Aillet's Techsters have walked off with six decisions.

McNeese's only break-through came in 1957, the year the 'Pokes nabbed a share of the Gulf States Conference title, in a 13-6 contest. Tech rambled to a 17-0 triumph over the Cowboys last fall.

Both teams enter Saturday's contest with 1-1 won-lost records. Tech opened its season by bowing to Lamar Tech 13-6, but came roaring back in fine fettle last weekend to wallop a touted Arkansas State club 35-0.

McNesse has last to Northwestern State 19-6 and defeated Stephen F. Austin State 20-7 in its two starts.

Louisiana Tech will put on display what is probably the Gulf States Conference's most impressive backfield Saturday night. The Bulldog power attack is geared to the running of halfback Paul Hynes, a 190-pound junior from Sulphur who has belted enemy lines for 161 yards in 24 carries this season. Hynes led the conference in rushing last year.

Halfback J. W. Slack, fullback Max Rudd and quarterback Taylor McNeel, all of whom weigh 190 or more, will probably round out the backfield Aillet will start against McNeese.

In the line, Tech is strongest at end, where Charlie Garris, Jerry Hudson and Tom Causey head up a delegation of six returning lettermen. Tackle Bobby Hinton, his cousin, Joe Hinton, a guard, and tackle Bobby Hudson, the biggest Bulldog starter at 220 pounds, are Tech's interior line standouts.

Coach Les DeVall expects his starting McNeese unit to be back at full strength for the Tech tussle. Quarterback Don Breaux and fullback Harold Thomas missed last week's game with Stephen F. Austin after suffering injuries but are expected to be in shape to play Saturday.

McNeese hasn't come up with any spectacular individual offensive performers thus far. Sophomore Ted Brevelle of Oakdale is the leading ground gainer, with 63 yards in 10 carries. Breaux and sophomore Nolan Viator of Sulphur have each started one game at quarterback and have each completed three passes for 62 and 51 yards, respectively.

COLTS SCORE HIGH

Chicago Issued 17-Point Warning

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Chicago Bears had better plan on scoring more than 17 points in Saturday night's football game against the Baltimore Colts.

They'll lose if they don't, figures Coach Weeb Ewbank.

He believes his Colts can successfully defend their National Football League championship if they limit opponents to 17 points or less a game.

"We're not trying to set any defensive records for stopping our opponents," he points out.

Besides, "we will be run against sometimes. But we feel the running game isn't going to hurt as much as the passing game, so we concentrate on the passing in our defense."

The Bears and Colts will hold the spotlight before an estimated 57,000 fans, since the other five NFL games this week end will be played Sunday. Cleveland is at the Chicago Cardinals. Detroit visits Green Bay. Los Angeles is at San Francisco. New York at Philadelphia and Washington at Pittsburgh.

Ewbank's analysis was borne out in last Sunday's opener. Detroit took a 9-0 lead largely on the running option exercised by quarterback Tobin Rote. That was all the Lions could score while the Colts went for 3 touchdowns and intercepted 5 passes.

The Bears should respect Ewbank's strategy by now. The Colts have won the last four games between the two teams, and in 3 of them the Bears were held to 10, 14 and no points.

Chicago Coach George Halas ought to be worried, too. His Bears could score only two field goals in losing last Sunday to Green Bay. The vaunted Chicago running game, resting largely on Rick Casares and Willie Galimore, made only 75 yards.

Their passing game, centered on the quarterback, still is unsettled with Coach Halas shifting among 3—Ed Brown, Zeke Bratkowski and Rudy Bukich.

The Colt aerial strength still lies in quarterback John Unitas. He tossed two for touchdowns last Sunday, marking the 26th straight game he had connected for at least one score.

The Bears need a victory or else face the serious prospect of being considered out of the Western Conference race by the time it is half over. Four of their next 5 games are against the Colts and Los Angeles Rams, expected to be another prime contender.

Mountaineers Tip Colonials By 10-8 Count

WASHINGTON (AP)—West Virginia pushed ahead on Carmen Pomponio's touchdown and John Thackston's field goal Friday night and then took the steam out of a George Washington comeback for a 10-8 Southern Conference football victory.

The Mountaineers moved ahead in the second quarter, driving 84 yards for a touchdown. Thackston kicked his field goal in the third period to clinch the victory.

Unable to move at all in the first half, George Washington finally got under way when quarterback Ed Hino started passing and connecting toward the end of the third quarter.

Hino completed a seven-yarder to Tom Haly for a touchdown with 6:45 to go in the game and the two-point conversion on a pass from Chuck Packan to Haly finally got the Colonials back in contention.

By that time it was too late. The Mountaineers held onto their slight edge for their 30th straight Southern Conference triumph.

Pomponio sneaked across from less than a yard out for West Virginia's touchdown early in the second period. The score topped off an 84-yard drive in 14 plays.

Thackston, whose field goal beat Richmond last Saturday, booted one from GW's 14 with 6:03 remaining in the third quarter to give West Virginia a 10-0 lead and enough of a bulge to protect its remarkable conference winning record that began in 1952.

Gomes Pounds Out Decision

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Harold Gomes, world junior lightweight champion, pounded out a workmanlike but unimpressive 10-round decision over Jay Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, in a non-title fight Friday night.

Gomes, counterpunching and using his left hook effectively, was the unanimous choice of the officials at the Rhode Island Auditorium.

Lions Heavy Favorite To Beat Indians

Talent-laden East Texas State, the nation's No. 1 small college football team, carries an eight-game winning streak into Brown Stadium tonight against the outmanned but determined Northeast Indians.

Game time for this, considered the game of the year in this area, is set for 8 p.m.

Contrasting records will be on the line as the powerful Lions from Commerce attempt to cement their hold on first place in the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics ratings, while the underdog Indians, stumbling along with two losses under their belts, could pull off the upset of the year with a victory.

Including a 26-7 win over Missouri Valley in the Tangerine Bolw last December, East Texas will be shooting for its 10th consecutive triumph over a two-year period. The Lions romped past Abilene Christian, 21-0, in the season opener two weeks ago and mowed down Southeastern, 21-10, last Saturday.

The Redskins, rebuilding from last year's surprise club which opened the season with six straight victories, are still searching for the win column. Arkansas State dumped them, 15-0, and Delta State squeezed out a 14-13 verdict here last week.

The contest could develop into a wide - open aerial circus with Lion handler Sam McCord, a Little All - America, at the quarterback slot. The 180 - pound senior passed 83 times for 41 completions and 9 touchdowns last year. The triple - threat also led the team in scoring with 50 points, rushed for 700 yards and punted 18 times for a 33.7 yard average.

If Slingin' Sam wants to throw, he'll have the biggest target on the field in 6'5½" end Dee Mackey, a 235-pound glue - fingered giant. Already drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers Mackey averaged 17.4 yards every time he grabbed a pass.

Add 20 returning lettermen to the McCord-Mackey passing combo and it's not hard to see why the Lions are ranked on top.

Joining McCord in the ETS backfield will probably be halfbacks Tony Mandina (188) and Dan Malone and fullback Doe Dever (184).

Dever was the team's top rusher last year with 402 yards and a 4.8 average. Mandina, playing part - time averaged 5.1 and Malone ran at a 4.5 clip.

Anchored by Mackey, tackles Bobby Parker (207) and Jerry Williamson (205), guard Jerry Peveto (202) and center Jon Gilliam (210), the East Texas forward wall will average 207 pounds per man. Lightweight Bill Hopkins (170) at end and 181-pound dynamo Jim Farmer at guard round out the line.

Northeast head coach Jack Rowan, using the two-platoon system, was undecided yesterday on which unit would get the starting role tonight.

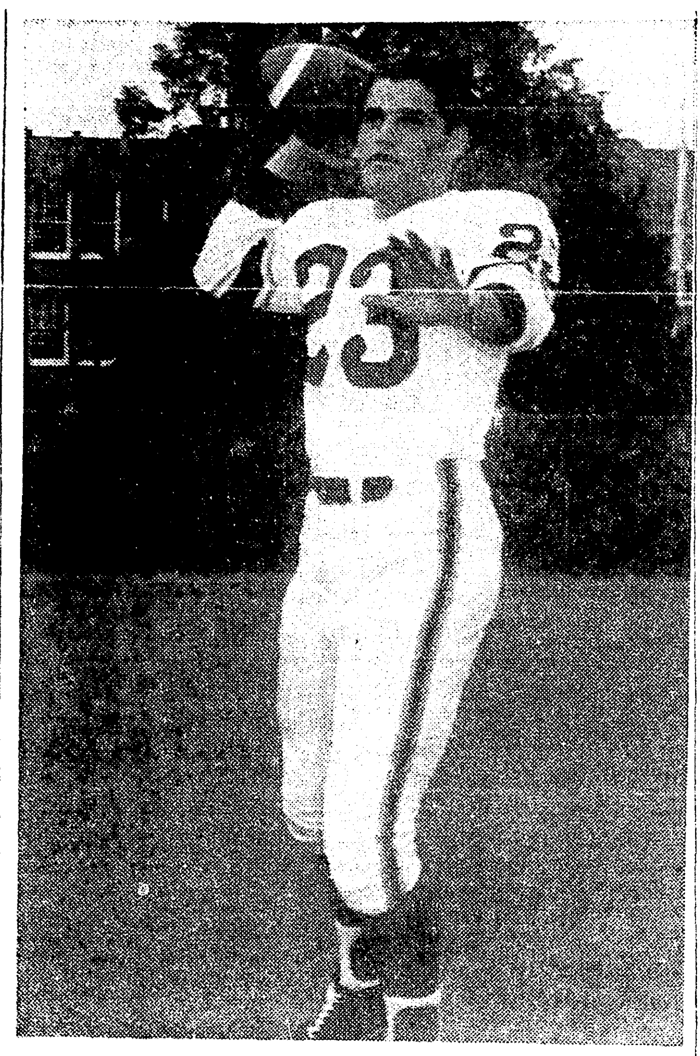
The Apache squad, with quarterback Bob Randel at the reins, were the starters in the first two games but the alternate unit Comanches showed speed and aggressiveness in practice this week and may be on the field at the opening kickoff.

Combining with Randel in the Apache backfield are halfbacks Jim Laudadio (190) and Terry Reeves (150) and workhorse fullback Stewart Stover (210).

Laudadio leads the Tribe ground attack with 96 yards and a 6 yard average in two games. Reeves, also outstanding on defense, has a 3.5 mark and Stover has managed a 2.8 average with his bucks through the middle.

Robert Earle, the team's top pass receiver, and Pete Covington hold down the Apache end slots. Tackles Ben Tatum and Delmas Thorne, guards Wally Cox and Alfred Feeney and center Gary Marchbank complete the Apache eleven.

Tribe coaches report enthusiasm in the home camp at a peak, and a victory over the touted Lions would go a long way toward erasing the opening setbacks.



Leading Indian Runner

Jim Laudadio gets set to throw a pass here but the 190-pound senior halfback is Northeast's top ground gainer this year. Laudadio has carried the ball 16 times for 96 years and a 6.0 average. A field goal threat, Laudadio has attempted--but missed--the three-pointer three times this season. (Photo by Jim St. Julien)

Palermo Pays $100,000 Bail

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Frank (Blinky) Palermo Friday posted bail of $100,000 to guarantee his appearance in Los Angeles when he is called to answer charges that he tried to grab control of welterweight boxing champion Don Jordan.

The bail was posted by Palermo's attorney, Morton Witkin, at a brief hearing before U.S. District Judge Thomas Egan.

Palermo was indicted Sept. 22 in Los Angeles by a federal grand jury. Also named in the indictment were Frankie Carbo, Truman Gibson Jr., president of National Boxing Enterprises, and two lesser known Californians.

Palermo, a Philadelphia fight figure, surrendered to authorities here. He is accused of extorting $1,725 from Jackie Leonard, former Hollywood (Calif.) Legion Stadium boxing promoter, through threats of harm to Leonard and Jordan's manager, Don Nesseth.

TECH MEETS CLEMSON

Northwestern Plays Iowa In Top College Grid Game

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Northwestern's Wildcats, dreaming dreams of a Rose Bowl trip after their season-opening rout of Oklahoma, face a storng Iowa team Saturday that could be a king-sized spoiler.

Iowa went to the Rose Bowl last Jan. 1, so can't return. But the defending Big Ten champions can throw a big block into Northwestern's budding ideas of its first Rose Bowl appearance in a decade.

The game at Iowa City is the day's top college football contest on a schedule where some of the surprise teams of last week will have to "put up or shut up" against rugged competition.

Iowa last Saturday dispelled Coach Forest Evashevski's early season moaning that he need a quarterback, a halfback and some guards by whipping California, its opponent last New Year's Day, 42-14.

Olin Treadway and Wilburn Hollis proved adequate replacements to the graduated Randy Duncan quarterback while halfback Bob Jeter and fullback Dan Horn gave the backfield plenty of running "oomph."

This quartet, fronted by another fine line, will have to stop Coach Ara Parseghian's club that lambasted Oklahoma 45 - 13 and stamped itself as a real threat for the Big 10 title. The 'Cats are ranked No. 2 in the current Associated Press poll and Iowa is fifth.

Another pair in the top ten, Clemson No. 6 and Georgia Tech (No. 7), meet in Atlanta. Clemson is the kingpin of the Atlantic Coast Conference, beating chief contender North Carolina, then coming back to whip Virginia 47-0 for its second ACC victory behind quarterback Harvey White.

Quarterback Fred Brasleton led Tech to a surprising 16-14 victory over Southern Methodist, rated the best in the Southwest Conference, for its second straight victory. Tech has the stiffest defense Clemson has yet to face.

Top - ranked Louisiana State meets its third Southwest Conference foe in a row, Baylor at Shreveport, La. The Bayou Bengals took care of the first two—Rice and Texas Christian—and have reportedly strengthened their three-platoon attack.

Television viewers can watch unscored-upon Texas No. 10) play California at Austin, Tex., beginning at 4:30 p.m., EST. The Longhorns beat Nebraska 20-0, and Maryland 26-0. Cal beat Washington State 20-6 before its Iowa loss.

Third-ranked Mississippi should have an easy time against Memphis State. Army No. (4), the East's best, takes its lonesome end and explosive attack to Illinois.

Notre Dame (No. 8), which surprised with its comparatively easy victory over North Carolina, plays Purdue, which tied UCLA in its only start.

Tennessee, ranked ninth after stopping Auburn's 24-game unbeaten string, plays Mississippi State in one of the South's top games.

Syracuse plays Maryland in the East's best while UCLA travels to Pitt. Navy is at SMU and Auburn goes after another string against Hardin-Simmons in other Saturday action.

Other games Saturday:

EAST: Brown at Yale, Bucknell at Harvard, Princeton at Columbia, Lehigh at Cornell, Colgate at Penn State, Connecticut at Rutgers, Dartmouth at Penn, Villanova at Holy Cross.

SOUTH: Alabama at Vanderbilt, Virginia at Florida, Georgia at South Caroline, Rice at Duke, Miami at Florida State, North Carolina State at North Carolina, Wake Forest at Tulane, William & Mary vs. Virginia Tech, at Roanoke, Va., VMI vs. Richmond at Portsmouth, Va., Texas A&M vs. Miss. Southern at Mobile, Ala.

MIDWEST: Boston U. at Kansas, Marquette at Wisconsin, Michigan State at Michigan, Indiana at Minnesota, Missouri at Iowa State, Oklahoma State at Kansas State, Orgon State at Nebraska, Colordo at Oklahoma, Tulsa at Texas Tech.

SOUTHWEST: Texas Christian at Arkansas, Texas Western at New Mexico, Air Force at Trinity, Tex.

WEST: College of Pacific at Stanford, Idaho at Arizona, Denver at Colorado State, Washington State at Oregon, Utah State at Wyoming, Utah at Washington.

Griffith Says Senators Still Open To Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — Calvin Griffith, President of the Washington Senators, told the Washington Post Friday night he is still open to a move to Minneapolis.

Griffith, interviewed by the Post in Chicago during the second game of the World Series, said:

"We've always been open to offers which would improve our financial standing. I have not talked to the Minneapolis people since July. At the time, I said any offer would have to be submitted in writing.

"I understand from other sources that Minneapolis is ready to submit an offer in writing. When I get back from the World Series, I'll take the offer up with my board of directors and, if it's approved, we'll in turn ask the American League realignment committee for permission to move."

The Senators have until Oct. 31 to effect a franchise shift.

Griffith was asked if he was satisfied with this season's attendance of slightly more than 615,000 a gain of about 130,000 over last year.

"No, I'm not satisfied," Griffith answered.

The Sporting News in St. Louis had said the Senators, along plagued by low gate receipts, plan to move to Minneapolis in 1960.

Griffith told the Washington Post: "It's purely a matter of business.

"We're not making the money we should in Washington and if we can get a better proposition, we'll certainly have to look it over.

"This moving talk has come up for the last four World Series now. All I know is that we're still in Washington."

In a copyrighted story, the Sporting News, the baseball weekly, said Griffith had served notice of his plan to move on American Assn. President Ed Doherty and would advise the American League realignment committee during the World Series.

Prodres Missed Last Bum Series

CHICAGO (AP) — Johnny Podres, winning pitcher in Friday's second World Series game, had to wait a little longer than the other "old guard" Dodgers for another crack at the American League.

Johnny, whose 4-3 victory over the White Sox was his third consecutive Series' victory, was the pitching star of the '55 Dodger Series triumph over the New York Yankees. He beat them 8-3 and then 2-0 in the deciding game.

Then he was drafted into the Navy and had to sit out the '56 season and series when the Dodgers (still a Brooklyn team) lost the world championship back to the Yanks.

LSU Seeks 3rd Victory At Shreveport

By ED TUNSTALL

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Consider—with a shudder—the problems Baylor faces Saturday against Louisiana State:

1. LSU is the nation's No. 1 football team.
2. All-America halfback Billy Cannon is just one of LSU's many offensive weapons.
3. LSU hasn't lost a game in Shreveport in 30 years.
4. Baylor has never scored on an LSU team.

It's simple little things like these that drive a coach goofy, and Baylor Coach John Bridgers isn't a bit happy over his assignment at 2 p.m., CST. before a sellot crowd of 33,000.

LSU is a three-touchdown favorite and even this whopping spread may be an underestimation if the Tigers get their minds on the business at hand.

Tiger Coach Paul Dietzel, always lavish in praising opponents, believes pre-game estimates are way out of line. But to hear him tell it, LSU is in for a tough game.

Dietzel fears LSU may be looking past the Bears and to combat the languid attitude, Dietzel broke up his normal routine and ordered more work for his charges.

Cannon has yet to approach his All-America form this season, but he squelched a promising Texas Christian threat last week with a 77-yard runback of an intercepted pass. TCU bowed to the Tigers 10-0 with quarterback Warren Rabb connecting on a 46-yard scoring pass and sophomore halfback Wendell Harris booting a field goal.

Baylor has been singularly unsuccessful against LSU. In four games, LSU rolled up 193 points to none for Baylor and the 89-0 victory in 1908 is the top offensive effort in LSU history.

Ronnie Bull, one of the five sophomores in Baylor's starting lineup, gave impetus to the Baylor attack against Colorado with a 74-yard touchdown run last week in a 15-7 victory.

Baylor is the last of three Southwest Conference opponents for LSU. The Tigers opened the season by trimming Rice 26-3 before blanking TCU last week. After Miami next week, LSU swings into defense of its Southeastern Conference title against Kentucky.

Will Resign

Evashevski To Quit As Iowa Coach In 1963

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Coach Forest Evashevski, who built Iowa into one of the nation's top football powers, announced Friday he is resigning when his present contract expires in 1963.

The announcement, coming on the eve of Iowa's important Big Ten contest with Northwestern, took the entire university community by surprise.

About the only one concerned who had any advance knowledge of it was Mrs. Evashevski. She said her husband had told her of his decision.

The announcement was made in a brief letter from Evashevski to Harvey Davis, who is provost and acting as president of the university, and members of the Iowa board in control of athletics.

The letter gave no reason for the action and Evashevski said there would be no elaboration of the announcement.

The only hint was a sentence requesting permission of the board for Evashevski to "review any opportunities which are presented."

This was interpreted as meaning that Evashevski might be seeking either another position in sports or a business opportunity.

Evashevski's teams won the Big Ten Conference championship in 1956 and 1958 and followed them up each time with solid victories in the Rose Bowl. The Hawkeyes beat Oregon State 35-19 in the 1957 Rose Bowl and California 38-12 last New Year's Day.

The Hawkeyes last year led the nation in total offense with an average of 405.9 yards per game on the passing of All-America qarterback Randy Duncan and the running of a host of talented backs. The team was ranked No. 2 in the nation in the Associated Press poll.

Despite several losses by scholastic ineligibility — including Mitch Ogiego, Duncan's No. 1 understudy last year and scatback Willie Fleming — Iowa currently is ranked No. 5 in the nation on the strength of its 42-12 win over California in the season opener.

Since Evashevski started at Iowa, in 1952, his teams have compiled a record of 40 victories, 22 defeats and 4 ties. In the last three years it has been 14-3-1.

So unexpected was Evashevski's action that even Dr. Paul Brechler, director of athletics, said he was taken by surprise.

There had been reports of friction between Brechler and Evashevski. But Brechler said:

"Evy's decision to leave Iowa at the conclusion of his present contract is extremely regrettable. He will be a severe loss to the athletic department. In all phases of coaching, he is a genius."

Enos Slaughter, Mickey Vernon Put On Waivers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves Friday placed Mickey Vernon and Enos Slaughter on waivers.

General Manager John McHale said the club was asking waivers for the purpose of giving them their unconditional release.

Both men came to the Braves from the American League—Vernon from Cleveland, Slaughter from the Yankees—during the season as Milwaukee struggled to strengthen its bench for the pennant drive.

Fox Scores For Rebs

West Monroe halfback Buck Fox, hidden under a maze of Yellow Jackets, knifes over from one yard out in the fourth quarter for the Rebel touchdown against Byrd last night. MILETELLO SPARKS 21-6 VICTORY

Rebs Come From Behind For 1-AAA Win Over Byrd

By JIM CALHOUN
Staff Sports Writer

Reserve halfback Leon Miletello came off the bench in the third quarter to fire the West Monroe Rebels to a 21-6 come-from-behind victory over the Byrd Yellow Jackets for their first district 1-AAA win of the season here Friday night.

Stymied for two quarters by a sputtering offense and three fumbles, the Rebs came to life late in the third period. Miletello, a piston-legged 138-pounder, churned 37 yards on the last play of the third stanza to set up what proved to be the winning touchdown and added the clincher midway in the final quarter.

Buck Fox, another Rebel sub ball carrier, crashed over from one yard for the initial score and quarterback Ronnie skirted end on a keeper play for the final marker with less than a minute left to play.

Miletello was the leading West Monroe rusher, picking up 55 yards in 6 tries, all of which came in the second half. John Moses, who split the uprights for the extra point after each Confederate touchdown chalked up 35 yards in 9 cracks at the gold-shirted Byrd line.

The West Monroe offense flopped miserably in the first half, accounting for only 55 yards on the ground. Only once did the Rebs pass midfield in the first two stanzas. Two completed passes from Farmer to end Fred Hooter and Moses moved the ball to Byrd's 41 just as the half ended.

The Jackets, sparked by the running of halfback Deam Mann and fullback Charles Beach moved for 120 yards on the ground in the first half. Their lone score came with 6:50 remaining in the second when speedy Tommy Gay took a handoff from his wingback slot and raced 22 yards for the go-ahead touchdown. Fred White's attempted conversion failed.

The first real Reb drive began just before the third quarter gun sounded. Fox took an enemy punt and dashed from his own 44 to the Bryd 45. Halfback Dwain picked up one yard.

Then Miletello broke loose and rambled 37 yards to the five. Three plays later Fox leaped over the center of the line from one yard out for the touchdown. Moses booted the point to make it 7-6.

That was all the Rebels needed, but they weren't satisfied. After the Jackets failed to move the ball, Moses took Beach's punt on his own 29 and, reversing his field three times, squirmed through a host of yellow shirted defenders to the 5-yard-line for a 66-yard return.

It took Miletello two tries to reach the end zone. Moses' kick barely made it over the crossbar.

Farmer bootlegged the ball over from nine yards out after a 49-yard march for the final score. Again Moses' kick hit the mark.

Mann was the game's leading gainer, racking up 82 yards in 10 bursts. Teammate Beach followed him with 55 yards gained in 15 tries.

Outstanding defensively for the invaders were guard Ray Burroughs who recovered two West Monroe fumbles and tackles Bill Burns and Jimmy Caskey.

For the home-standing Rebs it was center Butch Labrano, guards Jerry Harris and Lamar Greer and tackles Steve Hamm and Glen Bell.

The win evened the Rebs' season record at 2-2.

Casper Fires 64 To Tie For Lead

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Bill Casper Jr. fired an 8-under-par 64 and tied for first place at the halfway point in the $20,000 Centennial Open. He shared the lead with young Tony Lema at 133.

Casper—his putting work at its best—almost equaled the 63-stroke course record for professionals. But a 10-foot putt on the 18th green hung on the lip of the cup.

The U.S. Open champion from Apple Valley, Calif., wasn't the only threat to Lema, the 25-year-old from San Leandro, Calif., who grabbed the first - round lead Thursday with a 65. Lema had a 68 Friday.

Veteran Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif., also had a 64. Coupled with a 70, it gave him runner-up spot at 134.

Behind them came Al Besselink of Grossinger, N.Y., Jim Feree of Crystal River, Fla., and Bob Duden of Oswego, Ore., all at 136.

Then came Don January of Denver, Colo., Dick Knight of San Diego, Calif., and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., all at 137.

Casper didn't slip over par on a single hole. He was 5-under on the first nine and then picked up three more birdies on the back nine to go 8-under on the par 35-37—72 Portland Golf Club course.

"It's the best one I've shot in a long time," the easy-going Casper said. "I pulled tremendously."

Caster was in trouble but once, that was when a drive struck a tree on the second hole. But he was able to gain a par on the hole.

Lema, never a winner in two years on the tournament trail, was even par on the front nine, but 4 under on the back nine to salvage a tie.

The leaders:

Bill Casper Jr.	69-64—133

Tech's Sophs Favorites To Beat Clemson

ATLANTA (AP) — Can Georgia Tech's sophomore-spotted Yellow Jackets play better than they know how in two straight football games?

Coach Bobby Dodd said Friday unless they do he's afraid Tech is in for a long, rough afternoon against rugged Clemson Saturday.

"They'll have to come up with as good a game as they played against Southern Methodist (Tech's 16-12 victim last week)," said Dodd. "We've got 13 sophomores in the first two teams. They surprised me with their fine play against SMU. With the kind of spirit they've shown, they can—and I hope they do—surprise me again this week."

Although Clemson is ranked sixth nationally, one notch ahead of Tech, the host Jackets are favored by a whiser. The 44,174-seat stadium is sold out.

Clemson stacks up as much stronger than the 1958 team which Tech upset 13-0. Neither of the Tigers' top quarterbacks was healthy last year but both Harvey White and Lowndes Shingler are rarin' to go this time. Their passing and the strong running of Bill Mathias, George Usry and Doug Cline give the Tigers a dangerous two-way attack.

Tech, a shade faster than the slightly heavier Tigers, may do more passing than usual because injuries have depleted its halfback corps. That could bring quarterback Jimmy Sides into the offensive picture for the first time this season. Normally used only on defense, Sides has been passing better than any other quarterback except Fred Braselton, star of the SMU upset.

Colo. Mines Back Leading Offense Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Vince Tesome of Colorado School of Mines, who has accounted for 69 per cnet of his team's yardage, tops the nation's small colleges in total offense.

Tesome, who also ranks fifth in punting, has gained 255 yards rushing and 288 yards passing in three games, the NCAA Service Bureau figures showed Friday.

Other individual leaders include Allan Lewis of St. Benedict's, (Kan.), topping the ball carriers with 366 yards; Ron Costello of Xavier (Ohio), leading the passer with 29 completions; Bill Hughes of Pacific University, heading the pass catchers with 14 grabs, and Joe Roy of New Mexico Highlands, who has averaged 48.5 yards on 12 punts.

Walt Beach of Central Michigan, Garney Henley of Huron, S.D., and Joe Womack of Los Angeles State each have scored six touchdowns, but Beach, with four PAT's to his credit, leads the scorers with 40 points.

Joe Denone of Geneva, Pa., is the passing accuracy leader with 70 per cent completions, and his six touchdown passes also are tops. Terry O'Brien of McMurry, Tex., has the most passing yardage—454.

Although Bowling Green, Ohio, and New Hampshire lead in total offense with 494 and 467 yards, respectively, they have played only one game each. Xavier, (Ohio), has averaged 463.7 for three games, and McMurry 457 for three games

Neville Humbles Farmers, 40-13

FARMERVILLE, La. (Special)—Neville's unbeaten Tigers mauled winless Farmerville, 40-13, here last night for their fourth victory of the season.

Quarterback Joe Turner started the scoring for Neville's district 2-AA champions, running 10 yards into paydirt in the first quarter.

Joe Cage rammed one yard for another score in the second and Dooley Haddad took a pass from Cage for 37 yards and another first-quarter touchdown.

Haddad tallied again in the second when he dashed 55 yards from scrimmage. Cage was successful on his third of four conversion to make it 27-0.

Farmerville scored in the second when halfback Kirby Morris rambled 29 yards into the end zone. Quarterback Joe Albritton kicked the extra point and it was 27-7 at the half.

In the third period, Cage scored again, dashing 35 yards for a touchdown and kicked the extra point to give him a personal total of 16 points for the night.

Farmerville tallied again in the final half with Albritton sneaking over from two-yards out. Albritton missed the conversion try.

Reserve back R. F. Wilson added the final Neville touchdown with a 36-yard scamper in the final period. Mickey Cox missed the conversion try.

Tackle Jack Youngblood stood out for Neville on defense and Cox was one of the top blocker in the line.

Neville had only a slight edge in first downs, 14 to 12, but was in control all the way. Reserves saw most of the action for Bill Ruple's Tigers.

21 TO 6

Ouachita Whips Hope, Arkansas

HOPE, Ark. (Special) — Ouachita swiped a pass and recovered a fumble in the last quarter to set up two touchdowns on the way to a 21-6 victory over Hope here Friday night.

After a scoreless first half that saw neither team threatening, Ouachita pushed over the first touchdown with a 60-yard drive climaxed by Woody Mahoney's 11-yard dash around left end for a touchdown. Bobby Hendrix kicked the first of three extra points.

Hope jumped back with their touchdown in the period, driving 76 yards with halfback Eddie King sprinting 45 for the touchdown.

The extra point attempt failed and Ouachita led at the end of the third period, 7-6.

Hope threatened in the fourth, grinding to the Ouachita 15-yard line. Harry Crowe picked off a pass and returned 67 yards to the Hope 18. Hendrix sneaked three yards several plays later and added the extra point for a 14-6 lead.

In the fading moments of the contest, Ouachita's Billy Rushing recovered a fumble by Ralph Smiley on the Hope 32 and Hendrix ran 20 yards for the touchdown in the last minute. Hendrix converted to make it 21-6.

The win was the second in three tries for Bob Ellen's Lions and the loss was Hope's third in four games.

Ellen, who once starred at halfback in his high school days at Hope, was carried off the field after the game on the shoulders of his players.

High School Grid Results

PANTHERS WIN, 12-0

MANGHAM, La. (Special) — Lake Providence took a big step toward the district 2-B title with two last quarter touchdowns and a 12-0 victory over loop rival Mangham here Friday night.

Bill Burton's 30-yard run to the Mangham 15 set up the first Panther touchdown, scored by Gene Edmondson from six yards out.

Leon Overby, an all-district guard last year, dashed 50 yards with a pitchout from Burton for the final touchdown. Overby was almost gone before the home-standing Dragons knew who had the ball.

Lake Providence missed both extra points.

Coach Armed Mathews' Mangham club had the edge in first downs, 7 to 5, an advantage compiled largely by a good passing attack.

Jerry Smith and Ellis Wilson were outstanding in the Mangham line.

The victory was Lake Providence's second in district play against no losses. Jim Herrington's Panthers have only Southside and Columbia to play in the district.

BERNICE 41, HAUGHTON 20

BERNICE, La. (Special) Bernice High considered itself on the rebound in district 1-B football last night with a 41-20 conquest of Haughton.

Bernice, with a 2-1 conference mark for the season, had taken its lone league loss from Plain Dealing which had in turn been beaten by Haughton. In conquering Haughton last night, Coach Johnny Emmons credited his Bernice athletes with a "fine team effort, good blocking and tackling all night."

Morris Reeves and Jimmy Harris each scored two touchdowns for Bernice, both of Harris' runs on 57 and 47-yard dashes. Reeves ran for one and 11. They each converted twice. Sam Johnson romped 34 yards for a third quarter TD and converted once, and Fred Marsh went two yards for a Bernice TD.

A passing combination of Ison to Hollis accounted for two Haughton TD', one on a 60-yard play in the second quarter and the other on a 78-yard play in the final period. Garrett also added a fourth quarter touchdown and accounted for two extra points for the visitors.

WINNSBORO BEATEN

RAYVILLE, La. (Special) — Rayville's Hornets ended Winnsboro's winning streak at three here last night with a 27-6 district 2-A victory.

Rayville, beaten only by Bastrop, jumped to a 14-0 lead on touchdowns in the first and second periods.

Guard Sam Wright set up the initial Hornet TD by intercepting a Wildcat pass on the Winnsboro 20. Halfback Bobby Martin ran into the end zone on the next play and Billy Miller kicked the PAT.

Fullback Red Mayo ran up the middle for six yards and the second Rayville TD in the second period and Miller converted again to make it 14-0.

Winnsboro came back to score when Allen Parks ran over from the one. The TD was set up by a 30-yard pass from Joe Henry to Johnny Sisk to the one.

After a scoreless third period, Rayville wrapped up the game with two touchdowns in the fourth. Halfback Will Ed Jones dashed 35 yards on a brilliant run for one TD after taking a pass from Stuart Dyer and Dyer ran six yards for the final score. Miller converted after the last TD.

TALLULAH 35, OAK GROVE 6

OAK GROVE, La. (Special) — The Tallulah offense was more than the Oak Grove defense could handle and the state Class A champion Trojans marched over the Tigers, 35-6, in their conference game here last night.

Carl Williamson went 60 yards for the first Tallulah touchdown in the first quarter, and moments later Ed Island intercepted an Oak Grove pass and ran 20 yards to score.

Modell O'Neal plunged one yard for Oak Grove's only touchdown in the second quarter, and in the same period Tallulah's Tommy Neumann romped for two touchdowns, and in the third period Leonard Neumann galloped 60 yards on a reverse play for another TD.

Jerry Fairbanks picked the point behind every Tallulah TD, five of them.

Oak Grove, showing fairly well on offense and twice losing the ball on fumbles on Talulah's one, didn't have enough defense to contain the champs.

MINDEN ROMPS

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — Fullback Bobby Ashley gained 205 yards in 18 carries to lead once - beaten Minden to a 26-0 victory over Jonesboro - Hodge here last night.

Halfback Sherburn Sentell opened the scoring for Minden, beaten only by Ruston, with a one-yard plunge with 3:45 left in the first period. Bill Gray kicked the extra point.

With 20 seconds left in the first stanza, Minden tallied again with Ashley going four yards. Early in the third period, Ashley scored again with a 32-yard jaunt.

Early in the last period, Edwin Greer passed 45 yards to Sentell for the final TD. Gray converted.

WISNER, 26-6

SICILY ISLAND (Special) — The spectacular touchdown run was in vogue here last night, and the style seemed to fit Wisner fine, as they galloped to a 26-6 victory over Sicily Island.

Wisner's Mike Caldwell broke loose in the first quarter and ran 60 yards for the first touchdown. The extra point try failed.

Kenneth Thornhill started things moving again in the second quarter, shooting a pass to fullback Jerry Ensminger who poured on the coal in a 70-yard trip that counted for six. Quarterback Sonny Bondurant ran through for the extra point.

Caldwell, on a 60-yard breakthrough, scored early in the third quarter with Buddy Powell, right halfback running the extra point. The final Wisner score came when Sicily Island fumbled a kickoff and Powell powered for 30 yards and the TD.

Sicily Island's lone tally came in the fourth stanza via a 25-yard pass from halfback Charles Miller to his co-halfback Johnny Young who traveled the remaining six yards for paydirt. The extra point try was no good.

BLOCK IN RUNAWAY

JONESVILLE, La. (Special) — Fullback Tad Egloff ran for two touchdowns the hard way, 70 yards for the first and 80 for the second, as Block's Bears clawed Vidalia, 45-0, in a district 3-B battle here last night.

Quarterback Billy Brooks scored first for Block, going one yard in the first period. Halfback Billy Edwards kicked the extra point and later ran 35 yards for another touchdown in the second period.

Egloff got off on his 70-yard jaunt in the second, and Brooks went one yard again for a third-period score. Edwards kicked both PATs.

Edwards sprinted 75 yards on a punt return for another touchdown before Egloff dashed 80 yards for his second.

Halfback G. S. Fairbanks ran 65 yards for a touchdown that was called back because of a penalty but scored for keeps on a 10-yard jaunt later.

Edwards also had a TD called back, a 55-yard run in the second period.

Jim Stringer and David Rachel starred in the Vidalia backfield.

Block gained 450 yards rushing to Vidalia's 174.

WINNFIELD WINS

WINNFIELD (S(pecial) — The Winnfield Tigers trounced LaSalle of Olla 25 to 6 here last night and all but sewed up the District 1-A Conference Crown.

The victory gave Winnfield a 3-0 record in 1-A loop play with two more conference games to go.

It was quarterback Mike Tinnerello who opened Winnfield's scoring when he connected to Jerry Burch for a 26-yard scoring pass late in the first period.

LaSalle took over in the second and drove to the Winnfield 18 where fullback Johnny Higgins went over for the score. Halfback Jerry Ingram got a low pass from center and was tackled before he could make the PAT.

With the score 6 and 6, Winnfield bounced back in the same quarter and sent fullback Bennie Canerday over from the one-yard line.

Tinnerello's pass to Tommy Wyatt for the PAT was too low making the score 12-6 Winnfield.

Late in the third quarter, Tinnerello took things in his own hands and plunged over from the one - yard line for a touchdown, but fullback Gerald Bryant failed on a run up the middle for the PAT, leaving the score 18-6 Winnfield.

With two minutes remaining, Winnfield took over on the LaSalle 38 yard line, and with second and 8, halfback James Collins got loose for 38 yards around right end to score.

This time, Willie Carter ran over the point, making it 25 to 6 and a hopeless case for LaSalle.

Winnfield will take a second record of 3-1 to Ruston next weekend and will return home Nov. 6 against Natchitoches.

DELHI 12, FERRIDAY 0

FERRIDAY, La. (Special) — The Delhi Bears, a pre - season choice as the club most likely to unseat state championship Tallulah in the district Class A race, converted two Ferriday fumbles into touchdowns here last night to paste the Bulldogs, 12 to 0.

Twice Ferriday's fine defense had spiked Delhi drives at the Bulldog one when, in the second quarter Ferriday's Carl Chapman fumbled and Delhi's Ken Newton recovered and scampered 16 yards to score.

In the fourth quarter Ferriday's Billy Clifton fumbled, and Delhi's Charles Hixson, a tackle, scooped up the ball and rambled 75 yards to paydirt.

BASTROP FALLS

BOSSIER, La. (Special) — Bossier opened its bid for the district 1-AAA title with a 28-13 victory over Bastrop's determinded Rams last night in a game marred by frequent fumbles.

Four touchdowns, two by each team, were set up by fumbles.

Bossier opened the scoring in the first period when Tommy Taylor capped a 54-yard drive with a five-yard burst through tackle. Taylor ran over the extra point.

Early in the second period, Bastrop tied the score after Gary Cox had recovered a Bossier fumble on the Cat 33. Jerry Hollis scored from five yards out then Charles Burks kicked the point to tie the score at 7-all.

Bossier took a halftime lead after recovering a fumble on the Boastrop 15. Bill Alley went 15 yards for the touchdown and Dennis Kile lunged across for the extra point.

After a scoreless third quarter, Bastrop cut the Cat margin to 14-13 early in the fourth chapter. Winfred Day recovered a fumbled punt on the Bossier 22 and four plays later, Charles McGee went one yard for the TD. Burks' try for point fizzled.

Bossier roared back and went 59 yards in eight plays for the clinching score. Tommy Cook ran 16 yards for the touchdown, Taylor ran for the 21st point.

With 42 seconds left, Bossier's Bill McClung scored Emmett Irby's fumble on the Cat 10 and raced 90 yards to score. Alley ran the PAT.

Bossier led in first downs, 15-12, and in total offense, 241 to 182. Bastrop's total was the most ammassed against Bossier this year.

WATERPROOF 13, DAVIDSON 0

ST. JOSEPH, La. (Special) The Waterproof Tigers, finding the Davidson Warriors putting up one of the best battles ever offered by the St. Joseph school, squeezed out a 13-0 triumph over the Warriors here last night.

It wasn't until the closing minutes of the first half that Bennie Lopoo broke free for Waterproof's opening wedge, galloping 75 yards for a touchdown. Jackie Hopkins added the point.

A 25-yard pass play, with Moss pitching and Mike Martion catching, brought the Tigers their second TD.

A third quarter Davidson touchdown was erased by a penalty.

COLUMBIA, 26-0

NEWELLTON (Special) —Columbia downed Newellton to the tune of 26 to 0 here last night.

In the first quarter right halfback Odis Darden scampered 40 yards to pay dirt and tackle Doublas Crockett booted the extra point.

Halfback Glen Haddox ground out a four - yard touchdown in the third quarter, but the kick for the extra point was blocked by Newellton.

Scoring picked up again in the fourth quarter when quarterback Dennis Dannell scooted 21 yards for a touchdown. Again the extra point try ended in failure.

Just before time ran out the Darden - Crockett combination clicked again for seven more points. This time Darden scurried 36 yards for his second touchdown.

Los Angeles Confident of Dodger Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "We're gonna win the Series, Mister!"

A hard-bitten Dodger fan clinched his cigar in his teeth Friday and gave voice to the wave of confidence which swept through the City of Angeles.

Word of the Dodgers' first World Series victory sent the big cheer rolling across the city — a city where radios played even in libraries and funeral homes, and portables seemed to wire every bellboy, elevator operator and newspaper vendor for sound.

"Please, the score," pleaded the Weather Bureau's Los Angeles office, via teletype, of the bureau's International Airport facility. "We're in a tomb here."

Back came the score. "Welll, welll, and another welll." replied the downtown office — where the Federal Building's thick walls blocked radio reception. "Thanks for the pleasant news."

Actor Rayford Barnes emerged from a Hollywood set where a TV film was shooting and slapped his forehead at word of the 4-3 victory.

"I'll be a son-of-a-gun," he groaned. "A guy offered me the Dodgers at 5-1 when the score was 2-2, and I didn't take it: I should've known they'd do it."

"Another coronary" was the way a downtown cigar counter clerk described the game. "4 to 3 They're gettin' worse than the Rams!"

NEAL, ESSEGIAN

Series Heroes Have Things In Common

CHICAGO (AP) — The two heroes of Friday's Los Angeles Dodgers' 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox in the World Series had two things in common:

Candor, and an admission that didn't know what pitches they hit for homers.

If they can be believed, neither Charlie Neal nor Chuck Essegian had a single thought in his head as he trotted grandly around the bases.

"I wasn't trying to hit homers," said Neal. "I didn't know what I hit. The first one I knew was gone but the second one (a powerful drive to center that carried more than 420 feet and put the Dodgers ahead 4-2) I wasn't sure about."

"I'm not sure what I hit either," said Essegian.

Then to the obvious question, if this was his biggest thrill of baseball, he said with a sly grin, "I'll have to say that."

After all it was a pinch - hit homer to tie the score and you can't do much better than that.

Someone asked him about his football days at Stanford, and Dodger teammates in the background took up the chant:

"Essegian is back in the Rose Bowl, fellows. He's talking Stanford again."

Neal is 28, stands 5-10, and is listed on the roster as weighing 160, but he admitted Friday he is down to 155—15 pounds below his peak weight. He was born in Compton, Calif.

"Nothing wrong with my weight, just comes from playing steady," he said.

Essegian, a star linebacker at Stanford who might have sought a career in pro football instead of baseball, is 27, also stands 5-10, weighs 200 and looks it. He is another native Californian, having been born in Los Angeles.

Neal has prominent gold dental work, a coffee colored skin, and speaks in a soft voice.

"This," he said, "is my best year. Chuck Dressen helped me with my hitting. I used to swing for the fence all the time and he made me choke up on the bat, about an inch.

"He put a big wad of tape at the end of my bat so I couldn't get my grip down to the end."

"That's right," said Coach Dressen, the former Dodger manager. "He used to hold the bat at the end and his hand would slip over the end when he swung. Choking up sure hasn't cost him any power. He gets plenty of that the way he throws the head of the bat out."

Neal has an easy, lashing swing that packs a terrific wallop—the kind that is more associated with baseball's 225-pounders than with a slender second baseman.

In Thursday's game Neal missed one home run down the left field line that went foul by a few feet, and a second near the same spot.

He uses a 30-ounce bat.

"It's a Pee Wee Reese model," he said. "Pee Wee was using one a little heavier when we were in Brooklyn, and I ordered one a little lighter than his.

He wears shinguards.

"I got a bad leg," he said. "The way my skin is, when I get cut it takes a long time to heal."

Neal's two homers — only four times prior to Friday has a National Leaguer hit two an a single Series game — helped take the string off a play in the first inning that might very well have been the turning point of the game.

Luis Aparicio had led off with a double and advanced to third on Nelson Fox's fly. Jim Landis drew a walk and at this juncture big Ted Kluszewski rapped a grounder at Neal. It looked like a double play that would end the inning.

Neal grabbed the ball only to have it squirt out of his hands. He pounced on it and managed to throw out Kluszewski at first. But Aparicio scored and a moment later Landis came home on Sherman Lollar's single to put the Sox ahead 2-0.

"The ball came up on me," said Neal. "This is a bad infield. No, I wasn't watching the runners. You couldn't catch the ball if you did."

Neal said that Bob Shaw, the starting Sox pitcher, "had plenty of good stuff—sinkers and sliders," and Pee Wee Reese added that when a pitcher gets hit hard it does not necessarily mean he is losing his stuff—"Maybe he just can't put the ball where he wants it."

Smiling faintly, Neal agreed with Essegian that this was his "happiest day in baseball."

Hail The Conquering Hero

The Dodger bench gives Charlie Neal (43) a hero's welcome as the second baseman comes in after swatting a two-run homer in the 7th inning of yesterday's World Series game at Chicago, won by the Dodgers, 4-3. Behind Neal is Junior Gilliam (19), who scored ahead of Neal and smiling in the dugout are manager Walt Alston (left) and Norm Larker. No. 98 is the Dodger batboy. (AP Wirephoto)

THREE HOMERS

Dodgers Square Series With Power Display, 4-3

for Podres, he had a rough go of it.

Those "go-go" White Sox wanted desperately to run up a two-game lead as the scene shifted from the friendly confines of their home park to Los Angeles, where the next three games will be played Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. And they came mighty close to doing it.

Two runs behind going into the eighth inning, the White Sox had gone down in order as Sherry rode to the rescue in the seventh. But then they brought that partisan crowd screaming to its feet with back-to-back singles by big Ted Kluszewski, the hero of their opening-game victory, and catcher Sherman Lollar.

Al Smith followed that with a scorching double into left center field which sent pinch-runner Earl Torgeson racing home—and Lollar trundling along behind him in a desperate, puffing dash for the plate.

But far out there near the bright green fence, Wally Moon had picked up the ball and with a frantic pivot he whirled and fired it in to shortstop Maury Wills.

And that young man, happily celebrating his 27th birthday, fired a strike to John Roseboro at the plate to put out Lollar by several feet.

Smith wound up at third on the throw—but that was as far as he got. Sherry struck out pinch-hitter Billy Goodman and got Jim Rivera on a high, twisting foul to Roseboro. Then in the ninth he set them down in order to send the long-suffering White Sox fans home unhappily from the first series they have entertained in 40 long years.

As the game got under way after morning rains, the Dodgers threatened both in the first and second innings by getting two men on base. But both times it came with two men out and the Sox held them off.

Meanwhile, the day had become even darker for Neal.

Because in that White Sox first, Luis Aparicio doubled down the right field foul line with a hit which was inside the foul line by inches as it skipped past the diving Gil Hodges at first. Little Luis raced on to third base, tagging up after the catch after Nellie Fox flied to deep right. Jim Landis drew a walk and then came the spot where Podres should have gotten out of it without a run.

For the slow-footed Kluszewski sent a smash to Neal which had all the earmarks of an easy double play ball.

But Neal juggled it, finally picked it up and, as Landis sailed past him into second, had to settle for the throw to first which got Kluszewski easily. But Aparicio laughed his way across the plate for a 1-0 White Sox lead.

Lollar ripped a pitch to Neal's left next, and while he got his glove on it, the lithe Charley couldn't hold it. Landis scored and now the sox were two runs ahead.

Wills then fumbled Smith's hard grounder for an error which left both base runners safe, But the Dodgers got out of it at long last as Bubba Phillips forced Lollar at third.

Tight-jawed Neal started to get some of it back in the fifth inning. There were two out when he stepped in and blasted a 370-foot homer into the lower left field stands to end a real Dodger drought in World Series scoring. It was their first run in 13 2-3 innings in this series and ended 22 2-3 straight scoreless innings in series play since their shutout defeat by the New York Yankees in the final game of the 1956 series.

It gave the Dodgers the idea.

Because two innings later, with two out, manager Walt Alston lifted Podres and sent Essegian up to pinch hit. It was a wise choice, for the husky Chuck—who hit only one home run as a major leaguer this season—blasted the seventh pinch-hit home run in series history to tie it up at 2-2 as the ball sailed into the upper deck of the left field stands.

Shaw, shaken, walked Gilliam. And he did it to his sorrow.

For Neal stepped in seconds later and got everything and more back than he had given away by cannoning his second homer of the day—that sky-scorching shot 430 feet into the White Sox bullpen in deep center field.

Turk Lown came on then to retire the side and gave up only one of the nine Dodger hits the rest of the way.

But those two runs that Neal had gotten back with his second homer were just enough after Sherry stemmed that rally in the eighth and walked off happily with the series all even at one game each.

Saturday will be an off day for travel and when they resume Sunday at the Los Angeles Coliseum it will be two big right-handers, Don Drysdale, the National League strikeout king, for the Dodgers and Dick Donovan for the White Sox.

11-10 Favorites

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers were quoted Friday night as 11-10 favorites to win the World Series after squaring the Series 1-1. In all previous quotations the Chicago White Sox were favored.

CUCCINELLO

'I Thought He Could Make It,' Says Pale Sox Coach

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—In a corner of the tomblike White Sox dressing room, third base Coach Tony Cuccinello muttered:

"I thought he could make it. I thought he could make it. But he hesitated at second and they made a perfect play to get him at the plate."

The coach was referring to the key play in Chicago's defeat in the World Series' second game in which catcher Sherm Lollar, slowest Sox runner, was nailed at the plate by 10 feet on Al Smith's eighth-inning double. Lollar was trying to score from first with the potential tying run.

Said the disconsolate Lollar:

"I was running on the pitch, but I stopped at second because I didn't know whether the ball would be caught."

Cuccinello said Lollar had taken off from first on the three-two pitch which Smith clouted to the wall in left center.

"I honestly thought Lollar could score, so I waved him on," said Cuccinello. "Then I figured Smith could move on to third on the throw-in to the plate and we have the winning run there with none out. But there are two perfect throws after the retrieve and so Lollar is out by a mile."

The Sox dressing room was a direct contrast to Thursday's joyful scene after Chicago's 11-0 opening rout of the Dodgers. The players were silent and gloomy as they slowly peeled off their uniforms.

Sox starter Bob Shaw, who pitched two home run balls to Charley Neal and one to pinch-hitter Chuck Essegian, rued the fact. "My timing was off," he said.

Shaw's battery mate, Lollar, said the handsome right-hander "didn't have his stuff today."

"Shaw is a low ball pitcher and he wasn't getting his pitches down," said Lollar. "Neal's first homer was off an inside slider, a breaking ball. Essegian hit a high slider for his homer and Neal's second homer was a fast ball outside and fairly high."

Ted Kluszewski injected a bit of humor in an otherwise stilted atmosphere. Somebody congratulated him for his leaping, one-handed stab of Junior Gilliam's liner in the fifth inning.

"The trouble with your sports writers is that you don't realize I've been a good glove man for a couple of years," said the massive, 35-year-old first baseman, who clouted two homers in Thursday's romp over the Dodgers. Big Klu got his sixth RBI of the Series Friday with an infield out in the first inning and spanked his fourth hit, an eighth-inning single which started the futile Sox rally.

Little Luis Aparicio, who banged a double and a single in his first two trips, said Dodger starter Johnny Podres was a very effective pitcher.

"He had real good stuff," said Aparicio. "He moved the ball in and out real good and he changed speed very well."

Aparicio was delighted over getting his first hits of the Series. "I was a little nervous over playing in my first World Series yesterday. But today I feel—now it's just another game."

Manager Al Lopez, meeting writers in the Sox press clubhouse some distance from the dressing room, said of Lollar's ill-fated attempt for home:

"His hesitation simply messed up the whole play."

Arkansas To Test Horned Frogs Today

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Texas Christian University's Horned Forgs, plentiful and powerful, open defense of their Southwest Conference championship Saturday against the darkhorse Arkansas Razorbacks.

TCU is favored by less than a touchdown against the Hogs, who won their first two outings against Tulsa and Oklahoma State.

The Frogs are expected to bounce back from last week's 10-0 loss to national champion Louisiana State. But Arkansas should be as ready as possible before 26,000 expected fans on Dad's Day.

The game will feature two of the top running backs in the conference, halfback Jim Mooty of Arkansas, all-SWC last year as a junior, and TCU fullback Jack Spikes.

Spikes ranks ninth nationally in ground gaining with 168 yards on 25 carries. Mooty is 11th with 161 yards on 22 carries.

BATTING TIPS PAY OFF

Skinny Charlie Neal LA's Hero

By CHARLES MAHER

CHICAGO (AP) — Charlie Neal, a skinny little guy with arms no bigger than his bat, was standing quietly Friday in the limelight occupied Thursday by a man nearly twice his size.

Neal, who looks as though he mgiht need the wind behind him to drive the ball over the infield, had just belted two mighty home runs—the second of which made the difference in the Dodgers' 4-3 victory over Chicago.

"Man, this is different from the regular season," said Neal. "This is for the big money.

"I wasn't thinking when I hit that second one that it might win the game, but I was sure glad to see it go. I knew we'd need some runs against these guys.

"Yes, that was one of the biggest thrills of my career."

On the perimeter of the gang of reporters throwing questions at the 155-pound second baseman was Coach Chuck Dressen, who has been giving Neal some batting tips this season.

Dressen said Neal had a weakness, but Chuck wouldn't say what it was until a newsman suggested: "A fast ball, high and inside."

"Yeah," said Dressen. "I had him tape the end of his bat, so he couldn't get his hands down so far. Now he doesn't have such a long bat and he can hit those high inside pitches better."

Standing next to Ted Kluszewski, the enormous first baseman who hit two homers for Chicago Thursday, Neal would need only a slingshot to give a perfect impersonation of David in the story of Goliath's demise.

But there was no question of the authority in the little fellow's home runs Friday. The first one was a streaking drive into the left field seats and the second one sailed 425 feet into the Chicago bullpen in dead center.

Neal hit 19 homers during the regular season, including one in the playoffs, and drove in 83 runs, more than anyone else on the club except Duke Snider, who accounted for 88.

Left-hander Jornny Podres, who got the victory Friday although he was pulled for a pinch hitter in the seventh, had trouble getting started as usual. The Sox got to him for two runs in the opening inning.

"I don't know what it is about that first inning," Johnny said. "It's been a jinx for me all through my career.

"I was throwing good today, but I was a little wilder than usual at the start."

Podres gave up two hits in the first, one a double just inside first base by Luis Aparicio and the other a single off the end of Sherm Lollar's bat.

"That ball Aparicio hit must have been close to a foot outside," Podres said.

"But, anyway, they didn't knock me out. And that's three in a row now in the World Series."

In his last two World Series games, in 1955, Podres beat the New York Yankees 8-3 and 2-0, picking up the second win in the decisive seventh game.

Utility outfielder Chuck Essegian, who hit only one homer in 85 at-bats during the regular season, socked one that went even farther than either of Neal's.

"That felt as good as any I've ever got," said the former Stanford football star. "I knew right away it was gone. I hit it on a three-and-one pitch, but I didn't think (Bob) Shaw was going to walk me. He hadn't walked anybody up to then and I wasn't counting on one."

Essegian's homer, which tied the score 2-2 in the seventh, had barely achieved the apex of its flight when it crashed into the upper deck in left - center field. Unimpeded, it might have flown close to 450 feet.

Maury Wills, the Dodgers' rookie shortstop, booted a ball in the first inning, but cleared himself in the eighth with a skillful relay job on the key play of the game.

Al Smith doubled to left with two on, and the slow-footed Lollar tried to score from first behind pinch runner Earl Torgeson. But Wills took a throw from Wally Moon and nailed Lollar at the plate by 10 or 15 feet.

"As soon as I turned around after getting the ball from the outfield, I figured I had him," Wills said. "Moon made a real good play getting the ball off the wall, and he gave me a good throw. I don't know whether a faster runner would have scored or not. We had Lollar by quite a ways."

Manager Walt Alston, who has refused all season to predict anything, declined again Friday to take a guess on the Series outcome.

"It's all even, one to one, tied for first," Walt said. "That's all I'll say."

Wildcats Play Northwestern At Pineville

NATCHITOCHES, La., (Special) — Northwestern State College faces the oldest rival on its 1959 football slate Saturday night when the Demons tangle with the Louisiana College Wildcats at Pineville's Alumni Stadium.

In 1908, fifty - one years ago, the Demons captured a 7-0 victory over the Wildcats. Since that time the teams have met 44 times with Northwestern enjoying a 29-9-6 edge in the series.

Last year, the Wildcats took a 13-12 victory in the traditional classic and the Demons will be out to avenge that setback — one of only two reverses on their 1958 slate. The other loss was to McNeese State, but the Demons have already avenged that defeat.

Northwestern will be trying to recuperate from a 19-0 defeat at the hands of Lamar Tech last week, while the high - riding Wildcats will be seeking their third victory in a row. NSC is 1-1-1 for the season; Louisiana College is 2-1-0.

Several changes dot the Demon starting lineup, with switches being made among the Purple, White and Blue units. The Purple unit, which will start the game will have three newcomers — 245-pound tackle Octave Bernard, 205-pound center Earl Phillips and 200 - pound guard Jim Williams.

The remainder of the squad will include the same starters as those for the past three games. Only question mark is at the right end position where either 190-pound George Smith or 200-pound Johnny Wall will hold forth.

Jena Jr. High Wants Games

JEN, La. (Special) — Jena Junior High School is searching for football games, according to high school coach Bill Jarrell.

Jarrell says the team, composed of players in 6th, 7th and 8th grades, would like games on a home - and - home basis, preferably on Tuesdays or Thursdays, afternoon or night.

Any school interested should contact junior high coach Billy Harper or Jarrell at phone 2-0850.

Louisiana Tech To Play Cowboys

LAKE CHARLES, La. (Special) — Louisiana Tech, hailed by many as the second best college football team in Louisiana, will help the McNeese State College Cowboys open their home season Saturday night.

The Cowboys and Bulldogs are scheduled to hook up in Lake Charles high school's stadium at 8 p.m.

Tech has always been a difficult foe for McNeese to cope with and the 1959 Bulldog edition is not expected to prove an exception. In seven meetings since the clubs started playing each other in 1952, coach Joe Aillet's Techsters have walked off with six decisions.

McNeese's only break-through came in 1957, the year the 'Pokes nabbed a share of the Gulf States Conference title, in a 13-6 contest. Tech rambled to a 17-0 triumph over the Cowboys last fall.

Both teams enter Saturday's contest with 1-1 won-lost records. Tech opened its season by bowing to Lamar Tech 13-6, but came roaring back in fine fettle last weekend to wallop a touted Arkansas State club 35-0.

McNesse has last to Northwestern State 19-6 and defeated Stephen F. Austin State 20-7 in its two starts.

Louisiana Tech will put on display what is probably the Gulf States Conference's most impressive backfield Saturday night. The Bulldog power attack is geared to the running of halfback Paul Hynes, a 190-pound junior from Sulphur who has belted enemy lines for 161 yards in 24 carries this season. Hynes led the conference in rushing last year.

Halfback J. W. Slack, fullback Max Rudd and quarterback Taylor McNeel, all of whom weigh 190 or more, will probably round out the backfield Aillet will start against McNeese.

In the line, Tech is strongest at end, where Charlie Garris, Jerry Hudson and Tom Causey head up a delegation of six returning lettermen. Tackle Bobby Hinton, his cousin, Joe Hinton, a guard, and tackle Bobby Hudson, the biggest Bulldog starter at 220 pounds, are Tech's interior line standouts.

Coach Les DeVall expects his starting McNeese unit to be back at full strength for the Tech tussle. Quarterback Don Breaux and fullback Harold Thomas missed last week's game with Stephen F. Austin after suffering injuries but are expected to be in shape to play Saturday.

McNeese hasn't come up with any spectacular individual offensive performers thus far. Sophomore Ted Brevelle of Oakdale is the leading ground gainer, with 63 yards in 10 carries. Breaux and sophomore Nolan Viator of Sulphur have each started one game at quarterback and have each completed three passes for 62 and 51 yards, respectively.

COLTS SCORE HIGH

Chicago Issued 17-Point Warning

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Chicago Bears had better plan on scoring more than 17 points in Saturday night's football game against the Baltimore Colts.

They'll lose if they don't, figures Coach Weeb Ewbank.

He believes his Colts can successfully defend their National Football League championship if they limit opponents to 17 points or less a game.

"We're not trying to set any defensive records for stopping our opponents," he points out.

Besides, "we will be run against sometimes. But we feel the running game isn't going to hurt as much as the passing game, so we concentrate on the passing in our defense."

The Bears and Colts will hold the spotlight before an estimated 57,000 fans, since the other five NFL games this week end will be played Sunday. Cleveland is at the Chicago Cardinals, Detroit visits Green Bay, Los Angeles is at San Francisco, New York at Philadelphia and Washington at Pittsburgh.

Ewbank's analysis was borne out in last Sunday's opener. Detroit took a 9-0 lead largely on the running option exercised by quarterback Tobin Rote. That was all the Lions could score while the Colts went for 3 touchdowns and intercepted 5 passes.

The Bears should respect Ewbank's strategy by now. The Colts have won the last four games between the two teams, and in 3 of them the Bears were held to 10, 14 and no points.

Chicago Coach George Halas ought to be worried, too. His Bears could score only two field goals in losing last Sunday to Green Bay. The vaunted Chicago running game, resting largely on Rick Casares and Willie Galimore, made only 75 yards.

Their passing game, centered on the quarterback, still is unsettled with Coach Halas shifting among 3—Ed Brown, Zeke Bratkowski and Rudy Bukich.

The Colt aerial strength still lies in quarterback John Unitas. He tossed two for touchdowns last Sunday, marking the 26th straight game he had connected for at least one score.

The Bears need a victory or else face the serious prospect of being considered out of the Western Conference race by the time it is half over. Four of their next 5 games are against the Colts and Los Angeles Rams, expected to be another prime contender.

Mountaineers Tip Colonials By 10-8 Count

WASHINGTON (AP)—West Virginia pushed ahead on Carmen Pomponio's touchdown and John Thackston's field goal Friday night and then took the steam out of a George Washington comeback for a 10-8 Southern Conference football victory.

The Mountaineers moved ahead in the second quarter, driving 84 yards for a touchdown. Thackston kicked his field goal in the third period to clinch the victory.

Unable to move at all in the first half, George Washington finally got under way when quarterback Ed Hino started passing and connecting toward the end of the third quarter.

Hino completed a seven-yarder to Tom Haly for a touchdown with 6:45 to go in the game and the two-point conversion on a pass from Chuck Packan to Haly finally got the Colonials back in contention.

By that time it was too late. The Mountaineers held onto their slight edge for their 30th straight Southern Conference triumph.

Pomponio sneaked across from less than a yard out for West Virginia's touchdown early in the second period. The score topped off an 84-yard drive in 14 plays.

Thackston, whose field goal beat Richmond last Saturday, booted one from GW's 14 with 6:03 remaining in the third quarter to give West Virginia a 10-0 lead and enough of a bulge to protect its remarkable conference winning record that began in 1952.

Gomes Pounds Out Decision

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Harold Gomes, world junior lightweight champion, pounded out a workmanlike but unimpressive 10-round decision over Jay Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, in a non-title fight Friday night.

Gomes, counterpunching and using his left hook effectively, was the unanimous choice of the officials at the Rhode Island Auditorium.

Lions Heavy Favorite To Beat Indians

Talent-laden East Texas State, the nation's No. 1 small college football team, carries an eight-game winning streak into Brown Stadium tonight against the outmanned but determined Northeast Indians.

Game time for this, considered the game of the year in this area, is set for 8 p.m.

Contrasting records will be on the line as the powerful Lions from Commerce attempt to cement their hold on first place in the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics ratings, while the underdog Indians, stumbling along with two losses under their belts, could pull off the upset of the year with a victory.

Including a 26-7 win over Missouri Valley in the Tangerine Bolw last December, East Texas will be shooting for its 10th consecutive triumph over a two-year period. The Lions romped past Abilene Christian, 21-0, in the season opener two weeks ago and mowed down Southeastern, 21-10, last Saturday.

The Redskins, rebuilding from last year's surprise club which opened the season with six straight victories, are still searching for the win column. Arkansas State dumped them, 15-0, and Delta State squeezed out a 14-13 verdict here last week.

The contest could develop into a wide - open aerial circus with Lion handler Sam McCord, a Little All - America, at the quarterback slot. The 180 - pound senior passed 83 times for 41 completions and 9 touchdowns last year. The triple - threat also led the team in scoring with 50 points, rushed for 700 yards and punted 18 times for a 33.7 yard average.

If Slingin' Sam wants to throw, he'll have the biggest target on the field in 6'5½" end Dee Mackey, a 235-pound glue - fingered giant. Already drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers Mackey afteraged 17.4 yards every time he grabbed a pass.

Add 20 returning lettermen to the McCord-Mackey passing combo and it's not hard to see why the Lions are ranked on top.

Joining McCord in the ETS backfield will probably be halfbacks Tony Mandina (188) and Dan Malone and fullback Doe Dever (184).

Dever was the team's top rusher last year with 402 yards and a 4.8 average. Mandina, playing part - time averaged 5.1 and Malone ran at a 4.5 clip.

Anchored by Mackey, tackles Bobby Parker (207) and Jerry Williamson (205), guard Jerry Peveto (202) and center Jon Gilliam (210), the East Texas forward wall will average 207 pounds per man. Lightweight Bill Hopkins (170) at end and 181-pound dynamo Jim Farmer at guard round out the line.

Northeast head coach Jack Rowan, using the two-platoon system, was undecided yesterday on which unit would get the starting role tonight.

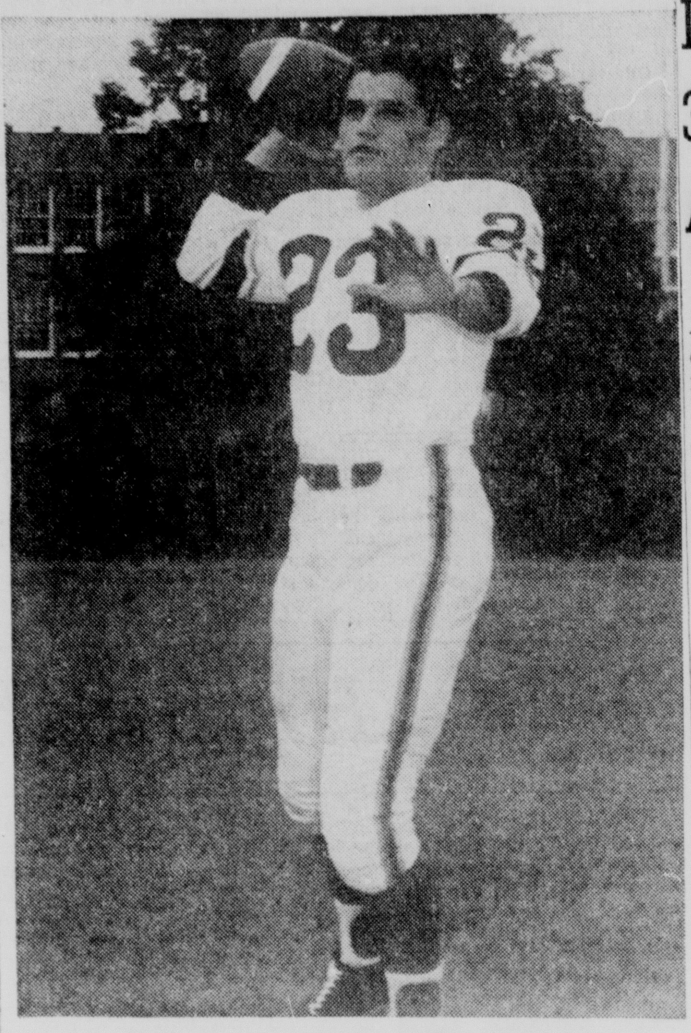
The Apache squad, with quarterback Bob Randel at the reins, were the starters in the first two games but the alternate unit Comanches showed speed and aggressiveness in practice this week and may be on the field at the opening kickoff.

Combining with Randel in the Apache backfield are halfbacks Jim Laudadio (190) and Terry Reeves (150) and workhorse fullback Stewart Stover (210).

Laudadio leads the Tribe ground attack with 96 yards and a 6 yard average in two games. Reeves, also outstanding on defense, has a 3.5 mark and Stover has managed a 2.8 average with his bucks through the middle.

Robert Earle, the team's top pass receiver, and Pete Covington hold down the Apache end slots. Tackles Ben Tatum and Delmas Thorne, guards Wally Cox and Alfred Feeney and center Gary Marchbank complete the Apache eleven.

Tribe coaches report enthusiasm in the home camp at a peak, and a victory over the touted Lions would go a long way toward erasing the opening setbacks.



Leading Indian Runner

Jim Laudadio gets set to throw a pass here but the 190-pound senior halfback is Northeast's top ground gainer this year. Laudadio has carried the ball 16 times for 96 years and a 6.0 average. A field goal threat, Laudadio has attempted--but missed--the three-pointer three times this season. (Photo by Jim St. Julien)

LSU Seeks 3rd Victory At Shreveport

By ED TUNSTALL

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Consider—with a shudder—the problems Baylor faces Saturday against Louisiana State:

1. LSU is the nation's No. 1 football team.
2. All-America halfback Billy Cannon is just one of LSU's many offensive weapons.
3. LSU hasn't lost a game in Shreveport in 30 years.
4. Baylor has never scored on an LSU team.

It's simple little things like these that drive a coach goofy, and Baylor Coach John Bridgers isn't a bit happy over his assignment at 2 p.m., CST, before a sellot crowd of 33,000.

LSU is a three-touchdown favorite and even this whopping spread may be an underestimation if the Tigers get their minds on the business at hand.

Tiger Coach Paul Dietzel, always lavish in praising opponents, believes pre-game estimates are way out of line. But to hear him tell it, LSU is in for a tough game.

Dietzel fears LSU may be looking past the Bears and to combat the languid attitude, Dietzel broke up his normal routine and ordered more work for his charges.

Cannon has yet to approach his All-America form this season, but he squelched a promising Texas Christian threat last week with a 77-yard runback of an intercepted pass. TCU bowed to the Tigers 10-0 with quarterback Warren Rabb connecting on a 46-yard scoring pass and sophomore halfback Wendell Harris booting a field goal.

Baylor has been singularly unsuccessful against LSU. In four games, LSU rolled up 193 points to none for Baylor and the 89-0 victory in 1908 is the top offensive effort in LSU history.

Ronnie Bull, one of the five sophomores in Baylor's starting lineup, gave impetus to the Baylor attack against Colorado with a 74-yard touchdown run last week in a 15-7 victory.

Baylor is the last of three Southwest Conference opponents for LSU. The Tigers opened the season by trimming Rice 26-3 before blanking TCU last week. After Miami next week, LSU swings into defense of its Southeastern Conference title against Kentucky.

Will Resign

Evashevski To Quit As Iowa Coach In 1963

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Coach Forest Evashevski, who built Iowa into one of the nation's top football powers, announced Friday he is resigning when his present contract expires in 1963.

The announcement, coming on the eve of Iowa's important Big Ten contest with Northwestern, took the entire university community by surprise.

About the only one concerned who had any advance knowledge of it was Mrs. Evashevski. She said her husband had told her of his decision.

The announcement was made in a brief letter from Evashevski to Harvey Davis, who is provost and acting as president of the university, and members of the Iowa board in control of athletics.

The letter gave no reason for the action and Evashevski said there would be no elaboration of the announcement.

The only hint was a sentence requesting permission of the board for Evashevski to "review any opportunities which are presented."

This was interpreted as meaning that Evashevski might be seeking either another position in sports or a business opportunity.

Evashevski's teams won the Big Ten Conference championship in 1956 and 1958 and followed them up each time with solid victories in the Rose Bowl. The Hawkeyes beat Oregon State 35-19 in the 1957 Rose Bowl and California 38-12 last New Year's Day.

The Hawkeyes last year led the nation in total offense with an average of 405.9 yards per game on the passing of All-America qarterback Randy Duncan and the running of a host of talented backs. The team was ranked No. 2 in the nation in the Associated Press poll.

Despite several losses by scholastic ineligibility — including Mitch Ogiego, Duncan's No. 1 understudy last year and scatback Willie Fleming — Iowa currently is ranked No. 5 in the nation on the strength of its 42-12 win over California in the season opener.

Since Evashevski started at Iowa, in 1952, his teams have compiled a record of 40 victories, 22 defeats and 4 ties. In the last three years it has been 14-3-1.

So unexpected was Evashevski's action that even Dr. Paul Brechler, director of athletics, said he was taken by surprise.

There had been reports of friction between Brechler and Evashevski. But Brechler said:

"Evy's decision to leave Iowa at the conclusion of his present contract is extremely regrettable. He will be a severe loss to the athletic department. In all phases of coaching, he is a genius."

Enos Slaughter, Mickey Vernon Put On Waivers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves Friday placed Mickey Vernon and Enos Slaughter on waivers.

General Manager John McHale said the club was asking waivers for the purpose of giving them their unconditional release.

Both men came to the Braves from the American League—Vernon from Cleveland, Slaughter from the Yankees—during the season as Milwaukee struggled to strengthen its bench for the pennant drive.

TECH MEETS CLEMSON

Northwestern Plays Iowa In Top College Grid Game

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

Northwestern's Wildcats, dreaming dreams of a Rose Bowl trip after their season-opening rout of Oklahoma, face a storng Iowa team Saturday that could be a king-sized spoiler.

Iowa went to the Rose Bowl last Jan. 1, so can't return. But the defending Big Ten champions can throw a big block into Northwestern's budding ideas of its first Rose Bowl appearance in a decade.

The game at Iowa City is the day's top college football contest on a schedule where some of the surprise teams of last week will have to "put up or shut up" against rugged competition.

Iowa last Saturday dispelled Coach Forest Evashevski's early season moaning that he need a quarterback, a halfback and some guards by whipping California, its opponent last New Year's Day, 42-14.

Olin Treadway and Wilburn Hollis proved adequate replacements to the graduated Randy Duncan quarterback while halfback Bob Jeter and fullback Dan Horn gave the backfield plenty of running "oomph."

This quartet, fronted by another fine line, will have to stop Coach Ara Parseghian's club that lambasted Oklahoma 45 - 13 and stamped itself as a real threat for the Big 10 title. The 'Cats are ranked No. 2 in the current Associated Press poll and Iowa is fifth.

Another pair in the top ten, Clemson No. 6 and Georgia Tech (No. 7), meet in Atlanta. Clemson is the kingpin of the Atlantic Coast Conference, beating chief contender North Carolina, then coming back to whip Virginia 47-0 for its second ACC victory behind quarterback Harvey White.

Quarterback Fred Brasleton led Tech to a surprising 16-14 victory over Southern Methodist, rated the best in the Southwest Conference, for its second straight victory. Tech has the stiffest defense Clemson has yet to face.

Top - ranked Louisiana State meets its third Southwest Conference foe in a row, Baylor at Shreveport, La. The Bayou Bengals took care of the first two—Rice and Texas Christian—and have reportedly strengthened their three-platoon attack.

Television viewers can watch unscored-upon Texas No. 10) play California at Austin, Tex., beginning at 4:30 p.m., EST. The Longhorns beat Nebraska 20-0, and Maryland 26-0. Cal beat Washington State 20-6 before its Iowa loss.

Third-ranked Mississippi should have an easy time against Memphis State. Army No. (4), the East's best, takes its lonesome end and explosive attack to Illinois.

Notre Dame (No. 8), which surprised with its comparatively easy victory over North Carolina, plays Purdue, which tied UCLA in its only start.

Tennessee, ranked ninth after stopping Auburn's 24-game unbeaten string, plays Mississippi State in one of the South's top games.

Syracuse plays Maryland in the East's best while UCLA travels to Pitt. Navy is at SMU and Auburn goes after another string against Hardin-Simmons in other Saturday action.

Other games Saturday:

EAST: Brown at Yale, Bucknell at Harvard, Princeton at Columbia, Lehigh at Cornell, Colgate at Penn State, Connecticut at Rutgers, Dartmouth at Penn, Villanova at Holy Cross.

SOUTH: Alabama at Vanderbilt, Virginia at Florida, Georgia at South Caroline, Rice at Duke, Miami at Florida State, North Carolina State at North Carolina, Wake Forest at Tulane, William & Mary vs. Virginia Tech, at Roanoke, Va., VMI vs. Richmond at Portsmouth, Va., Texas A&M vs. Miss. Southern at Mobile, Ala.

MIDWEST: Boston U. at Kansas, Marquette at Wisconsin, Michigan State at Michigan, Indiana at Minnesota, Missouri at Iowa State, Oklahoma State at Kansas State, Orgon State at Nebraska, Colordo at Oklahoma, Tulsa at Texas Tech.

SOUTHWEST: Texas Christian at Arkansas, Texas Western at New Mexico, Air Force at Trinity, Tex.

WEST: College of Pacific at Stanford, Idaho at Arizona, Denver at Colorado State, Washington State at Oregon, Utah State at Wyoming, Utah at Washington.

Griffith Says Senators Still Open To Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — Calvin Griffith, President of the Washington Senators, told the Washington Post Friday night he is still open to a move to Minneapolis.

Griffith, interviewed by the Post in Chicago during the second game of the World Series, said:

"We've always been open to offers which would improve our financial standing. I have not talked to the Minneapolis people since July. At the time, I said any offer would have to be submitted in writing.

"I understand from other sources that Minneapolis is ready to submit an offer in writing. When I get back from the World Series, I'll take the offer up with my board of directors and, if it's approved, we'll in turn ask the American League realignment committee for permission to move."

The Senators have until Oct. 31 to effect a franchise shift.

Griffith was asked if he was satisfied with this season's attendance of slightly more than 615,000 a gain of about 130,000 over last year.

"No, I'm not satisfied," Griffith answered.

The Sporting News in St. Louis had said the Senators, along plagued by low gate receipts, plan to move to Minneapolis in 1960.

Griffith told the Washington Post: "It's purely a matter of business.

"We're not making the money we should in Washington and if we can get a better proposition, we'll certainly have to look it over.

"This moving talk has come up for the last four World Series now. All I know is that we're still in Washington."

In a copyrighted story, the Sporting News, the baseball weekly, said Griffith had served notice of his plan to move on American Assn. President Ed Doherty and would advise the American League realignment committee during the World Series.

Palermo Pays $100,000 Bail

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Frank (Blinky) Palermo Friday posted bail of $100,000 to guarantee his appearance in Los Angeles when he is called to answer charges that he tried to grab control of welterweight boxing champion Don Jordan.

The bail was posted by Palermo's attorney, Morton Witkin, at a brief hearing before U.S. District Judge Thomas Egan.

Palermo was indicted Sept. 22 in Los Angeles by a federal grand jury. Also named in the indictment were Frankie Carbo, Truman Gibson Jr., president of National Boxing Enterprises, and two lesser known Californians.

Palermo, a Philadelphia fight figure, surrendered to authorities here. He is accused of extorting $1,725 from Jackie Leonard, former Hollywood (Calif.) Legion Stadium boxing promoter, through threats of harm to Leonard and Jordan's manager, Don Nesseth.

Prodres Missed Last Bum Series

CHICAGO (AP) — Johnny Podres, winning pitcher in Friday's second World Series game, had to wait a little longer than the other "old guard" Dodgers for another crack at the American League.

Johnny, whose 4-3 victory over the White Sox was his third consecutive Series' victory, was the pitching star of the '55 Dodger Series triumph over the New York Yankees. He beat them 8-3 and then 2-0 in the deciding game.

Then he was drafted into the Navy and had to sit out the '56 season and series when the Dodgers (still a Brooklyn team) lost the world championship back to the Yanks.

FOR LOANS

Tech Adopts Fund From Government

RUSTON (Special) — Louisiana Tech this school year will have $16,010 in federal funds for loans to Tech students or high school pupils planning to enter the college here. The money is being made available under terms of the National Defense Education Act.

Of the total, $10,674 is scheduled for loans during the present fall semester and any student now enrolled at Tech may apply. The remainder of the $16,010 will be on hand for loans during the spring semester, at which time graduating high school seniors, as well as Tech students may make applications.

Blanks for that purpose will be distributed by W. H. McLaurin, Tech business manager, who has been designated as the institutional representative of the National Defense Student Loan Fund here. Serving with him is Dr. Virgil Orr, head of the department of engineering research, as co-chairman, and J. W. Evans, Tech auditor, as a committee member.

COMMITTEE

Dr. Orr and the following other four faculty members constitute a screening committee: W. Doyle Evans, assistant professor of physics; Dr. Charles H. Smith, head of the chemistry department; Dr. W. B. Temple, head of the mathematics department, and Dr. George Freeman, professor of education.

The primary condition of an applicant's eligibility for one of these loans is that he should be in need of the loan in order to complete his course of study. McLaurin made the following announcement pertaining to the loan program:

"Special consideration will be given to (a) students with a superior academic background who express a desire to teach in elementary or secondary schools and (b) students whose academic background indicates a superior capacity or preparation in science, mathematics, engineering or a modern foreign language.

"For any fiscal year any student loan may not exceed $1,000 or the amount of such student's financial need, whichever is the lesser; and the total for all years to any student may not exceed $5,000.

"The loan will bear simple interest on the unpaid balance at the rate of 3 per cent per year.

"Interest does not begin to accrue until one year from the date when the borrower ceases to be a full-time student.

"The repayment of the principal of the loan, together with accrued interest thereon, shall be made to the institution over a ten-year period beginning one year after the date when the borrower ceases to be a full-time student in an institution of higher education and ending 11 years after such date."

Davis Urges Plan To Draw New Industry

TULLOS (Special) — Former Gov. Jimmie H. Davis said here yesterday that Louisiana must have an aggressive policy to attract small industry to small communities and that lack of the policy is causing thousands of young people to leave the state to make a living.

Appearing with Davis at Tullos were the following candidates on the Davis-Aycock ticket: C. C. "Taddy" Aycock, lieutenant governor; Dave L. Pearce, commissioner of agriculture; Ellen Bryan Moore, register of state lands; Roy R. Theriot, state comptroller and Rufus D. Hayes, commissioner of insurance. Jimmy Fontenot, independent candidate for custodian of voting machines, also spoke.

INVESTMENT

"The state has an investment in the young people who leave a community to find jobs elsewhere," Davis said. "It has provided for their education. When they leave Louisiana our state loses its entire investment. Families are disrupted and communities are poorer because they have lost their vital young blood."

Davis said that while the state has gained population as a whole since 1950 some 25 parishes have lost people, and 19 of these parishes are located in north Louisiana. The solution to this problem, Davis said, is to undertake an aggressive campaign to attract small industries to small communities. Until this is done, he said, some areas in Louisiana will prosper while others will suffer. He said out that during his administration there were 450 new plants or expansions in the state, providing some $70,000,000 in new payrolls. If elected, Davis said, he will work with small parishes to attract industry.

Frank A. Poole, Former Monroe Fireman, Dies

COLUMBIA (Special) — Frank A. Poole, 60, died Friday afternoon in a local hospital following a brief illness. He was a retired fireman of the Monroe fire department, and a veteran of World War II.

Funeral services are set 2 p.m. Saturday from the chapel of Riser and Son Funeral Home. The Rev. Tom Parker will officiate.

Interment will be in the Columbia cemetery.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. T. W. Girod, Shreveport; Mrs. Myrtle Maxwell, Hebert; three brothers, Foster Poole and Bert Poole, Shreveport; and Sherwood Poole, Hebert.

Nephews will serve as pallbearers.

Noe And Long Stump Areas In District

JONESVILLE (Special) — Candidate for governor, James A. Noe gave the New Orleans Times-Picayune a soft pat on the back and then backhanded it flatly, in a stumping swing that took the Noe - and - Long ticket through north-central Louisiana Friday.

Speaking at Chatham, Grayson and Jonesville, Noe scoffed at deLesepps Morrison's "weak-willy cry of foul" after the Times-Picayune quoted Morrison as saying "I will do anything possible to win (the election)."

"For once, the Times-Picayune printed the truth. He said it, just as sure as God makes little green apples and he knows it. Now, as usual, he is trying to squirm out.

"He tries to squirm out of every mess he puts his foot into," boomed Noe. "I nailed him to the post right at the start, when he couldn't meet my $100,000 challenge." He claimed earlier I would back out of the governors office if I were elected.

"He crawfished all over the place after I challenged him to put his money where his mouth was because he knew the statement was just as phony as a straw toupee.

"When those big newspapermen found out I was going to run with Earl, they were scared. Just as nervous as a turtle loose in a ripe watermelon patch. Now they've got to make sure they have got to support both of them —Davis and Morrison — just to make sure we won't get in."

Long said, "I talked to Jimmy Davis three months ago in Shreveport about his platform. Everytime I asked him about what he was going to do about a problem, he'd sputter, 'I'll cross that bridge when I get to it.' But he ain't gonna cross any bridges ever, 'cause he just ain't gonna get there."

Other members of the Noe-Long slate that took to the stump were Ben C. Bennett, candidate for attorney general; Curt Sieglin, candidate for secretary of state; C. J. (Bobby) Dugas, candidate for comptroller; Wayne Gaudin, candidate for registrar of state land, and Edgar Coco, candidate for insurance commissioner.

Independent candidates speaking Friday on the Noe and Long platform were S. J. McCrory, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, and Douglas Fowler, candidate for custodian of voting machines.

Saturday, the entire Noe-Long ticket has appearances scheduled at Sicily Island, Wisner, Mangham Winnsboro, Newellton and Ferriday.

Earlier yesterday Harvey G. Fields, of Farmerville, former head of the Louisiana Democratic party, issued a formal statement of endorsement of the Noe-and-Long ticket. Fields was at one time the law partner of Huey Long.

In other developments charges that Gov. Earl Long "abruptly cancelled" a speech at the Winn Parish Fair and Rodeo were sharply repudiated Friday morning by Long's running mate and candidate for governor, James A. Noe. "Earl did no such thing!" exclaimed Noe.

Chiropractor Motions Will Be Heard Wed.

Three Monroe chiropractors charged under state law with "illegal practice of medicine" will learn Wednesday if trial of their case will be postponed, and also will be told the number of witnesses they may summons to testify at the trial.

Judge Jesse Heard announced in Fourth District Court yesterday that he will rule Wednesday, Oct. 7, on two motions presented yesterday by Dr. H. C. Sloat, Dr. L. T. Murpry and Dr. R. E. Harvey.

The announcement was made before court arraignments began. One motion requested a continuance of their trial until a later date. The other asks permission to call more than six witnesses for the chiropractors, when the case does come to trial.

The Court must approve summoning of more than six witnesses, the maximum number normally allowed for the defense at misdemeanor trials. Each witness receives a nominal amount of payment from the state.

Attorneys for the chiropractors hope to postpone trial here until a decision on the constitutionality of the state law is made in federal court.

The federal trial, before three judges, is scheduled on Nov. 13 in New Orleans.

Chiropractors throughout the state maintain that Louisiana's law effecting them is unconstitutional. The "illegal practice" charge stems from the fact that chiropractors do not necessarily have to study as many phases of medicine as physicians do.

The Monroe defendants were indicted by the Ouachita Parish Grand Jury last April on the misdemeanor charge.

DIDN't NEED HORSE

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI)—Mounted patrolman Jeremiah Sullivan didn't need a horse to get his man. Sullivan was off duty Thursday when he saw a car strike a woman pedestrian and drive away. He chased the automobile, slowed by heavy traffic, on foot, caught up with it and arrested the driver, a 16-year-old escapee from the New Lisbon Colony for Boys.

Hail The Conquering Hero

The Dodger bench gives Charlie Neal (43) a hero's welcome as the second baseman comes in after swatting a two-run homer in the 7th inning of yesterday's World Series game at Chicago, won by the Dodgers, 4-3. Behind Neal is Junior Gilliam (19), who scored ahead of Neal and smiling in the dugout are manager Walt Alston (left) and Norm Larker. No. 98 is the Dodger batboy. (AP Wirephoto)

THREE HOMERS

for Podres, he had a rough go of it.

Those "go-go" White Sox wanted desperately to run up a two-game lead as the scene shifted from the friendly confines of their home park to Los Angeles, where the next three games will be played Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. And they came mighty close to doing it.

Two runs behind going into the eighth inning, the White Sox had gone down in order as Sherry rode to the rescue in the seventh. But then they brought that partisan crowd screaming to its feet with back-to-back singles by big Ted Kluszewski, the hero of their opening-game victory, and catcher Sherman Lollar.

Al Smith followed that with a scorching double into left center field which sent pinch-runner Earl Torgeson racing home—and Lollar trundling along behind him in a desperate, puffing dash for the plate.

But far out there near the bright green fence, Wally Moon had picked up the ball and with a frantic pivot he whirled and fired it in to shortstop Maury Wills.

And that young man, happily celebrating his 27th birthday, fired a strike to John Roseboro at the plate to put out Lollar by several feet.

Smith wound up at third on the throw—but that was as far as he got. Sherry struck out pinch-hitter Billy Goodman and got Jim Rivera on a high, twisting foul to Roseboro. Then in the ninth he set them down in order to send the long-suffering White Sox fans home unhappily from the first series they have entertained in 40 long years.

As the game got under way after morning rains, the Dodgers threatened both in the first and second innings by getting two men on base. But both times it came with two men out and the Sox held them off.

Meanwhile, the day had become even darker for Neal.

Because in that White Sox first, Luis Aparicio doubled down the right field foul line with a hit which was inside the foul line by inches as it skipped past the diving Gil Hodges at first. Little Luis raced on to third base, tagging up after the catch after Nellie Fox flied to deep right. Jim Landis drew a walk and then came the spot where Podres should have gotten out of it without a run.

For the slow-footed Kluszewski sent a smash to Neal which had all the earmarks of an easy double play ball.

But Neal juggled it, finally picked it up and, as Landis sailed past him into second, had to settle for the throw to first which got Kluszewski easily. But Aparicio laughed his way across the plate for a 1-0 White Sox lead.

Lollar ripped a pitch to Neal's left next, and while he got his glove on it, the lithe Charley couldn't hold it. Landis scored and now the sox were two runs ahead.

Wills then fumbled Smith's hard grounder for an error which left both base runners safe, But the Dodgers got out of it at long last as Bubba Phillips forced Lollar at third.

Tight-jawed Neal started to get some of it back in the fifth inning. There were two out when he stepped in and blasted a 370-foot homer into the lower left field stands to end a real Dodger drought in World Series scoring. It was their first run in 13 2-3 innings in this series and ended 22 2-3 straight scoreless innings in series play since their shutout defeat by the New York Yankees in the final game of the 1956 series.

It gave the Dodgers the idea.

Because two innings later, with two out, manager Walt Alston lifted Podres and sent Essegian up to pinch hit. It was a wise choice, for the husky Chuck—who hit only one home run as a major leaguer this season—blasted the seventh pinch-hit home run in series history to tie it up at 2-2 as the ball sailed into the upper deck of the left field stands.

Shaw, shaken, walked Gilliam. And he did it to his sorrow.

For Neal stepped in seconds later and got everything and more back than he had given away by cannoning his second homer of the day—that sky-scorching shot 430 feet into the White Sox bullpen in deep center field.

Turk Lown came on then to retire the side and gave up only one of the nine Dodger hits the rest of the way.

But those two runs that Neal had gotten back with his second homer were just enough after Sherry stemmed that rally in the eighth and walked off happily with the series all even at one game each.

Saturday will be an off day for travel and when they resume Sunday at the Los Angeles Coliseum it will be two big right-handers, Don Drysdale, the National League strikeout king, for the Dodgers and Dick Donovan for the White Sox.

11-10 Favorites

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers were quoted Friday night as 11-10 favorites to win the World Series after squaring the Series 1-1. In all previous quotations the Chicago White Sox were favored.

Arkansas To Test Horned Frogs Today

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Texas Christian University's Horned Forgs, plentiful and powerful, open defense of their Southwest Conference championship Saturday against the darkhorse Arkansas Razorbacks.

TCU is favored by less than a touchdown against the Hogs, who won their first two outings against Tulsa and Oklahoma State.

The Frogs are expected to bounce back from last week's 10-0 loss to national champion Louisiana State. But Arkansas should be as ready as possible before 26,000 expected fans on Dad's Day.

The game will feature two of the top running backs in the conference, halfback Jim Mooty of Arkansas, all-SWC last year as a junior, and TCU fullback Jack Spikes.

Spikes ranks ninth nationally in ground gaining with 168 yards on 25 carries. Mooty is 11th with 161 yards on 22 carries.

BATTING TIPS PAY OFF

Skinny Charlie Neal LA's Hero

By CHARLES MAHER

CHICAGO (AP) — Charlie Neal, a skinny little guy with arms no bigger than his bat, was standing quietly Friday in the limelight occupied Thursday by a man nearly twice his size.

Neal, who looks as though he mgiht need the wind behind him to drive the ball over the infield, had just belted two mighty home runs—the second of which made the difference in the Dodgers' 4-3 victory over Chicago.

"Man, this is different from the regular season," said Neal. "This is for the big money.

"I wasn't thinking when I hit that second one that it might win the game, but I was sure glad to see it go. I knew we'd need some runs against these guys.

"Yes, that was one of the biggest thrills of my career."

On the perimeter of the gang of reporters throwing questions at the 155-pound second baseman was Coach Chuck Dressen, who has been giving Neal some batting tips this season.

Dressen said Neal had a weakness, but Chuck wouldn't say what it was until a newsman suggested: "A fast ball, high and inside."

"Yeah," said Dressen. "I had him tape the end of his bat, so he couldn't get his hands down so far. Now he doesn't have such a long bat and he can hit those high inside pitches better."

Standing next to Ted Kluszewski, the enormous first baseman who hit two homers for Chicago Thursday, Neal would need only a slingshot to give a perfect impersonation of David in the story of Goliath's demise.

But there was no question of the authority in the little fellow's home runs Friday. The first one was a streaking drive into the left field seats and the second one sailed 425 feet into the Chicago bullpen in dead center.

Neal hit 19 homers during the regular season, including one in the playoffs, and drove in 83 runs, more than anyone else on the club except Duke Snider, who accounted for 88.

Left-hander Jornny Podres, who got the victory Friday although he was pulled for a pinch hitter in the seventh, had trouble getting started as usual. The Sox got to him for two runs in the opening inning.

"I don't know what it is about that first inning," Johnny said. "It's been a jinx for me all through my career.

"I was throwing good today, but I was a little wilder than usual at the start."

Podres gave up two hits in the first, one a double just inside first base by Luis Aparicio and the other a single off the end of Sherm Lollar's bat.

"That ball Aparicio hit must have been close to a foot outside," Podres said.

"But, anyway, they didn't knock me out. And that's three in a row now in the World Series."

In his last two World Series games, in 1955, Podres beat the New York Yankees 8-3 and 2-0, picking up the second win in the decisive seventh game.

Utility outfielder Chuck Essegian, who hit only one homer in 85 at-bats during the regular season, socked one that went even farther than either of Neal's.

"That felt as good as any I've ever got," said the former Stanford football star. "I knew right away it was gone. I hit it on a three-and-one pitch, but I didn't think (Bob) Shaw was going to walk me. He hadn't walked anybody up to then and I wasn't counting on one."

Essegian's homer, which tied the score 2-2 in the seventh, had barely achieved the apex of its flight when it crashed into the upper deck in left - center field. Unimpeded, it might have flown close to 450 feet.

Maury Wills, the Dodgers' rookie shortstop, booted a ball in the first inning, but cleared himself in the eighth with a skillful relay job on the key play of the game.

Al Smith doubled to left with two on, and the slow-footed Lollar tried to score from first behind pinch runner Earl Torgeson. But Wills took a throw from Wally Moon and nailed Lollar at the plate by 10 or 15 feet.

"As soon as I turned around after getting the ball from the outfield, I figured I had him," Wills said. "Moon made a real good play getting the ball off the wall, and he gave me a good throw. I don't know whether a faster runner would have scored or not. We had Lollar by quite a ways."

Manager Walt Alston, who has refused all season to predict anything, declined again Friday to take a guess on the Series outcome.

"It's all even, one to one, tied for first," Walt said. "That's all I'll say."

Wildcats Play Northwestern At Pineville

NATCHITOCHES, La., (Special) — Northwestern State College faces the oldest rival on its 1959 football slate Saturday night when the Demons tangle with the Louisiana College Wildcats at Pineville's Alumni Stadium.

In 1908, fifty - one years ago, the Demons captured a 7-0 victory over the Wildcats. Since that time the teams have met 44 times with Northwestern enjoying a 29-9-6 edge in the series.

Last year, the Wildcats took a 13-12 victory in the traditional classic and the Demons will be out to avenge that setback — one of only two reverses on their 1958 slate. The other loss was to McNeese State, but the Demons have already avenged that defeat.

Northwestern will be trying to recuperate from a 19-0 defeat at the hands of Lamar Tech last week, while the high - riding Wildcats will be seeking their third victory in a row. NSC is 1-1-1 for the season; Louisiana College is 2-1-0.

Several changes dot the Demon starting lineup, with switches being made among the Purple, White and Blue units. The Purple unit, which will start the game will have three newcomers — 245-pound tackle Octave Bernard, 205-pound center Earl Phillips and 200 - pound guard Jim Williams.

The remainder of the squad will include the same starters as those for the past three games. Only question mark is at the right end position where either 190-pound George Smith or 200-pound Johnny Wall will hold forth.

Jena Jr. High Wants Games

JEN, La. (Special) — Jena Junior High School is searching for football games, according to high school coach Bill Jarrell.

Jarrell says the team, composed of players in 6th, 7th and 8th grades, would like games on a home - and - home basis, preferably on Tuesdays or Thursdays, afternoon or night.

Any school interested should contact junior high coach Billy Harper or Jarrell at phone 2-0850.

CUCCINELLO

'I Thought He Could Make It,' Says Pale Sox Coach

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—In a corner of the tomblike White Sox dressing room, third base Coach Tony Cuccinello muttered:

"I thought he could make it. I thought he could make it. But he hesitated at second and they made a perfect play to get him at the plate."

The coach was referring to the key play in Chicago's defeat in the World Series' second game in which catcher Sherm Lollar, slowest Sox runner, was nailed at the plate by 10 feet on Al Smith's eighth-inning double. Lollar was trying to score from first with the potential tying run.

Said the disconsolate Lollar:

"I was running on the pitch, but I stopped at second because I didn't know whether the ball would be caught."

Cuccinello said Lollar had taken off from first on the three-two pitch which Smith clouted to the wall in left center.

"I honestly thought Lollar could score, so I waved him on," said Cuccinello. "Then I figured Smith could move on to third on the throw-in to the plate and we have the winning run there with none out. But there are two perfect throws after the retrieve and so Lollar is out by a mile."

The Sox dressing room was a direct contrast to Thursday's joyful scene after Chicago's 11-0 opening rout of the Dodgers. The players were silent and gloomy as they slowly peeled off their uniforms.

Sox starter Bob Shaw, who pitched two home run balls to Charley Neal and one to pinch-hitter Chuck Essegian, rued the fact. "My timing was off," he said.

Shaw's battery mate, Lollar, said the handsome right-hander "didn't have his stuff today."

"Shaw is a low ball pitcher and he wasn't getting his pitches down," said Lollar. "Neal's first homer was off an inside slider, a breaking ball. Essegian hit a high slider for his homer and Neal's second homer was a fast ball outside and fairly high."

Ted Kluszewski injected a bit of humor in an otherwise stilted atmosphere. Somebody congratulated him for his leaping, one-handed stab of Junior Gilliam's liner in the fifth inning.

"The trouble with your sports writers is that you don't realize I've been a good glove man for a couple of years," said the massive, 35-year-old first baseman, who clouted two homers in Thursday's romp over the Dodgers. Big Klu got his sixth RBI of the Series Friday with an infield out in the first inning and spanked his fourth hit, an eighth-inning single which started the futile Sox rally.

Little Luis Aparicio, who banged a double and a single in his first two trips, said Dodger starter Johnny Podres was a very effective pitcher.

"He had real good stuff," said Aparicio. "He moved the ball in and out real good and he changed speed very well."

Aparicio was delighted over getting his first hits of the Series. "I was a little nervous over playing in my first World Series yesterday. But today I feel—now it's just another game."

Manager Al Lopez, meeting writers in the Sox press clubhouse some distance from the dressing room, said of Lollar's ill-fated attempt for home:

"His hesitation simply messed up the whole play."

New AGD Unit Installed At Northwestern

Theta Sigma Upsilon sorority chapter at Northwestern Louisiana State College was initiated into Alpha Gamma Delta, international sorority recently. This chapter is one of the many being installed as the result of the union of the two sororities that was made at a convention in June.

The series of events included the initiation in the Blue Room of the Fine Arts building on the campus, a banquet in the Pink Room of the Nakatosh Hotel and a presentation tea at Varnado Hall on Sunday afternoon.

Present for the occasion were Mrs. Lou Vogelsand of Lincoln, Nebraska, grand president; Mrs. Laura Haskell of Jonesboro Arkansas, province president, Miss Eva Johnson of Kansas City, Missouri, province vice-president; and Mrs. Anna Houghton of Chicago, grand council.

Miss Hazel Mitchell of Monroe was among those participating, along with four alumnae from Houston, Texas. Mrs. Anthony Wilbert, Sr. of Monroe, was initiated as an alumna.

Jones Family Reunion Held In Ruston

The annual J. C. Jones reunion was held on Sunday, September 20 at the Fairground Park in Ruston, Louisiana, with fifty-four members present.

The Rev. P. B. Henderson, pastor of Culbertson Baptist Church, Farmerville, La., led the invocation.

Officers for the coming year were elected. Mr. Bill Holder of Jonesboro, was elected president. Mr. J. D. Jones of Winnfield was elected vice-president and Miss Hazel Jones of Leesville was elected secretary.

It was decided to hold the reunion on the second Sunday in September in the future.

The following members were in attendance: Mrs. J. E. McElduff, Everett McElduff, Mrs. Mittie Colvin, Mrs. Vernice Green, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Kinman, Nancy, Jerry, L. D., JoAnn Kinman, Mrs. J. D. Mrs. Redditt Honored In St. Joseph

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. McIntosh of St. Joseph were hosts at a "This Is Your Life" party in honor of Mrs. Frances Drake Redditt. Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh and their younger daughter, Jane greeted the guests at the door of the reception hall which was attractively decorated with arrangements of early fall flowers. Miss Kay McIntosh, another daughter, was a participant in the program.

Presiding at the guest book was Mrs. Robert James Lancaster.

Among the guests participating in the program were Miss Mary Louise Giraud, Miss Marjorie Lamkin and Mrs. George Bagley, who served as mistress of ceremonies.

Family members present to honor Mrs. Redditt were Mrs. Elizabeth Drake, her mother, Mrs. Jack Napier, her sister and Mr. C. W. Drake, her brother. Also participating were members of her immediate family, Mr. John Redditt, and their children Elizabeth Susan and Robert.

Mrs. Redditt was recently chosen as one of the top ten homemaking teachers of the year by one of the leading national magazines. Present to honor her were her national contest winning students, Miss Lavern Thompson, Mrs. Emma Jane Bradley, Miss Lynn Parks and Miss Kay McIntosh. Also present were Miss Lela Tomlinson, Louisiana director of homemakking education and Miss Lillian Talbot, district supervisor of homemaking education.

At the conclusion of the program Miss Peggy McBride sang "This Is Your Life" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Prent Castle.

The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of September lilies in a silver bowl. Serving as tea girls were Misses Michele Bagley, Jacque Bowden, Diane Allen, Sandra Joyce, Peggy McBride, Lynn Parks, Janie Parks, Judy Shaughnessy and Billie Dean Shaughnessy.

Many guests were present for this occasion to pay tribute to Mrs. Redditt.

Imaginative Designs Are Highlights Of New Lamps

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Time was when it was difficult to tell whether a table lamp was prepared from a ready mix or just grew thatta way. But that Atrocious Period is now passe. Newer lamps have personality, and good design — a happy combination for an amateur decorator who heretofore was limited to pot boiler concoctions.

There is a lamp for every taste and pocketbook, with heavy stress on Early American and Oriental motif. The American eagle has winged his way into the home, and one finds him adorning globes, columns, shafts and pedestals of lamps. In one instance, he is caged in a glass bowl. Lovers of the Colonial period will enjoy the wide range of designs from a carved maple wood scroll that unrolls the Declaration of Independence to a pair of Priscilla and John Alden lamps with openly carved plaques of pressed wood.

The Oriental influence seems to be making solid inroads into contemporary homes. There are lamps with intricate filigree and carved patterns that resemble Byzantine designs. An Oriental lotus lamp, made from a bronzed incense burner shows petals unfolding from closed and half-open blossoms to those in full bloom.

The table in the dining room was centered with an arrangement of white cotton bolls and white althea. Place cards and miniature silver boxes containing fortunes added to the bridal theme of the luncheon.

The honoree wore for the occasion a multi-color print transitional cotton sheath dress with matching accessories and a corsage of gladiolas.

Guests present were Mrs. George Fink, Miss Leita Heard of Bernice, La., Mrs. Harold Breard, Mrs. Robert Ervin, Mrs. Louis Peters, the honoree, Miss Fink, and the Mrs. Garretson.

Father Feels Rejected When Baby Arrives

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — When "baby makes three," some fathers feel rejected. Demands of the newest member of the clan seem to take all of mother's attention.

If it's happening to you, don't give your wife the cold shoulder. She's not neglecting you.

Psychologists claim she needs you more than ever and that baby, for emotional development, needs to feel that there's nothing strained between Ma and Pa.

What appears to be a coalition between mother and child is a temporary alliance, according to Dr. Otto Von Mering, assistant professor of social anthropology at the University of Pittsburgh.

DO CHORES SMILINGLY

Even if you have to darn your own socks or cook for yourself during this period, do it—and smilingly. Don't retreat into the role of "sidewalk superintendent or Monday-morning quarterback," Dr. Von Mering cautions.

Dr. Lee H. Bartemeier, a Baltimore psychiatrist, says a mother's feelings about her baby are greatly affected by her husband's attitudes — especially toward the child.

The chairman of the American Medical Association Council on Mental Health explains that a father's feelings play a much larger — although indirect —part in the emotional development of an infant that is generally recognized.

"To give her child the love he needs," Dr. Bartemeier said, "a woman must have the consistent love of her husband."

"From a psychological standpoint, she and the child are one, and if her husband is disinterested in their child, she experiences this lack as a lessening of his love for her."

IMPORTANT TO MOTHER

Dr. Bartemeier, who also is medical director of Seaton Institute, explains that father is the "most important" person in the mother's life and the one who, thereby, "has the power to affect her most deeply."

When a father feels rejected or can't make up his mind about the new baby, it upsets her and, inevitably, baby.

The mother, according to Dr. Bartemeier, may not be aware of any antagonistic feelings stemming from such situations, but the infant may sense them through her tenseness, her lack of customary gentleness.

It's suggested that the new father accept his "third-person" role tactfully, pitching in to ease his wife's chores — without seeming to want to take over completely for her in the child raising arena.

Dr. Bartemeier said the rearing of a child is the "most difficult of human endeavors," but that most persons have a fair expectancy of success—even fathers.

Teens Best Text Book Is The Daily Newspaper

By VIVION BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

"I saw Sputnik way up in the sky," bragged a little fellow to his high school baby sitter, a while back.

Do you think she understood that kind of baby talk? Perish the thought. She'd never heard of earth satellites, it turned out, and perhaps doesn't now know that the United States has tossed several of its own into orbit.

How many teen-agers live in that little vacuum, passing through this wondrous age without curiosity or awareness? And why hasn't their interest been aroused by parents or teachers?

Time was when the daily newspaper was required reading for high school students, considered essential to keeping up with current events. But maybe Susie, like Johnny, can't read.

READ YOUR NEWSPAPER

The American newspaper is the most rewarding investment that one can make at a price that doesn't even pay for the newsprint. Just test it. Go through the paper from start to finish, and see for yourself.

A newspaper offers diaries of events that history may never record in such detail. These accounts of our times are painless ways to absorb knowledge, step by step, on the educational ladder.

What's in a daily newspaper anyway?

There is news — everything you want to know that has happened since the last edition, if it is fit to print.

The newspaper is pure gold for today's science student, acquainting him with the strides being made in the vast scientific world. Book reviews stimulate a literary bent. Theatre reviews dissect drama, opera, the stage. And where, I ask you, but in the newspaper can you find a daily vocabulary builder like the challenging crossword puzzle?

BEST BARGAIN

There are news feature stories to offer a forward look into the world of other people—the way they live, sleep, eat, dress, their work and hobbies. We get the latest word from the world of sports, brush with the business world. A student of economics can learn a great deal about debentures and deficits from financial pages. And then there are the editorials, helping to analyze the news and the paper's interpretation of it. You don't have to agree with the writer, but it's stimulating to see the other fellow's point of view. Newspapers haven't lost their sense of humor through the years either, and you can still find cartoons and comics strips to give you a laugh.

Reporters over the world write first hand accounts of their news experiences, sometimes gathered at great personal risk. It's for you to read today, why wait until you are a college senior to read the digested version?

The daily newspaper keeps us informed, too, of what is happening in government and community. Our syndicated news service also keep radio and TV updated with news and they may pick up the slack until newspaper edition time. From weather forecast to want ads, the newspaper spells service to the citizen. It is such a time honored institution that perhaps it is taken for granted, especially by young people.

FOR LOANS

Tech Adopts Fund From Government

RUSTON (Special) — Louisiana Tech this school year will have $16,010 in federal funds for loans to Tech students or high school pupils planning to enter the college here. The money is being made available under terms of the National Defense Education Act.

Of the total, $10,674 is scheduled for loans during the present fall semester and any student now enrolled at Tech may apply. The remainder of the $16,010 will be on hand for loans during the spring semester, at which time graduating high school seniors, as well as Tech students may make applications.

Blanks for that purpose will be distributed by W. H. McLaurin, Tech business manager, who has been designated as the institutional representative of the National Defense Student Loan Fund here. Serving with him is Dr. Virgil Orr, head of the department of engineering research, as co-chairman, and J. W. Evans, Tech auditor, as a committee member.

COMMITTEE

Dr. Orr and the following other four faculty members constitute a screening committee: W. Doyle Evans, assistant professor of physics; Dr. Charles H. Smith, head of the chemistry department; Dr. W. B. Temple, head of the mathematics department, and Dr. George Freeman, professor of education.

The primary condition of an applicant's eligibility for one of these loans is that he should be in need of the loan in order to complete his course of study. McLaurin made the following announcement pertaining to the loan program:

"Special consideration will be given to (a) students with a superior academic background who express a desire to teach in elementary or secondary schools and (b) students whose academic background indicates a superior capacity or preparation in science, mathematics, engineering or a modern foreign language.

"For any fiscal year any student loan may not exceed $1,000 or the amount of such student's financial need, whichever is the lesser; and the total for all years to any student may not exceed $5,000.

"The loan will bear simple interest on the unpaid balance at the rate of 3 per cent per year.

"Interest does not begin to accrue until one year from the date when the borrower ceases to be a full-time student.

"The repayment of the principal of the loan, together with accrued interest thereon, shall be made to the institution over a ten-year period beginning one year after the date when the borrower ceases to be a full-time student in an institution of higher education and ending 11 years after such date."

Davis Urges Plan To Draw New Industry

TULLOS (Special) — Former Gov. Jimmie H. Davis said here yesterday that Louisiana must have an aggressive policy to attract small industry to small communities and that lack of the policy is causing thousands of young people to leave the state to make a living.

Appearing with Davis at Tullos were the following candidates on the Davis-Aycock ticket: C. C. "Taddy" Aycock, lieutenant governor; Dave L. Pearce, commissioner of agriculture; Ellen Bryan Moore, register of state lands; Roy R. Theriot, state comptroller and Rufus D. Hayes, commissioner of insurance. Jimmy Fontenot, independent candidate for custodian of voting machines, also spoke.

INVESTMENT

"The state has an investment in the young people who leave a community to find jobs elsewhere," Davis said. "It has provided for their education. When they leave Louisiana our state loses its entire investment. Families are disrupted and communities are poorer because they have lost their vital young blood."

Davis said that while the state has gained population as a whole since 1950 some 25 parishes have lost people, and 19 of these parishes are located in north Louisiana. The solution to this problem, Davis said, is to undertake an aggressive campaign to attract small industries to small communities. Until this is done, he said, some areas in Louisiana will prosper while others will suffer. He said out that during his administration there were 450 new plants or expansions in the state, providing some $70,000,000 in new payrolls. If elected, Davis said, he will work with small parishes to attract industry.

Frank A. Poole, Former Monroe Fireman, Dies

COLUMBIA (Special) — Frank A. Poole, 60, died Friday afternoon in a local hospital following a brief illness. He was a retired fireman of the Monroe fire department, and a veteran of World War II.

Funeral services are set 2 p.m. Saturday from the chapel of Riser and Son Funeral Home. The Rev. Tom Parker will officiate.

Interment will be in the Columbia cemetery.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. T. W. Girod, Shreveport; Mrs. Myrtle Maxwell, Hebert; three brothers, Foster Poole and Bert Poole, Shreveport; and Sherwood Poole, Hebert.

Nephews will serve as pallbearers.

Noe And Long Stump Areas In District

JONESVILLE (Special) — Candidate for governor, James A. Noe gave the New Orleans Times-Picayune a soft pat on the back and then backhanded it flatly, in a stumping swing that took the Noe - and - Long ticket through north-central Louisiana Friday.

Speaking at Chatham, Grayson and Jonesville, Noe scoffed at deLesepps Morrison's "weak-willy cry of foul" after the Times-Picayune quoted Morrison as saying "I will do anything possible to win (the election)."

"For once, the Times-Picayune printed the truth. He said it, just as sure as God makes little green apples and he knows it. Now, as usual, he is trying to squirm out.

"He tries to squirm out of every mess he puts his foot into," boomed Noe. "I nailed him to the post right at the start, when he couldn't meet my $100,000 challenge." He claimed earlier I would back out of the governors office if I were elected.

"He crawfished all over the place after I challenged him to put his money where his mouth was because he knew the statement was just as phony as a straw toupee.

"When those big newspapermen found out I was going to run with Earl, they were scared. Just as nervous as a turtle loose in a ripe watermelon patch. Now they've got to make sure they have got to support both of them —Davis and Morrison — just to make sure we won't get in."

Long said, "I talked to Jimmy Davis three months ago in Shreveport about his platform. Everytime I asked him about what he was going to do about a problem, he'd sputter, 'I'll cross that bridge when I get to it.' But he ain't gonna cross any bridges ever, 'cause he just ain't gonna get there."

Other members of the Noe-Long slate that took to the stump were Ben C. Bennett, candidate for attorney general; Curt Sieglin, candidate for secretary of state; C. J. (Bobby) Dugas, candidate for comptroller; Wayne Gaudin, candidate for registrar of state land, and Edgar Coco, candidate for insurance commissioner.

Independent candidates speaking Friday on the Noe and Long platform were S. J. McCrory, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, and Douglas Fowler, candidate for custodian of voting machines.

Saturday, the entire Noe-Long ticket has appearances scheduled at Sicily Island, Wisner, Mangham Winnsboro, Newellton and Ferriday.

Earlier yesterday Harvey G. Fields, of Farmerville, former head of the Louisiana Democratic party, issued a formal statement of endorsement of the Noe-and-Long ticket. Fields was at one time the law partner of Huey Long.

In other developments charges that Gov. Earl Long "abruptly cancelled" a speech at the Winn Parish Fair and Rodeo were sharply repudiated Friday morning by Long's running mate and candidate for governor, James A. Noe. "Earl did no such thing!" exclaimed Noe.

Chiropractor Motions Will Be Heard Wed.

Three Monroe chiropractors charged under state law with "illegal practice of medicine" will learn Wednesday if trial of their case will be postponed, and also will be told the number of witnesses they may summons to testify at the trial.

Judge Jesse Heard announced in Fourth District Court yesterday that he will rule Wednesday, Oct. 7, on two motions presented yesterday by Dr. H. C. Sloat, Dr. L. T. Murpry and Dr. R. E. Harvey.

The announcement was made before court arraignments began. One motion requested a continuance of their trial until a later date. The other asks permission to call more than six witnesses for the chiropractors, when the case does come to trial.

The Court must approve summoning of more than six witnesses, the maximum number normally allowed for the defense at misdemeanor trials. Each witness receives a nominal amount of payment from the state.

Attorneys for the chiropractors hope to postpone trial here until a decision on the constitutionality of the state law is made in federal court.

The federal trial, before three judges, is scheduled on Nov. 13 in New Orleans.

Chiropractors throughout the state maintain that Louisiana's law effecting them is unconstitutional. The "illegal practice" charge stems from the fact that chiropractors do not necessarily have to study as many phases of medicine as physicians do.

The Monroe defendants were indicted by the Ouachita Parish Grand Jury last April on the misdemeanor charge.

DIDN't NEED HORSE

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI)—Mounted patrolman Jeremiah Sullivan didn't need a horse to get his man. Sullivan was off duty Thursday when he saw a car strike a woman pedestrian and drive away. He chased the automobile, slowed by heavy traffic, on foot, caught up with it and arrested the driver, a 16-year-old escapee from the New Lisbon Colony for Boys.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Wife's Imagination Creating A Problem

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: I've been married 15 years to a man I trusted and considered a fine father and husband. I always laughed at jokes about traveling men and said it couldn't happen to me.

Today he received a letter from a senorita he met while conventioning in Mexico City. She's coming this way and would like to meet his family. He showed me the letter and I almost had a heart spell.

He met this girl in the hotel jewelry shop. She helped select the earrings he brought me.

Now things are beginning to fall into place. When he comes in off the road he's so tired he falls into bed without a decent hello. I used to think traveling knocked him out. Now I think it's the night life.

What shall I do about this girl? Am I magnifying things?—33

Dear 33: Your imagination is indeed working overtime. If this enchilada had a romantic interest in your husband she would not be writing to his home asking to meet his family. And if there had been anything between them, you would not have seen the letter.

Men who travel work hard. Some may have an assortment of dolls tucked away in key cities, but most traveling men are too busy trying to make a living.

Tell your husband you'd be pleased to have the girl for coffee. Skip the accusations. You could create a problem where none exists.

Dear Ann: The letter from the 16-year-old girl who couldn't talk to her mother hit home. I couldn't talk to my mother either—but for a different reason.

Mother was the clearing house for all the neighborhood gossip. No information was safe. I could die when I think of the intimate things she told members of her bridge club, my aunts, the neighbors and even some of my teachesr.

To make matters worse, Mother was a great guesser. She'd get a few facts and add to them like mad. I had to lock up my diary, hide my personal letters and make phone calls from the drug store.

So, please, Ann, tell these mothers who feel hurt that maybe their daughters won't talk to them because they've learned that Mother can't keep anything to herself.—BETRAYED

Dear Ann: Last night my husband and I had dinner at his mother's. After dinner she went into the living room and said she was too tired to do dishes. This was O. K with me. I felt she was entitled to rest after having cooked for us all.

What burned me up is her fat daughter plopped down in the living room and talked to the men, while I did the dishes myself. This isn't the first time I've been stuck.

My husband says his sister has a hot temper and it isn't worth a fight. He advised me to say nothing for Mom's sake and be a good sport. I think I should speak up next time, but I don't know what to say.—DISHPAN HANDS.

Dear Dishpan: I see no reason for you to let your sister-in-law take advantage of you. Simply say: "That was a delicious meal, Mother. Hortense and I will do the dishes and you can relax." Or—if the lazy lout has escaped to the living room—say (good naturedly): "Grab a towel while they're hot. Those who eat must work."

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Funds Topic Of Speech In Mississippi

UNIVERSITY, Miss. (AP)—Lt. Gov.-elect Paul Johnson called on members of the next Legislature Friday to "Hold the line on expenditures."

Johnson told a clinic for the lawmakers that "screaming for economy in government is not popular these days but if we follow the dictates of socialism we are doomed as a state.

"These are abnormal times and there must be surplus monies in the treasury to meet all emergencies."

He said the state has three alternatives: to spend money wisely, to tax to the point of confiscation, or to expand the state's economy three or four times.

Johnson said that if the true facts were known about Mississippi more industries would "come in and cast their lot with us."

Rep. Edgar J. Stephens Jr. of New Albany, chairman of the House Appropriation Committee, told the group treatment for the mentally ill is needed in Mississippi.

Stephens said care of the mentally ill aged is "something we have shied away from because we did not want the state to become a dumping ground for old people who are just a little bit addled.

"But the situation has come to a point where we have to have a facility for these chronically mentally ill people over 65 who are dangerous to themselves and others."

He also said there is no hospital in the state for treating the mentally ill under 16.

"The only way they can get in a mental hospital is if they are criminally insane."

New Orleans Man To Head TB Conference

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—Dr. Sydney Jacobs of New Orleans was elected president of the Southern Tuberculosis Conference Friday at the annual meeting here.

Judge Earnest Mason of Pensacola was named president-elect and Judson M. Allred Jr. of Jackson, Miss., secretary-treasurer.

The 1959 program award was presented by W. W. Wendt of Richmond, Va., to Miss Nora Hamrer of Richmond.

Dr. Abraham Russakoff of Birmingham, Ala. was named president of the Southern Trudeau Society, the medical section of the conference.

Dr. Spencer of Schwartz of Oteen, N. C., was named president-elect and Dr. Howard A. Buechner, New Orleans, secretary.

BusinessWoman To Lead Drive For J. Davis

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Mrs. Stella D. Allphin, Baton Rouge businesswoman, today stepped out of the race for register of the state land office to lead a women's division campaign for former Gov. Jimmie Davis.

Monday is the deadline, the secretary of state's office said, for candidates to withdraw if they don't want their names on the ballot.

Preparation of ballots is expected to start next week.

Mrs. Allphen, one of several candidates for register of the state land office, said she will devote her time to campaigning for Davis in the race for governor.

She has been active in youth work. She and her son are realtors.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Four Months Too Young To Start Coarse Foods

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Any child if given the opportunity to try new foods—or new ways of eating them—seldom will be stubbornly set against them. But his mother should be willing to take time to let him establish these new habits. They are not accomplished overnight.

Mrs. G. McD writes, "Dear Mrs. Eldred: I have a little nephew who won't eat any food which has lumps in it. He picks them out with his fingers. Consequently though he is two years old his mother is still feeding him the strained foods.

"My son is just four months old and he is a good eater. I am wondering if it wouldn't be a good idea to introduce the coarser foods now so that he won't be set against them? Then by the time he is a year old he would be very well used to them. His mother didn't begin the junior foods until he was a year old. Was that the reason he disliked them so?"

MRS. ELDRED'S ANSWER

It might have been. Or, it might have been that she expected him overnight to accept the new type of food instead of introducing it to him gradually. One good way is to put a teaspoon or so of the coarser foods along with the pureed type and when he has accepted this, go on to two teaspoons, etc., thus getting him used to the "particles" in his mouth.

Four months is pretty early to start coarse foods and I would continue the strained ones for several months and then try the above suggestion.

Mashing the vegetables finely is also a step toward offering them "as is." And you can try the mashed vegetables even before you offer them cut coarsely as in the junior type foods.

When a baby spits out the new type food and doesn't seem to like it, stop and go back to the strained foods for a time. If the mother goes along with a child's temporary likes or dislikes, she keeps mealtimes pleasant and then he won't develop the tendency to rebel at what she feeds him.

Out of curiosity a child will pick up a morsel of food that is put on his tray and put it in his mouth. So when he is getting used to larger particles of food it is a good idea to make these finger foods which he can feed himself.

If you would like to have our leaflet "Diet from One to Two Years" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 26 to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

DEAR ABBY

A Hobby For Hubby Is Far Better Than None

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a husband who gets all steamed up about a "hobby" and then after spending a fortune on it, drops it?

Our basement is cluttered with fishing equipment, skis, cameras, golf clubs and hunting junk, complete with guns, boots, tents and sleeping bags. All as good as new. I could go on and on!

My husband makes good money, but when I spend $25.00 on a hat he blows his top. Is he being fair or not?
RUTH

DEAR RUTH: He is NOT being fair, but he IS being human. (How many hats, dresses and pairs of shoes have YOU been all "steamed up about" and later cast aside — as good as new?)

Find out if your husband's hobbies are positively dead or merely deferred. If he has no intentions of reviving his interest, either sell, lend or give away the equipment. But don't let it gather dust and ill will over the years.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 years old and have a best friend (at least I THINK she is my best friend) who comes over to my house and goes through my drawers and closets all the time. She also takes my diary and locks herself in the bathroom while she reads it. What am I going to do?
KATHY

DEAR KATHY: If she is your best friend, look further. I think you can do better.

DEAR ABBY: I will come straight to the point. I am 19, in nurses training and I made a mistake. Should I give my baby up for adoption or should I keep it? The father is a married man so there is no hope for us ever getting together. My parents have left the decision up to me. Please help me do the right thing.
UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: There are two lives to consider. Your own and the baby's. If you cannot give your child a good home and the proper bringing-up it would be better off being adopted by people who could. If you feel you might have regrets later on, and can afford to keep the child, don't sign anything so final as adoption papers. The decision must be your own.

Reports On Meg Touch Off Wave Of Discussions

LONDON (UPI) —Reports that Princess Margaret may move to Australia as governor-general of the distant continent touched off a wave of pro-and-con discussions in Britain Friday.

Maj. John Griffin, press officer for the 29 year-old princess, said he had heard nothing to confirm the reports but added, "It seems like an extraordinary idea."

Newspapers here quoted Australian sources as suggesting that Margaret replace the present governor-general, Field Marshal Sir William Slim, when his term ends this January.

The job would mean Margaret would have to move down under, at least for the duration of her service.

Many Britons feel all members of the royal family should stay at home except for occasional tours abroad. In this case, however, some thought the change would be good for the Princess, whose unhappy romantic life has been a cause of public concern.

"The fact that these talks apparently were inconclusive has strengthened speculation on the possibility she may be the next governor-general," said the Daily Sketch, quoting a dispatch from the Melbourne Herald.

CLOTHES Make Your Man

By Harry Juster

DEAR MR. JUSTER: Why does a man in his sixties try to dress like a college boy? My husband insists on wearing tweeds, button down shirts, bow ties and porkpie hats. He laughs and won't pay any attention when I tell him I think that a man of his age should have a little more dignity.
Mrs. G.R.F.

Can't a man be debonair and dignified at the same time? I'm not recommending that an older man should blossom forth in bizarre colors and styles. However, I can't agree on setting a age limit on wearing clothes that have a little zest, providing they're properly coordinated. As long as he acts his age, he doesn't have to look it.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: What's happened to the full cut suits? All I see and hear about is the trim look. I notice that you're constantly referring to Ivy and Continental models. I like wide shoulder, full-chested coats and roomy pants. As far as I'm concerned nothing's as comfortable.
L.L.

Comfort's a matter of design. Your suit needn't resemble a sack to give you ease. Coats with thick padded shoulders, extra inches of cloth under the arms and balloon size trousers are superfluous. Proper fullness across the back and chest is the key to comfort. This feature is incorporated into the current trim styling that makes most of us look taller and slimmer. Try it. See if you don't agree.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: After spending hours carefully ironing my husband's shirts, it kills me to see the way he manhandles them. No amount of fussing and fuming will change the way he puts on his tie. He buttons the collar and turns it up. Next, he ties his tie and then turns the collar back...all wrinkled. What's the secret to avoid messing a perfectly ironed collar?
Mrs. K.

The secret is three little words—button collar last. Tell him to slip the tie under the turned down collar and knot it. Then button up and tighten knot in place. This simple method will prevent any further wrangling and wrinkling.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: My wife of four months maintains that washing sweaters ruins them. As a college student on the G.I. Bill who wears a lot of sweaters, I find the cleaning costs pretty steep. Isn't there some safe way to wash them?
G.I.

What are you wearing, delicate cashmeres? Today the selection of washable sweaters is practically unlimited. There are handsome knits of every description and style made of man-made fibers or of specially processed wools that take to washing like a duck to water. There's no need for your cleaning bill to exceed the cost of soap flakes.

TIP FOR THE DAY

Clothes Need Time Off, Too

No coffee breaks, no time out for lunch for your clothes. They put in eight hours-and-more-a day. Just as you, they need care and rest. Caress them with periodic brushings, put them to bed gently and give frequent days off. You'll be repaid by their working longer for you and not showing their age.

Blonde Daughter Found In N.O.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The slim, platinum blonde daughter of a Syracuse University art professor, missing since Sept. 21, was found Friday in New Orleans.

Tania Roters, 17, daughter of Associate Professor Carl Roters, telephoned her father shortly after noon. She had been working in a circulation firm in the Louisiana city. The high school senior said she was happy and satisfied.

The blue-eyed Tania, a sometime model, returned here Sept. 18 after spending the summer with her father in Wyoming. He is a noted painter of Western scenes. She ran away three days later, after telling a boy friend she had a good job offer in New Orleans.

TO GIVE SCHOLARSHIPS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Education Department of the Federation of Women's Clubs announced Friday it will award the "teacher of the year" a two semester scholarship at Indiana University. Mrs. Henry L. Smith, Bloomington, Ind., chairman of the Education Department, also announced that an international fellowship at Purdue University will be awarded to the international teacher of the year.

Mr. And Mrs. W. Johnson Honored With Parties

Mr. William M. Johnson, who with Mr. Johnson will be leaving soon to make their home in New Orleans, was guest of honor at a tea given recently by Mrs. A. D. Foreman. Mrs. Foreman entertained at her home during the late afternoon.

For the occasion she wore a green afternoon dress and a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. Foreman was wearing a dress of brown silk accented with a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums.

The table in the dining room was covered with a damask cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink roses. Alternating at the silver service were Mrs. Clara Moore, sister of the hostess, and Mrs. Dell Whittington.

Fellow employees of Mr. Johnson presented the couple with a silver service.

Guests included Mrs. Essie DeStefano, Mrs. Dell Whittington, Mrs. Lee Cooper, Mrs. Juanita Osterland, Mr. Charles E. Wright, Mrs. Florence Thompson, Mrs. Sudie Wilder, Mrs. Aniece Rutledge, R. Charles Hayden, Mrs. Clara Moore, Mrs. Berhl Riggin, Mrs. Montez Smith, Mr. J. W. Warren, Mrs. Melba Oliver, Mr. W. E. Whetstone, Mrs. Lucille Smith, Mrs. Lois West, Mr. A. E. Kitto.

Also present were Miss Altha Burnett, Mrs. Bobbie Edwards, Miss Gwen Dunn, Mrs. Fenniah Wilkins, Mrs. Ruby Taylor, Mrs. Margie Jones, Miss Kathleen McKnight, Mrs. Avie Wilhite, Mrs. Minnie Thibeaux, Mrs. Levida Stroud of Tallulah, Miss Sadie Baragona of Winnsboro, Miss Dorothy Taylor of Ruston, Mrs. Doris Faison of Bastrop, Mrs. Hazel White of Lake Providence, Mrs. Zoe Rester of Bastrop, Mrs. Grace Bill and Billie Roy, Mrs. Hozier Blazier, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Foreman, Mrs. Sybil Christman, Mrs. Carlotta Thomas and Mr. W. M. Johnson.

On Wednesday Mrs. Elbert Lozes was hostess at a luncheon in her home in honor of Mrs. Johnson. Yellow and bronze chrysanthemums were used as centerpiece on the dining room table. Enjoying the occasion with Mrs. Johnson were Mrs. A. E. Kitto, Mrs. Thomas Jefferson, Mrs. Russell Morrow, Mrs. W. B. Whetstone, Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mrs. Joe Herring and the hostess.

New AGD Unit Installed At Northwestern

Theta Sigma Upsilon sorority chapter at Northwestern Louisiana State College was initiated into Alpha Gamma Delta, international sorority recently. This chapter is one of the many being installed as the result of the union of the two sororities that was made at a convention in June.

The series of events included the initiation in the Blue Room of the Fine Arts building on the campus, a banquet in the Pink Room of the Nakatosh Hotel and a presentation tea at Varnado Hall on Sunday afternoon.

Present for the occasion were Mrs. Lou Vogelsand of Lincoln, Nebraska, grand president; Mrs. Laura Haskell of Jonesboro Arkansas, province president, Miss Eva Johnson of Kansas City, Missouri, province vice - president; and Mrs. Anna Houghton of Chicago, grand council.

Miss Hazel Mitchell of Monroe was among those participating, along with four alumnae from Houston, Texas. Mrs. Anthony Wilbert, Sr. of Monroe, was initiated as an alumna.

Jones Family Reunion Held In Ruston

The annual J. C. Jones reunion was held on Sunday, September 20 at the Fairground Park in Ruston, Louisiana, with fifty-four members present.

The Rev. P. B. Henderson, pastor of Culbertson Baptist Church, Farmerville, La., led the invocation.

Officers for the coming year were elected. Mr. Bill Holder of Jonesboro, was elected president. Mr. J. D. Jones of Winnfield was elected vice-president and Miss Hazel Jones of Leesville was elected secretary.

It was decided to hold the reunion on the second Sunday in September in the future.

The following members were in attendance: Mrs. J. E. McElduff, Everett McElduff, Mrs. Mittie Colvin, Mrs. Vernice Green, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Kinman, Nancy, Jerry, L. D., JoAnn Kinman, Mrs. J. D. Mrs. Redditt Honored In St. Joseph

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. McIntosh of St. Joseph were hosts at a "This Is Your Life" party in honor of Mrs. Frances Drake Redditt. Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh and their younger daughter, Jane greeted the guests at the door of the reception hall which was attractively decorated with arrangements of early fall flowers. Miss Kay McIntosh, another daughter, was a participant in the program.

Presiding at the guest book was Mrs. Robert James Lancaster.

Among the guests participating in the program were Miss Mary Louise Giraud, Miss Marjorie Lamkin and Mrs. George Bagley, who served as mistress of ceremonies.

Family members present to honor Mrs. Redditt were Mrs. Elizabeth Drake, her mother, Mrs. Jack Napier, her sister and Mr. C. W. Drake, her brother. Also participating were members of her immediate family, Mr. John Redditt, and their children Elizabeth Susan and Robert.

Mrs. Redditt was recently chosen as one of the top ten homemaking teachers of the year by one of the leading national magazines. Present to honor her were her national contest winning students, Miss Lavern Thompson, Mrs. Emma Jane Bradley, Miss Lynn Parks and Miss Kay McIntosh. Also present were Miss Lela Tomlinson, Louisiana director of homemakking education and Miss Lillian Talbot, district supervisor of homemaking education.

At the conclusion of the program Miss Peggy McBride sang "This Is Your Life" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Prent Castle.

The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of September lilies in a silver bowl. Serving as tea girls were Misses Michele Bagley, Jacque Bowden, Diane Allen, Sandra Joyce, Peggy McBride, Lynn Parks, Janie Parks, Judy Shaughnessy and Billie Dean Shaughnessy.

Many guests were present for this occasion to pay tribute to Mrs. Redditt.

Imaginative Designs Are Highlights Of New Lamps

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Time was when it was difficult to tell whether a table lamp was prepared from a ready mix or just grew thatta way. But that Atrocious Period is now passe. Newer lamps have personality, and good design — a happy combination for an amateur decorator who heretofore was limited to pot boiler concoctions.

There is a lamp for every taste and pocketbook, with heavy stress on Early American and Oriental motif. The American eagle has winged his way into the home, and one finds him adorning globes, columns, shafts and pedestals of lamps. In one instance, he is caged in a glass bowl. Lovers of the Colonial period will enjoy the wide range of designs from a carved maple wood scroll that unrolls the Declaration of Independence to a pair of Priscilla and John Alden lamps with openly carved plaques of pressed wood.

The Oriental influence seems to be making solid inroads into contemporary homes. There are lamps with intricate filigree and carved patterns that resemble Byzantine designs. An Oriental lotus lamp, made from a bronzed incense burner shows petals unfolding from closed and half-open blossoms to those in full bloom.

The table in the dining room was centered with an arrangement of white cotton bolls and white althea. Place cards and miniature silver boxes containing fortunes added to the bridal theme of the luncheon.

The honoree wore for the occasion a multi - color print transitional cotton sheath dress with matching accessories and a corsage of gladiolas.

Guests present were Mrs. George Fink, Miss Leita Heard of Bernice, La., Mrs. Harold Breard, Mrs. Robert Ervin, Mrs. Louis Peters, the honoree, Miss Fink, and the Mrs. Garretson.

Father Feels Rejected When Baby Arrives

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — When "baby makes three," some fathers feel rejected. Demands of the newest member of the clan seem to take all of mother's attention.

If it's happening to you, don't give your wife the cold shoulder. She's not neglecting you.

Psychologists claim she needs you more than ever and that baby, for emotional development, needs to feel that there's nothing strained between Ma and Pa.

What appears to be a coalition between mother and child is a temporary alliance, according to Dr. Otto Von Mering, assistant professor of social anthropology at the University of Pittsburgh.

DO CHORES SMILINGLY

Even if you have to darn your own socks or cook for yourself during this period, do it—and smilingly. Don't retreat into the role of "sidewalk superintendent or Monday-morning quarterback," Dr. Von Mering cautions.

Dr. Lee H. Bartemeier, a Baltimore psychiatrist, says a mother's feelings about her baby are greatly affected by her husband's attitudes — especially toward the child.

The chairman of the American Medical Association Council on Mental Health explains that a father's feelings play a much larger — although indirect —part in the emotional development of an infant that is generally recognized.

"To give her child the love he needs," Dr. Bartemeier said, "a woman must have the consistent love of her husband."

"From a psychological standpoint, she and the child are one, and if her husband is disinterested in their child, she experiences this lack as a lessening of his love for her."

IMPORTANT TO MOTHER

Dr. Bartemeier, who also is medical director of Seaton Institute, explains that father is the "most important" person in the mother's life and the one who, thereby, "has the power to affect her most deeply."

When a father feels rejected or can't make up his mind about the new baby, it upsets her and, inevitably, baby.

The mother, according to Dr. Bartemeier, may not be aware of any antagonistic feelings stemming from such situations, but the infant may sense them through her tenseness, her lack of customary gentleness.

It's suggested that the new father accept his "third-person" role tactfully, pitching in to ease his wife's chores — without seeming to want to take over completely for her in the child raising arena.

Dr. Bartemeier said the rearing of a child is the "most difficult of human endeavors," but that most persons have a fair expectancy of success—even fathers.

Teens Best Text Book Is The Daily Newspaper

By VIVION BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

"I saw Sputnik way up in the sky," bragged a little fellow to his high school baby sitter, a while back.

Do you think she understood that kind of baby talk? Perish the thought. She'd never heard of earth satellites, it turned out, and perhaps doesn't now know that the United States has tossed several of its own into orbit.

How many teen - agers live in that little vacuum, passing through this wondrous age without curiosity or awareness? And why hasn't their interest been aroused by parents or teachers?

Time was when the daily newspaper was required reading for high school students, considered essential to keeping up with current events. But maybe Susie, like Johnny, can't read.

READ YOUR NEWSPAPER

The American newspaper is the most rewarding investment that one can make at a price that doesn't even pay for the newsprint. Just test it. Go through the paper from start to finish, and see for yourself.

A newspaper offers diaries of events that history may never record in such detail. These accounts of our times are painless ways to absorb knowledge, step by step, on the educational ladder.

What's in a daily newspaper anyway?

There is news — everything you want to know that has happened since the last edition, if it is fit to print.

The newspaper is pure gold for today's science student, acquainting him with the strides being made in the vast scientific world. Book reviews stimulate a literary bent. Theatre reviews dissect drama, opera, the stage. And where, I ask you, but in the newspaper can you find a daily vocabulary builder like the challenging crossword puzzle?

BEST BARGAIN

There are news feature stories to offer a forward look into the world of other people—the way they live, sleep, eat, dress, their work and hobbies. We get the latest word from the world of sports, brush with the business world. A student of economics can learn a great deal about debentures and deficits from financial pages. And then there are the editorials, helping to analyze the news and the paper's interpretation of it. You don't have to agree with the writer, but it's stimulating to see the other fellow's point of view. Newspapers haven't lost their sense of humor through the years either, and you can still find cartoons and comics strips to give you a laugh.

Reporters over the world write first hand accounts of their news experiences, sometimes gathered at great personal risk. It's for you to read today, why wait until you are a college senior to read the digested version?

The daily newspaper keeps us informed, too, of what is happening in government and community. Our syndicated news service also keep radio and TV updated with news and they may pick up the slack until newspaper edition time. From weather forecast to want ads, the newspaper spells service to the citizen. It is such a time honored institution that perhaps it is taken for granted, especially by young people.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Broadway Bulletin Board

Mobland insiders aren't baffled by the assassination of "Little Augie" Pisano, although the cops and the front pages regard it as a mystery. They say Augie was killed because he tangled on a matter of policy with a powerful colleague in the Mafia who had intensely personal reasons for resenting Augie's attitude. The story line started over a week ago, in Greenwich Village, when the daughter of the Mafia biggie was assaulted by two members of another nationality near her home. She didn't call the police, she went to her father — and in a rage he summoned enough tough guys to beat up some 30 young men who bore a surface resemblance to the rapists "just to give them the idea that they ought to stay out of the Italian neighborhood." When Augie heard about the problem, he called another key gangster and told him to order the irate father to stop the sluggings on the theory that "we got enough problems." When the gangster intermediary passed the word — "Augie don't like it" — the Mafia nobleman reacted with a vicious, "Wait 'till his daughter is raped."

On the night of the murder, Augie restated his position with the intermediary, and the intermediary got in touch with the distraught father, who promptly arranged the slaying. It was a marvelously professional job.

Neither the hoodlums involved nor the sleuths trying to solve the case really believe the theory that the killers were in the back of Pisano's Cadillac when he and Mrs. Allen Drake left Marino's restaurant on Lexington Ave. and headed for Long Island. They're quite sure the doomed pair were tailed by another car carrying the assassins —and probably with a third man at the wheel.

Augie's death didn't represent much of a loss to humanity, but it will cause some concern in Detroit and Cleveland. He represented the gangseters of those cities at the big council meetings.

Martha Raye and the lawyers have just closed a deal for a $300,000 project — night club, restaurant and shopping area — to be opened on the site of the Copa City in Miami Beach. Nick Condos, her former husband and still manager, will be a partner in the venture, which they'll call "Martha Raye City" . . . Shubert Alley is abuzz with the report that Eddie Fisher may make his stage debut in a Broadway version of the antique Al Jolson chestnut, "The Jazz Singer" . . . Employes at one of the major airlines are secretly negotiating a switch to Jimmy Hoffa's controversial Teamsters' Union . . . The new Jerry Wald flicker, "The Best of Everything," ran over three hours when completed, but they've managed to cut it to something over two hours. Hope Lange emerges with the longest and most satisfactory part; Joan Crawford's seven - minute drunk scene wound up on the floor (no joke intended) and Martha Hyer's role was whittled ruthlessly. But previewers agree the picture is destined to be a huge commercial success.

Government investigators have been making the rounds of the Hollywood studios trying to gather evidence that a major booking agency constitutes a monopoly. . . Khrushchev finally made it. His name was listed on the Celebrity Service bulletin the other day, along with all the glamorous stage and screen stars' monikers ... Duke Hazlett, the entertainer who looks, dresses and sings almost exactly like Frank Sinatra, will cut his first record album soon after he makes his New York debut at the Roundtable Oct. 6. And he's not going to make any secret of his mimicry; the LP will be titled "Frankie's Way," and Duke will decorate it with a bouquet of old Sinatra hits, starting with "I'll Never Smile Again" . . . Oscar Hammerstein was operated on just four years after partner Dick Rodgers underwent surgery. The prognostication for Mr. Hammerstein is equally optimistic.

Americans who've visited Laos say they've never seen fancier uniforms than the ones the officers wear there. It's as if all the money we poured into that area went for gold braid . . . Orson Welles has decided he can make more money doing films in Europe than acting on the Broadway stage. Herman Shumlin tried to get him for a New York play, but without success. Orson's currently making a flicker with Juliette Greco for Darryl Zanuck, and loves the Continental life . . . The man who deserves the most credit for the Russian rocket hitting the moon is a Braziiian . . . Nils Asther, silent screen star now producing films in Sweden, is enlivening his return to the old country by making speeches blasting the U. S. press. He's angry because some American newspapers nad him working in the post office at $1.10 an hour when he insists — he really was making industrial films in Philadelphia.

Eclipse Over Boston

This is the way the eclipse of the sun appeared from a Northeast plane 15,500 feet over Boston yesterday. Bad weather from hurricane Gracie obscured the view from the ground but was seen by a group of Harvard astronomers from the plane. This shot was made as it reached the halfway point. Man Accused Of Daring Photography

KARLSTAD, Sweden (AP) — A convict who has been running a purported school for models behind the bars stood accused Friday of photographing bare bosomed girls in daring poses in the prison's visiting room.

Police Chief Anders Holmstrom said police have confiscated some of the pictures and are investigating.

Pornographic and indecent? Holmstrom said it will be up to a judge to decide.

How could there be such goings-on at austere Karlstad County Prison? A prison welfare officer explained: Visits are permitted in a private room without either bars or guards. The doors can be closed, though not locked. The convict used this room as his office.

The officer said the convict has admitted taking the pictures during visiting hours and smuggling out some of his production. He turned over to police films and copies he had hidden in his cell. The girls were shown nearly nude.

Coupled in the scandal is the complaint of a girl friend of the convict that she is pregnant.

Even in liberal-minded Sweden, there were a lot of raised eyebrows. A spokesman for the Prison Board in Stockholm promised a full inquiry.

The name of the convict, serving an indefenite term for fraud, was withheld. This is in keeping with a general rule of Swedish police in the case of prisoners sentenced to less than one year or to an indefinite term.

The convict runs a mannequin school in Stokholm in absentia, Holmstrom said.

Arab Republic Says Will Close Red Consulate

CAIRO (UPI)—The United Arab Republic Friday threatened to close the Chinese Communist consulate in Damascus and delayed the departure of a new ambassador to Peiping in a deepening rift with Red China.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser's government was angered over an anti-U.A.R. speech made in Peiping during the Reds' 10th anniversary ceremonies by Syrian Communist Leader Khalid Baghdash.

Bitterness of the feelings generated was obvious at the Chinese Embassy anniversary celebration in Cairo Thurday night.

An Iraqi delegation was the only group from the Arab world to attend.

BROADCAST

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Radio Budapest Friday broadcast a proposal for direct negotiations between Communist Hungary and the United States for improvement of their relations.

Khrushchev, China Boss In Deep Talk

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Red China's boss Mao Tze-tung appeared to be locked in a deep Red summit talk of their own in Peiping Friday night.

So absorbed were the two men that they passed up attendance at a Peiping ballet in honor of Red China's 10th anniversary celebrations.

The official New China News Agency said Khrushchev and Mao conferred in an atmosphere of coriality and friendship.

There was no official word on what they were discussing, but it was assumed that Khrushchev was giving Mao a detailed fill-in on his Camp David talks with President Eisenhower and his U.S. tour.

A Peiping broadcast said the participants included Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and Mikhail A. Suslov, Communist party secretary Chinese President Liu Shao-chi, Premier Chou En-lai, Foriegn Minister Chen Yi and Defense Minister Lin Piao.

This lineup indicated the talk was the most important of the three Khrushchev has had with the Red Chinese chief since arriving in Peiping last Wednesday.

In two speeches in Peiping Khrushchev has practically lectured Mao on the advisability of avoiding war and settling disputes by negotiation. He appeared to be taking a cool attitude toward Peiping's quarrel with India and the situation in Laos. So far Mao has not echoed the theme.

Khrushchev and his top hosts failed to appear at a performance of the ballet company and symphony orchestra of the Bolshoi Academic Theater through they had been scheduled to do so. A Tass dispatch reported only the attendance of several Chinese vice premiers and members of Asian, African and Communist delegations.

That caused speculation that the high-level Communist talks were continuing late into the night.

FROM KHRUSH SIDEKICK

Ike Gets Praise, Nixon Criticism

MOSCOW (AP)—One of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's traveling companions in the United States looked back on the trip with praise for President Eisenhower and criticism for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The latter, said Georgi A. Zhukov, head of the Soviet state committee for cultural relations with other countries, tried to "raise the Americans against the Soviet guest."

But, Zhkov added, "historians will call this trip a heroic deed," taking into account the fact that there were so many "unknowns in in the equations the head o' the Soviet government had to solve."

He published his impression of the Khrushchev trip in the Communist party paper Pravda Friday. He was Pravda's roving diplomatic correspondent during most of the postwar years.

Viewed from Moscow, Khrushchev's prospects in the United States did not look too good, he said.

"The echo of abusive speeches and articles reached Moscow across the ocean. Catholic bishops urged Americans to ring bells and pray to God to save them from dreadful Communist seduction and by no means meet the trans-oceanic guest," he wrote.

There was a continuous flow of speeches warning "any negotiations with the Bolsheviks are unneeded and harmful, but nevertheless the trip was made.

"The head of the Soviet government judged Eisenhower's courageous gesture on merits, made as it was in defiance of all blueprints of the cold war, and in friendly fashion shook the outstretched hand."

Khrushchev, Zhukov continued, read a cable on board his plane about a Nixon speech before a convention of dentists which "constituted an attempt to raise the Americans against the Soviet guest."

"Why did Nixon do this "Zhukov asked. "We remember his trip in our country as a guest of the Soviet government. The Soviet people knew about many far from friendly statements about our country by this politician. And he knew we knew them.

"At that time we did not yet know that upon his return from Moscow Nixon had made a proposal to the government to use the arrival of Khrushchev to give him a 'cold war' battle—this was reported only on Sept. 21 by James Reston in the New York Times."

Zhukov said that until Khrushchev arrived in the United States "many Americans knew less about our country than we know about the moon."

"Now they had before them a live and dynamic, easily approachable, straightforward, persistent representative of the new world who was able to stand up for himself."

Discussing the favorable Eisenhower - Khrushchev atmosphere, Zhukov recalled that the Camp David talks were held to softly played records of music by Soviet Composer Dmitri Shostakovich.

BROTHEL

LONDON (AP)—A 23-year-old British couple admitted in court Friday they set up a three-girl brothel in the basement of a rented house. They explained they wanted to make enough money to get married. The girl, Susan Glenn, was sentenced to six weeks in jail and her fiance, Michael Hart, to two months.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Wife's Imagination Creating A Problem

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: I've been married 15 years to a man I trusted and considered a fine father and husband. I always laughed at jokes about traveling men and said it couldn't happen to me.

Today he received a letter from a senorita he met while conventioning in Mexico City. She's coming this way and would like to meet his family. He showed me the letter and I almost had a heart spell.

He met this girl in the hotel jewelry shop. She helped select the earrings he brought me.

Now things are beginning to fall into place. When he comes in off the road he's so tired he falls into bed without a decent hello. I used to think traveling knocked him out. Now I think it's the night life.

What shall I do about this girl? Am I magnifying things?—33

Dear 33: Your imagination is indeed working overtime. If this enchilada had a romantic interest in your husband she would not be writing to his home asking to meet his family. And if there had been anything between them, you would not have seen the letter.

Men who travel work hard. Some may have an assortment of dolls tucked away in key cities, but most traveling men are too busy trying to make a living.

Tell your husband you'd be pleased to have the girl for coffee. Skip the accusations. You could create a problem where none exists.

Dear Ann: The letter from the 16-year-old girl who couldn't talk to her mother hit home. I couldn't talk to my mother either—but for a different reason.

Mother was the clearing house for all the neighborhood gossip. No information was safe. I could die when I think of the intimate things she told members of her bridge club, my aunts, the neighbors and even some of my teachesr.

To make matters worse, Mother was a great guesser. She'd get a few facts and add to them like mad. I had to lock up my diary, hide my personal letters and make phone calls from the drug store.

So, please, Ann, tell these mothers who feel hurt that maybe their daughters won't talk to them because they've learned that Mother can't keep anything to herself.—BETRAYED

Dear Ann: Last night my husband and I had dinner at his mother's. After dinner she went into the living room and said she was too tired to do dishes. This was O..K with me. I felt she was entitled to rest after having cooked for us all.

What burned me up is her fat daughter plopped down in the living room and talked to the men, while I did the dishes myself. This isn't the first time I've been stuck.

My husband says his sister has a hot temper and it isn't worth a fight. He advised me to say nothing for Mom's sake and be a good sport. I think I should speak up next time, but I don't know what to say.—DISHPAN HANDS.

Dear Dishpan: I see no reason for you to let your sister-in-law take advantage of you. Simply say: "That was a delicious meal, Mother. Hortense and I will do the dishes and you can relax." Or—if the lazy lout has escaped to the living room—say (good naturedly): "Grab a towel while they're hot. Those who eat must work."

To learn how to keep your boy friend in line without losing him, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far To Go," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Funds Topic Of Speech In Mississippi

UNIVERSITY, Miss. (AP)—Lt. Gov.-elect Paul Johnson called on members of the next Legislature Friday to "Hold the line on expenditures."

Johnson told a clinic for the lawmakers that "screaming for economy in government is not popular these days but if we follow the dictates of socialism we are doomed as a state.

"These are abnormal times and there must be surplus monies in the treasury to meet all emergencies."

He said the state has three alternatives: to spend money wisely, to tax to the point of confiscation, or to expand the state's economy three or four times.

Johnson said that if the true facts were known about Mississippi more industries would "come in and cast their lot with us."

Rep. Edgar J. Stephens Jr. of New Albany, chairman of the House Appropriation Committee, told the group treatment for the mentally ill is needed in Mississippi.

Stephens said care of the mentally ill aged is "something we have shied away from because we did not want the state to become a dumping ground for old people who are just a little bit addled.

"But the situation has come to a point where we have to have a facility for these chronically mentally ill people over 65 who are dangerous to themselves and others."

He also said there is no hospital in the state for treating the mentally ill under 16.

"The only way they can get in a mental hospital is if they are criminally insane."

New Orleans Man To Head TB Conference

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—Dr. Sydney Jacobs of New Orleans was elected president of the Southern Tuberculosis Conference Friday at the annual meeting here.

Judge Earnest Mason of Pensacola was named president-elect and Judson M. Allred Jr. of Jackson, Miss., secretary-treasurer.

The 1959 program award was presented by W. W. Wendt of Richmond, Va., to Miss Nora Hamner of Richmond.

Dr. Abraham Russakoff of Birmingham, Ala. was named president of the Southern Trudeau Society, the medical section of the conference.

Dr. Spencer of Schwartz of Oteen, N. C., was named president-elect and Dr. Howard A. Buechner, New Orleans, secretary.

BusinessWoman To Lead Drive For J. Davis

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Mrs. Stella D. Allphin, Baton Rouge businesswoman, today stepped out of the race for register of the state land office to lead a women's division campaign for former Gov. Jimmie Davis.

Monday is the deadline, the secretary of state's office said, for candidates to withdraw if they don't want their names on the ballot.

Preparation of ballots is expected to start next week.

Mrs. Allphen, one of several candidates for register of the state land office, said she will devote her time to campaigning for Davis in the race for governor.

She has been active in youth work. She and her son are realtors.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Four Months Too Young To Start Coarse Foods

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Any child if given the opportunity to try new foods—or new ways of eating them—seldom will be stubbornly set against them. But his mother should be willing to take time to let him establish these new habits. They are not accomplished overnight.

Mrs. G. McD writes, "Dear Mrs. Eldred: I have a little nephew who won't eat any food which has lumps in it. He picks them out with his fingers. Consequently though he is two years old his mother is still feeding him the strained foods.

"My son is just four months old and he is a good eater. I am wondering if it wouldn't be a good idea to introduce the coarser foods now so that he won't be set against them? Then by the time he is a year old he would be very well used to them. His mother didn't begin the junior foods until he was a year old. Was that the reason he disliked them so?"

MRS. ELDRED'S ANSWER

It might have been. Or, it might have been that she expected him overnight to accept the new type of food instead of introducing it to him gradually. One good way is to put a teaspoon or so of the coarser foods along with the pureed type and when he has accepted this, go on to two teaspoons, etc., thus getting him used to the "particles" in his mouth.

Four months is pretty early to start coarse foods and I would continue the strained ones for several months and then try the above suggestion.

Mashing the vegetables finely is also a step toward offering them "as is." And you can try the mashed vegetables even before you offer them cut coarsely as in the junior type foods.

When a baby spits out the new type food and doesn't seem to like it, stop and go back to the strained foods for a time. If the mother goes along with a child's temporary likes or dislikes, she keeps mealtimes pleasant and then he won't develop the tendency to rebel at what she feeds him.

Out of curiosity a child will pick up a morsel of food that is put on his tray and put it in his mouth. So when he is getting used to larger particles of food it is a good idea to make these finger foods which he can feed himself.

If you would like to have our leaflet "Diet from One to Two Years" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 26 to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

DEAR ABBY

A Hobby For Hubby Is Far Better Than None

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a husband who gets all steamed up about a "hobby" and then after spending a fortune on it, drops it?

Our basement is cluttered with fishing equipment, skis, cameras, golf clubs and hunting junk, complete with guns, boots, tents and sleeping bags. All as good as new. I could go on and on!

My husband makes good money, but when I spend $25.00 on a hat he blows his top. Is he being fair or not? RUTH

DEAR RUTH: He is NOT being fair, but he IS being human. (How many hats, dresses and pairs of shoes have YOU been all "steamed up about" and later cast aside — as good as new?)

Find out if your husband's hobbies are positively dead or merely deferred. If he has no intentions of reviving his interest, either sell, lend or give away the equipment. But don't let it gather dust and ill will over the years.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 years old and have a best friend (at least I THINK she is my best friend) who comes over to my house and goes through my drawers and closets all the time. She also takes my diary and locks herself in the bathroom while she reads it. What am I going to do? KATHY

DEAR KATHY: If she is your best friend, look further. I think you can do better.

DEAR ABBY: I will come straight to the point. I am 19, in nurses training and I made a mistake. Should I give my baby up for adoption or should I keep it? The father is a married man so there is no hope for us ever getting together. My parents have left the decision up to me. Please help me do the right thing. UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: There are two lives to consider. Your own and the baby's. If you cannot give your child a good home and the proper bringing-up it would be better off being adopted by people who could. If you feel you might have regrets later on, and can afford to keep the child, don't sign anything so final as adoption papers. The decision must be your own.

Reports On Meg Touch Off Wave Of Discussions

LONDON (UPI) —Reports that Princess Margaret may move to Australia as governor-general of the distant continent touched off a wave of pro-and-con discussions in Britain Friday.

Maj. John Griffin, press officer for the 29 year-old princess, said he had heard nothing to confirm the reports but added, "It seems like an extraordinary idea."

Newspapers here quoted Australian sources as suggesting that Margaret replace the present governor-general, Field Marshal Sir William Slim, when his term ends this January.

The job would mean Margaret would have to move down under, at least for the duration of her service.

Many Britons feel all members of the royal family should stay at home except for occasional tours abroad. In this case, however, some thought the change would be good for the Princess, whose unhappy romantic life has been a cause of public concern.

"The fact that these talks apparently were inconclusive has strengthened speculation on the possibility she may be the next governor-general," said the Daily Sketch, quoting a dispatch from the Melbourne Herald.

CLOTHES Make Your Man

By Harry Juster

DEAR MR. JUSTER: Why does a man in his sixties try to dress like a college boy? My husband insists on wearing tweeds, button down shirts, bow ties and porkpie hats. He laughs and won't pay any attention when I tell him I think that a man of his age should have a little more dignity.
Mrs. G.R.F.

Can't a man be debonair and dignified at the same time? I'm not recommending that an older man should blossom forth in bizarre colors and styles. However, I can't agree on setting a age limit on wearing clothes that have a little zest, providing they're properly coordinated. As long as he acts his age, he doesn't have to look it.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: What's happened to the full cut suits? All I see and hear about is the trim look. I notice that you're constantly referring to Ivy and Continental models. I like wide shoulder, full-chested coats and roomy pants. As far as I'm concerned nothing's as comfortable.

Comfort's a matter of design. Your suit needn't resemble a sack to give you ease. Coats with thick padded shoulders, extra inches of cloth under the arms and balloon size trousers are superfluous. Proper fullness across the back and chest is the key to comfort. This feature is incorporated into the current trim styling that makes most of us look taller and slimmer. Try it. See if you don't agree.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: After spending hours carefully ironing my husband's shirts, it kills me to see the way he manhandles them. No amount of fussing and fuming will change the way he puts on his tie. He buttons the collar and turns it up. Next, he ties his tie and then turns the collar back...all wrinkled. What's the secret to avoid messing a perfectly ironed collar?
Mrs. K.

The secret is three little words—button collar last. Tell him to slip the tie under the turned down collar and knot it. Then button up and tighten knot in place. This simple method will prevent any further wrangling and wrinkling.

DEAR MR. JUSTER: My wife of four months maintains that washing sweaters ruins them. As a college student on the G.I. Bill who wears a lot of sweaters, I find the cleaning costs pretty steep. Isn't there some safe way to wash them?
G.I.

What are you wearing, delicate cashmeres? Today the selection of washable sweaters is practically unlimited. There are handsome knits of every description and style made of man-made fibers or of specially processed wools that take to washing like a duck to water. There's no need for your cleaning bill to exceed the cost of soap flakes.

TIP FOR THE DAY

Clothes Need Time Off, Too

No coffee breaks, no time out for lunch for your clothes. They put in eight hours-and-more-a day. Just as you, they need care and rest. Caress them with periodic brushings, put them to bed gently and give frequent days off. You'll be repaid by their working longer for you and not showing their age.

Blonde Daughter Found In N.O.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The slim, platinum blonde daughter of a Syracuse University art professor, missing since Sept. 21, was found Friday in New Orleans.

Tania Roters, 17, daughter of Associate Professor Carl Roters, telephoned her father shortly after noon. She had been working in a circulation firm in the Louisiana city. The high school senior said she was happy and satisfied.

The blue-eyed Tania, a sometime model, returned here Sept. 18 after spending the summer with her father in Wyoming. He is a noted painter of Western scenes. She ran away three days later, after telling a boy friend she had a good job offer in New Orleans.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

NO TALKS SCHEDULED

Material shortages that could lead to layoffs of factory and building workers spread Friday as result of a dock workers strike that has stopped cargo handling in ports from Maine to Texas.

The strike by 85,000 longshoremen on the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts was consolidated with the quelling of a back-to-work revolt by New York locals of the International Longshoremen's Union. No contract talks to end the walkout were in sight.

MCDONALD PESSIMISTIC

Negotiations to end the 80-day steel strike progressed into "a new stage," but neither side held hope of reaching the "negotiated settlement asked by President Eisenhower by Oct. 8. United Steelworkerss President David J. McDonald said "I am afraid I am not hopeful."

TRADE VOLUME UP

Despite a slump in major appliance sales, particularly in strikebound steel centers, overall retail trade volume this week was 2 to 6 per cent higher than the 1958 week, Dun & Bradstreet reported. Department store sales in the week ended Sept. 26 ran 7 per cent ahead of last year while sales to date also were up 7 per cent.

PRODUCTION CONTINUES

Negotiations in a three-week strike by 2,000 moldmakers against 26 glass container manufacturers were in "indefinite" recess, but a management source said production was continuing at a pace greater than during the week preceding the dispute. The talks collapsed Thursday following announcement by federal mediators that both sides were at an impasse.

Hog Prices Up On Market As Sales Active

CHICAGO (AP)—Hog prices on the Chicago market moved up 25 cents a hundred pounds Friday on both butchers and sows. Sales were active on receipts of 4,500 head.

Mixed No. 2 and 3 and mixed 1 to 3 grades scaling 200-230 pounds along with mixed 2 and 3s from 230-280 pounds brought $13.15 to $13.35. About 250 head of 1s and mixed 1 and 2s scaling 200-230 pounds and closely sorted for grade sold for $13.60, the top. Mixed grade 1 to 3 sows scaling 275-400 pounds sold from $11.50 to $12.50.

Cattle sales were fully steady on slaughter steers grading good and better. Lower grades were weak. Heifers were too scarce to test prices. Cows were mostly steady and bulls steady to 50 cents lower. Only 300 cattle were on hand.

Choice and low prime steers scaling 1,239 pounds sold at $28.50, the day's top. Choice 1,190 pound steers brought $27.75. Standard heifers sold for $22.50.

Sheep receipts totaled 300 with not enough of any one class to test prices. A few good and choice lambs brought $18 to $20.50. A few choice and prime sold for $21, the top.

Seven Persons Killed In Blast

LIMA, Peru (AP)—A gasoline explosion Friday killed seven persons, three of them children, and injured 10 others during a religious celebration at the village of Pacaraos, 30 miles north of Lima. The explosion came when a rocket part of a fireworks display, went awry and hit a parked truck's gasoline tank.

Stock Mart Irregular In Advancing

NEW YORK (AP)—A cautious stock market Friday groped its way to an irregular advance on the lightest turnover in two weeks.

A scattering of pivotal issues were strong enough to give the average a moderate gain. The industrial and utility sections were will ahead but the rails backed away from recent gains.

The market, which has been sanguine most of the week on hopes of a prompt settlement of the steel strike, lost its zip when United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald told newsmen he was not hopeful about the negotiations.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 2.97 to 636.57.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 50 cents to $222.80 with the industrials up $1.30, the rails down 10 cents and the utilities up 30 cents.

The market was the narrowest in a month as it shrunk to 1,147 issues traded. Of these, 547 advanced and 381 declined. There were nine new highs for the year and 32 new lows.

Volume fell off to 2,270,000 shares from 2,660,000 Thursday and was the lightest since Sept. 17 when 2,090,000 shares were traded.

Six of the 15 most active stocks advanced, five declined and four were unchanged.

Corporate bonds declined as trading slackened. Intermediate U.S. government bonds retreated to get in line with the high 5 per cent yield on the Treasury's new note issue.

Bond sales totaled $5,200,000 par value compared with $6,850,000 Thursday.

Soybean Prices Go Up; Others Advance Also

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures received strong support on the Board of Trade Friday and prices advanced more than a cent a bushel on all deliveries. Wheat, corn and oats advanced fractions and rye finished as much as a cent higher on the distant July delivery.

There was no particular feature to any of the markets and the advance was largely attributed to evening up transactions for the weekend.

Some buying of soybeans was credited to commission houses and local traders on reports of additional rain falling in Iowa and parts of Illinois and a noon forecast for continuation of rainfall.

Precipitation helped corn futures. There also was buying by a big processor and receipts of corn in Chicago continued light.

At the close wheat was ⅛ to ⅜ higher, December $1.96⅜-½; corn ¼ to ¾ higher, December $1.10; oats ⅛ to ⅜ higher, December 71⅛; rye ⅞ to 1 higher, December $1.33⅜-½, and soybeans 1¼ to 1 higher, November $2.13½-¾.

Demand for wheat picked up late in the session despite concern over the dock workers strike along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts and an embargo against further railroad shipments to ports affected by the walkout. Early in the session wheat declined over uncertainty as to how long the strike might continue.

Concert Drive For Members Nearing End

Memberships in the Northeast State Concerts Association will close today, Mrs. John D. Mullens, campaign chairman, announced last night.

Season tickets will be available, however, for persons who ordered memberships by mailing requests this week to the Fine Arts Division at Northeast, the chairman said.

Memberships are $7.50 for adults and $3 for students. Northeast State students will be admitted by presenting their college identification cards.

Working with Mrs. Mullens at the Frances Hotel, campaign headquarters, are: Miss Hermoine Driskell, Mrs. Roy Robertson, Mrs. J. W. Schonlau, Miss Mamie McNeill, Dr. Bert Heinberg, Grant Boardman, Dr. W. R. Hammond and Max Kulcke.

Division chairmen reported "very satisfactory" results of the membership drive last night. The program offerings have been a deciding factor in interest shown by many persons who bought memberships, the group said.

Events already scheduled include music, drama and lectures. Opening the season's features is a lecture Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in Brown Auditorium on the college campus. Dr. Fremont P. Wirth, instructor, traveler, author and lecturer, will speak on Soviet Russia.

The World famous Philharmonia Hungarica Symphony Orchestra is scheduled October 21 at Neville High Auditorium. Other booked attractions include: the Julliard String Quartet, Fred Waring and the Pennsylvanians, Julian Bryan, lecturer, Joan Blondell in "Dark at the Top of the Stairs," and several additional features.

Boy, 7, Thrown From Truck Here Suffers Injuries

A seven-year-old West Monroe youth, David Walsworth, suffered minor bruises and abrasions late yesterday when he was thrown from the back of a pickup truck driven by his father, Leo Walsworth.

Police said Walsworth reported that he was going north on North 7th St. in West Monroe when two motor scooters came up Otis St. and made a right turn onto North 7th.

Walsworth told police one of the scooters came over into his lane and that he threw on the brakes to avoid a collision. His son, who was riding in the back of the truck, was thrown off, Walsworth added.

The youth was rushed to St. Francis, Hospital.

Police said last night that no charges had been filed.

Pleads Innocent

MERCED, Calif. (UPI) — Barbara Burns, 21, daughter of the late comedian Bob (Bazooka) Burns, pleaded innocent Friday to a charge of illegal possession of marijuana.

Superior Judge Gregory P. Maushart set Nov. 4 for a jury trial and lowered bail from $5,000 to $2,500. Friends were expected to post bail.

Miss Burns and Mrs. Barbara Smith, 22, were arrested Sept. 23 on information supplied by four boys they met at a drivein. The boys told authorities Miss Burns bragged that she was smoking a marijuana cigarette and had a flip-top box full of narcotics.

Science Gets Emphasis At Carroll High

Science education will be given additional emphasis during the current year at Carroll High School. Principal M. H. Carroll's application for participation in the Traveling High School Science Library Program has been accepted by the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

A set of 200 outstanding, evaluated, up-to-date books in the sciences and mathematics will circulate to the school library from Washington, D. C. All branches of science will be covered and the reading level will range from books the brilliant junior high student will find interesting to some that will give the outstanding high school senior a taste of advanced work.

IDEA

The idea for this experimental program, aimed at interesting more students in scientific and technical careers, originated with the National Science Foundation, an agency of the Federal Government established in 1950 "to promote the progress of science. . ." The AAAS was requested to administer the program.

The AAAS was organized in 1848 and is the oldest national scientific society. It is a federation of 270 scientific and professional societies and has over 56,000 individual members. It accepted the NSF grant, and in 1955 selected and administered the first library of 150 books which circulated to 66 schools. From this modest beginning the program has expanded until during 1959-60 the library will go to about 1,7000 schools in every State in the Union. The American Community School of Paris (France), and to U. S. Army Navy and Air Force dependents schools throughout the world.

The 200 books are circulated 5 at a time to four high schools in geographic proximity, the cases rotating every two months. In this way new titles with a fresh appeal appear periodically. The books in their traveling cases are on display in the school library and representatives of PTA civic groups, service organizations and interested individuals are invited to examine them.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

Broadway Bulletin Board

Mobland insiders aren't baffled by the assassination of "Little Augie" Pisano, although the cops and the front pages regard it as a mystery. They say Augie was killed because he tangled on a matter of policy with a powerful colleague in the Mafia who had intensely personal reasons for resenting Augie's attitude. The story line started over a week ago, in Greenwich Village, when the daughter of the Mafia biggie was assaulted by two members of another nationality near her home. She didn't call the police, she went to her father — and in a rage he summoned enough tough guys to beat up some 30 young men who bore a surface resemblance to the rapists "just to give them the idea that they ought to stay out of the Italian neighborhood." When Augie heard about the problem, he called another key gangster and told him to order the irate father to stop the sluggings on the theory that "we got enough problems." When the gangster intermediary passed the word — "Augie don't like it" — the Mafia nobleman reacted with a vicious, "Wait 'till his daughter is raped."

On the night of the murder, Augie restated his position with the intermediary, and the intermediary got in touch with the distraught father, who promptly arranged the slaying. It was a marvelously professional job.

Neither the hoodlums involved nor the sleuths trying to solve the case really believe the theory that the killers were in the back of Pisano's Cadillac when he and Mrs. Allen Drake left Marino's restaurant on Lexington Ave. and headed for Long Island. They're quite sure the doomed pair were tailed by another car carrying the assassins —and probably with a third man at the wheel.

Augie's death didn't represent much of a loss to humanity, but it will cause some concern in Detroit and Cleveland. He represented the gangseters of those cities at the big council meetings.

Martha Raye and the lawyers have just closed a deal for a $300,000 project — night club, restaurant and shopping area — to be opened on the site of the Copa City in Miami Beach. Nick Condos, her former husband and still manager, will be a partner in the venture, which they'll call "Martha Raye City" . . . Shubert Alley is abuzz with the report that Eddie Fisher may make his stage debut in a Broadway version of the antique Al Jolson chestnut, "The Jazz Singer" . . . Employes at one of the major airlines are secretly negotiating a switch to Jimmy Hoffa's controversial Teamsters' Union . . . The new Jerry Wald flicker, "The Best of Everything," ran over three hours when completed, but they've managed to cut it to something over two hours. Hope Lange emerges with the longest and most satisfactory part; Joan Crawford's seven - minute drunk scene wound up on the floor (no joke intended) and Martha Hyer's role was whittled ruthlessly. But previewers agree the picture is destined to be a huge commercial success.

Government investigators have been making the rounds of the Hollywood studios trying to gather evidence that a major booking agency constitutes a monopoly. . . Khrushchev finally made it. His name was listed on the Celebrity Service bulletin the other day, along with all the glamorous stage and screen stars' monikers ... Duke Hazlett, the entertainer who looks, dresses and sings almost exactly like Frank Sinatra, will cut his first record album soon after he makes his New York debut at the Roundtable Oct. 6. And he's not going to make any secret of his mimicry; the LP will be titled "Frankie's Way," and Duke will decorate it with a bouquet of old Sinatra hits, starting with "I'll Never Smile Again" . . . Oscar Hammerstein was operated on just four years after partner Dick Rodgers underwent surgery. The prognostication for Mr. Hammerstein is equally optimistic.

Americans who've visited Laos say they've never seen fancier uniforms than the ones the officers wear there. It's as if all the money we poured into that area went for gold braid . . . Orson Welles has decided he can make more money doing films in Europe than acting on the Broadway stage. Herman Shumlin tried to get him for a New York play, but without success. Orson's currently making a flicker with Juliette Greco for Darryl Zanuck, and loves the Continental life . . . The man who deserves the most credit for the Russian rocket hitting the moon is a Brazilian . . . Nils Asther, silent screen star now producing films in Sweden, is enlivening his return to the old country by making speeches blasting the U. S. press. He's angry because some American newspapers had him working in the post office at $1.10 an hour when he insists — he really was making industrial films in Philadelphia.

Khrushchev, China Boss In Deep Talk

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Red China's boss Mao Tze-tung appeared to be locked in a deep Red summit talk of their own in Peiping Friday night.

So absorbed were the two men that they passed up attendance at a Peiping ballet in honor of Red China's 10th anniversary celebrations.

The official New China News Agency said Khrushchev and Mao conferred in an atmosphere of coriality and friendship.

There was no official word on what they were discussing, but it was assumed that Khrushchev was giving Mao a detailed fill-in on his Camp David talks with President Eisenhower and his U.S. tour.

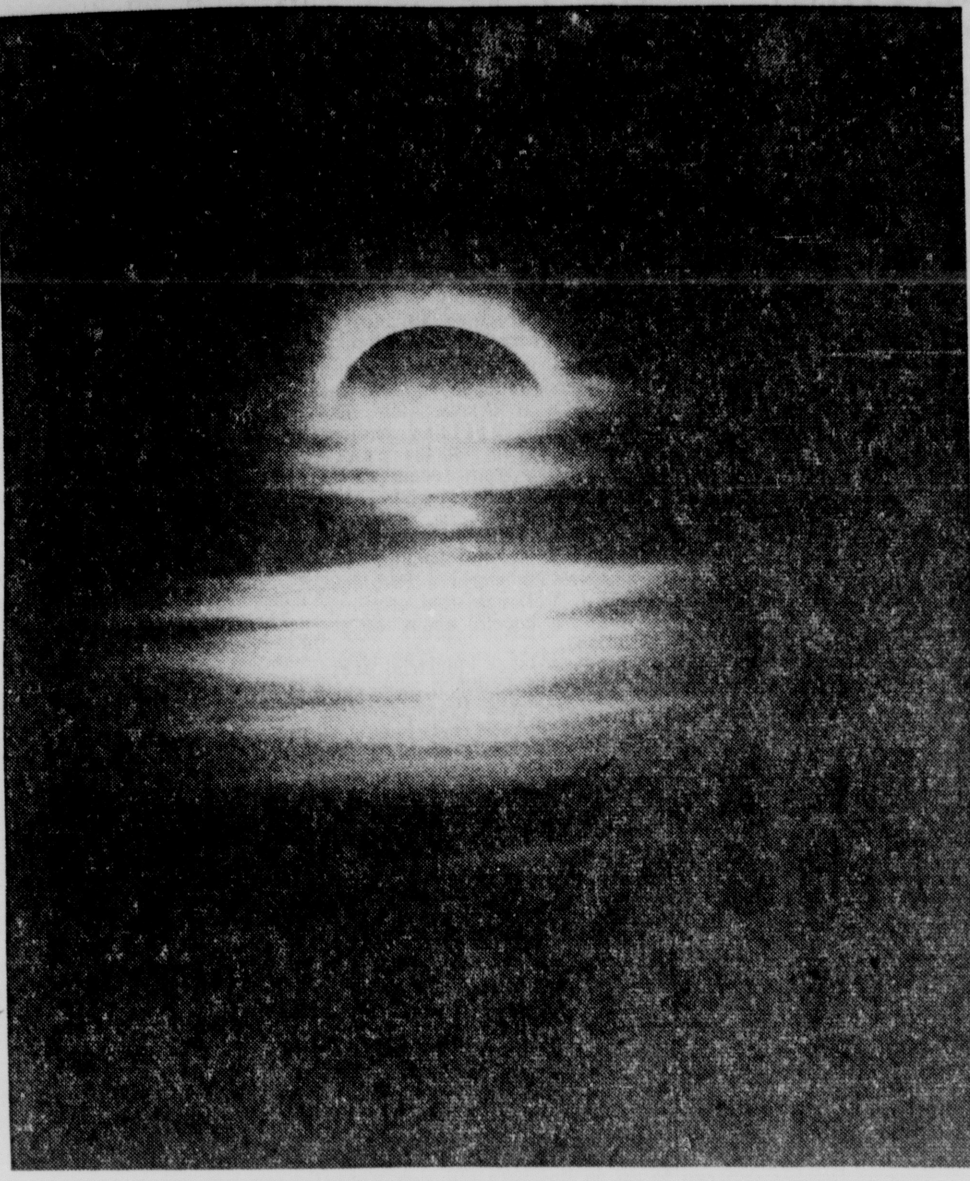
A Peiping broadcast said the participants included Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and Mikhail A. Suslov, Communist party secretary Chinese President Liu Shao-chi, Premier Chou En-lai, Foriegn Minister Chen Yi and Defense Minister Lin Piao.

This lineup indicated the talk was the most important of the three Khrushchev has had with the Red Chinese chief since arriving in Peiping last Wednesday.

In two speeches in Peiping Khrushchev has practically lectured Mao on the advisability of avoiding war and settling disputes by negotiation. He appeared to be taking a cool attitude toward Peiping's quarrel with India and the situation in Laos. So far Mao has not echoed the theme.

Khrushchev and his top hosts failed to appear at a performance of the ballet company and symphony orchestra of the Bolshoi Academic Theater through they had been scheduled to do so. A Tass dispatch reported only the attendance of several Chinese vice premiers and members of Asian, African and Communist delegations.

That caused speculation that the high-level Communist talks were continuing late into the night.



Eclipse Over Boston

This is the way the eclipse of the sun appeared from a Northeast plane 15,500 feet over Boston yesterday. Bad weather from hurricane Gracie obscured the view from the ground but was seen by a group of Harvard astronomers from the plane. This shot was made as it reached the halfway point. FROM KHRUSH SIDEKICK

Ike Gets Praise, Nixon Criticism

MOSCOW (AP)—One of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's traveling companions in the United States looked back on the trip with praise for President Eisenhower and criticism for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The latter, said Georgi A. Zhukov, head of the Soviet state committee for cultural relations with other countries, tried to "raise the Americans against the Soviet guest."

But, Zhkov added, "historians will call this trip a heroic deed," taking into account the fact that there were so many "unknowns in in the equations the head of the Soviet government had to solve."

He published his impression of the Khrushchev trip in the Communist party paper Pravda Friday. He was Pravda's roving diplomatic correspondent during most of the postwar years.

Viewed from Moscow, Khrushchev's prospects in the United States did not look too good, he said.

"The echo of abusive speeches and articles reached Moscow across the ocean. Catholic bishops urged Americans to ring bells and pray to God to save them from dreadful Communist seduction and by no means meet the transoceanic guest," he wrote.

There was a continuous flow of speeches warning "any negotiations with the Bolsheviks are unneeded and harmful, but nevertheless the trip was made.

"The head of the Soviet government judged Eisenhower's courageous gesture on merits, made as it was in defiance of all blueprints of the cold war, and in friendly fashion shook the outstretched hand."

Khrushchev, Zhukov continued, read a cable on board his plane about a Nixon speech before a convention of dentists which "constituted an attempt to raise the Americans against the Soviet guest."

"Why did Nixon do this "Zhukov asked. "We remember his trip in our country as a guest of the Soviet government. The Soviet people knew about many far from friendly statements about our country by this politician. And he knew we knew them.

"At that time we did not yet know that upon his return from Moscow Nixon had made a proposal to the government to use the arrival of Khrushchev to give him a 'cold war' battle—this was reported only on Sept. 21 by James Reston in the New York Times."

Zhukov said that until Khrushchev arrived in the United States "many Americans knew less about our country than we know about the moon."

"Now they had before them a live and dynamic, easily approachable, straightforward, persistent representative of the new world who was able to stand up for himself."

Discussing the favorable Eisenhower - Khrushchev atmosphere, Zhukov recalled that the Camp David talks were held to softly played records of music by Soviet Composer Dmitri Shostakovich.

BROTHEL

LONDON (AP)—A 23-year-old British couple admitted in court Friday they set up a three-girl brothel in the basement of a rented house. They explained they wanted to make enough money to get married. The girl, Susan Glenn, was sentenced to six weeks in jail and her fiance, Michael Hart, to two months.

Man Accused Of Daring Photography

KARLSTAD, Sweden (AP) — A convict who has been running a purported school for models behind the bars stood accused Friday of photographing bare bosomed girls in daring poses in the prison's visiting room.

Police Chief Anders Holmstrom said police have confiscated some of the pictures and are investigating.

Pornographic and indecent? Holmstrom said it will be up to a judge to decide.

How could there be such goings-on at austere Karlstad County Prison? A prison welfare officer explained: Visits are permitted in a private room without either bars or guards. The doors can be closed, though not locked. The convict used this room as his office.

The officer said the convict has admitted taking the pictures during visiting hours and smuggling out some of his production. He turned over to police films and copies he had hidden in his cell. The girls were shown nearly nude.

Coupled in the scandal is the complaint of a girl friend of the convict that she is pregnant.

Even in liberal-minded Sweden, there were a lot of raised eyebrows. A spokesman for the Prison Board in Stockholm promised a full inquiry.

The name of the convict, serving an indefenite term for fraud, was withheld. This is in keeping with a general rule of Swedish police in the case of prisoners sentenced to less than one year or to an indefinite term.

The convict runs a mannequin school in Stokholm in absentia, Holmstrom said.

Arab Republic Says Will Close Red Consulate

CAIRO (UPI(—The United Arab Republic Friday threatened to close the Chinese Communist consulate in Damascus and delayed the departure of a new ambassador to Peiping in a deepening rift with Red China.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser's government was angered over an anti-U.A.R. speech made in Peiping during the Reds' 10th anniversary ceremonies by Syrian Communist Leader Khalid Baghdash.

Bitterness of the feelings generated was obvious at the Chinese Embassy anniversary celebration in Cairo Thurday night.

An Iraqi delegation was the only group from the Arab world to attend.

BROADCAST

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Radio Budapest Friday broadcast a proposal for direct negotiations between Communist Hungary and the United States for improvement of their relations.

Bookmobile At Jackson Street Location Today'

The Ouachita Parish Public Library's Bookmobile is well launched on its October itinerary, taking it to the furthest points in the parish — and to 418 Jackson Street today.

Each Saturday from now until the new Anna Meyer branch library is built on the site of the old library, the Bookmobile will be on duty.

Residents of the Southside and all others who find it easier to check out books at the old library site will find the Bookmobile, filled with magazines and books for adults and youngsters.

Time for the Saturday assignment is 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., parked at the corner of Jackson and Calypso Streets.

Miss Frances Flanders, parish librarian, noted that a large turnout has made use of the Bookmobile each Saturday.

Richard Nixon Returns To Work

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon went back to work Friday after a one-day bout with a mild virus infection.

Nixon's office said he was feeling "much better" after staying at home Thursday. He spent only a few hours at his desk Friday and will take it easy for a while.

BUSINESS HIGHLIGHTS

NO TALKS SCHEDULED

Material shortages that could lead to layoffs of factory and building workers spread Friday as result of a dock workers strike that has stopped cargo handling in ports from Maine to Texas.

The strike by 85,000 longshoremen on the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts was consolidated with the quelling of a back-to-work revolt by New York locals of the International Longshoremen's Union. No contract talks to end the walkout were in sight.

MCDONALD PESSIMISTIC

Negotiations to end the 80-day steel strike progressed into "a new stage," but neither side held hope of reaching the "negotiated settlement asked by President Eisenhower by Oct. 8. United Steelworkerss President David J. McDonald said "I am afraid I am not hopeful."

TRADE VOLUME UP

Despite a slump in major appliance sales, particularly in strikebound steel centers, overall retail trade volume this week was 2 to 6 per cent higher than the 1958 week, Dun & Bradstreet reported. Department store sales in the week ended Sept. 26 ran 7 per cent ahead of last year while sales to date also were up 7 per cent.

PRODUCTION CONTINUES

Negotiations in a three-week strike by 2,000 moldmakers against 26 glass container manufacturers were in "indefinite" recess, but a management source said production was continuing at a pace greater than during the week preceding the dispute. The talks collapsed Thursday following announcement by federal mediators that both sides were at an impasse.

Hog Prices Up On Market As Sales Active

CHICAGO (AP)—Hog prices on the Chicago market moved up 25 cents a hundred pounds Friday on both butchers and sows. Sales were active on receipts of 4,500 head.

Mixed No. 2 and 3 and mixed 1 to 3 grades scaling 200-230 pounds along with mixed 2 and 3s from 230-280 pounds brought $13.15 to $13.35. About 250 head of 1s and mixed 1 and 2s scaling 200-230 pounds and closely sorted for grade sold for $13.60, the top. Mixed grade 1 to 3 sows scaling 275-400 pounds sold from $11.50 to $12.50.

Cattle sales were fully steady on slaughter steers grading good and better. Lower grades were weak. Heifers were too scarce to test prices. Cows were mostly steady and bulls steady to 50 cents lower. Only 300 cattle were on hand.

Choice and low prime steers scaling 1,239 pounds sold at $28.50, the day's top. Choice 1,190 pound steers brought $27.75. Standard heifers sold for $22.50.

Sheep receipts totaled 300 with not enough of any one class to test prices. A few good and choice lambs brought $18 to $20.50. A few choice and prime sold for $21, the top.

Seven Persons Killed In Blast

LIMA, Peru (AP)—A gasoline explosion Friday killed seven persons, three of them children, and injured 10 others during a religious celebration at the village of Pacaraos, 30 miles north of Lima. The explosion came when a rocket part of a fireworks display, went awry and hit a parked truck's gasoline tank.

Stock Mart Irregular In Advancing

NEW YORK (AP)—A cautious stock market Friday groped its way to an irregular advance on the lightest turnover in two weeks.

A scattering of pivotal issues were strong enough to give the average a moderate gain. The industrial and utility sections were will ahead but the rails backed away from recent gains.

The market, which has been sanguine most of the week on hopes of a prompt settlement of the steel strike, lost its zip when United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald told newsmen he was not hopeful about the negotiations.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 2.97 to 636.57.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 50 cents to $222.80 with the industrials up $1.30, the rails down 10 cents and the utilities up 30 cents.

The market was the narrowest in a month as it shrunk to 1,147 issues traded. Of these, 547 advanced and 381 declined. There were nine new highs for the year and 32 new lows.

Volume fell off to 2,270,000 shares from 2,660,000 Thursday and was the lightest since Sept. 17 when 2,090,000 shares were traded.

Six of the 15 most active stocks advanced, five declined and four were unchanged.

Corporate bonds declined as trading slackened. Intermediate U.S. government bonds retreated to get in line with the high 5 per cent yield on the Treasury's new note issue.

Bond sales totaled $5,200,000 par value compared with $6,850,000 Thursday.

Soybean Prices Go Up; Others Advance Also

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures received strong support on the Board of Trade Friday and prices advanced more than a cent a bushel on all deliveries. Wheat, corn and oats advanced fractions and rye finished as much as a cent higher on the distant July delivery.

There was no particular feature to any of the markets and the advance was largely attributed to evening up transactions for the weekend.

Some buying of soybeans was credited to commission houses and local traders on reports of additional rain falling in Iowa and parts of Illinois and a noon forecast for continuation of rainfall.

Precipitation helped corn futures. There also was buying by a big processor and receipts of corn in Chicago continued light.

At the close wheat was ⅛ to ⅜ higher, December $1.96⅜-½; corn ¼ to ¾ higher, December $1.10; oats ⅛ to ⅜ higher, December 71⅜; rye ⅜ to 1 higher, December $1.33⅜-½, and soybeans 1¼ to 1 higher, November $2.13½-¾.

Demand for wheat picked up late in the session despite concern over the dock workers strike along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts and an embargo against further railroad shipments to ports affected by the walkout. Early in the session wheat declined over uncertainty as to how long the strike might continue.

Concert Drive For Members Nearing End

Memberships in the Northeast State Concerts Association will close today, Mrs. John D. Mullens, campaign chairman, announced last night.

Season tickets will be available, however, for persons who ordered memberships by mailing requests this week to the Fine Arts Division at Northeast, the chairman said.

Memberships are $7:50 for adults and $3 for students. Northeast State students will be admitted by presenting their college identification cards.

Working with Mrs. Mullens at the Frances Hotel, campaign headquarters, are: Miss Hermoine Driskell, Mrs. Roy Robertson, Mrs. J. W. Schonlau, Miss Mamie McNeill, Dr. Bert Heinberg, Grant Boardman, Dr. W. R. Hammond and Max Kulcke.

Division chairmen reported "very satisfactory" results of the membership drive last night. The program offerings have been a deciding factor in interest shown by many persons who bought memberships, the group said.

Events already scheduled include music, drama and lectures. Opening the season's features is a lecture Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in Brown Auditorium on the college campus. Dr. Fremont P. Wirth, instructor, traveler, author and lecturer, will speak on Soviet Russia.

The World famous Philharmonia Hungarica Symphony Orchestra is scheduled October 21 at Neville High Auditorium. Other booked attractions include: the Julliard String Quartet, Fred Waring and the Pennsylvanians, Julian Bryan, lecturer, Joan Blondell in "Dark at the Top of the Stairs," and several additional features.

Boy, 7, Thrown From Truck Here Suffers Injuries

A seven - year - old West Monroe youth, David Walsworth, suffered minor bruises and abraisons late yesterday when he was thrown from the back of a pickup truck driven by his father, Leo Walsworth.

Police said Walsworth reported that he was going north on North 7th St. in West Monroe when two motor scooters came up Otis St. and made a right turn onto North 7th.

Walsworth told police one of the scooters came over into his lane and that he threw on the brakes to avoid a collision. His son, who was riding in the back of the truck, was thrown off, Walsworth added.

The youth was rushed to St. Francis, Hospital.

Police said last night that no charges had been filed.

Pleads Innocent

MERCED, Calif. (UPI) — Barbara Burns, 21, daughter of the late comedian Bob (Bazooka) Burns, pleaded innocent Friday to a charge of illegal possession of marijuana.

Superior Judge Gregory P. Maushart set Nov. 4 for a jury trial and lowered bail from $5,000 to $2,500. Friends were expected to post bail.

Miss Burns and Mrs. Barbara Smith, 22, were arrested Sept. 23 on information supplied by four boys they met at a drivein. The boys told authorities Miss Burns bragged that she was smoking a marijuana cigarette and had a flip-top box full of narcotics.

Science Gets Emphasis At Carroll High

Science education will be given additional emphasis during the current year at Carroll High School. Principal M. H. Carroll's application for participation in the Traveling High School Science Library Program has been accepted by the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

A set of 200 outstanding, evaluated, up-to-date books in the sciences and mathematics will circulate to the school library from Washington, D. C. All branches of science will be covered and the reading level will range from books the brilliant junior high student will find interesting to some that will give the outstanding high school senior a taste of advanced work.

IDEA

The idea for this experimental program, aimed at interesting more students in scientific and technical careers, originated with the National Science Foundation, an agency of the Federal Government established in 1950 "to promote the progress of science. . ." The AAAS was requested to administer the program.

The AAAS was organized in 1848 and is the oldest national scientific society. It is a federation of 270 scientific and professional societies and has over 56,000 individual members. It accepted the NSF grant, and in 1955 selected and administered the first library of 150 books which circulated to 66 schools. From this modest beginning the program has expanded until during 1959-60 the library will go to about 1,7000 schools in every State in the Union. The American Community School of Paris (France), and to U. S. Army, Navy and Air Force dependents' schools throughout the world.

The 200 books are circulated 50 at a time to four high schools in geographic proximity, the cases rotating every two months. In this way new titles with a fresh appeal appear periodically. The books in their traveling cases are on display in the school library, and representatives of PTA, civic groups, service organizations and interested individuals are invited to examine them.

Bookmobile At Jackson Street Location Today'

The Ouachita Parish Public Library's Bookmobile is well launched on its October itinerary, taking it to the furthest points in the parish — and to 418 Jackson Street today.

Each Saturday from now until the new Anna Meyer branch library is built on the site of the old library, the Bookmobile will be on duty.

Residents of the Southside and all others who find it easier to check out books at the old library site will find the Bookmobile, filled with magazines and books for adults and youngsters.

Time for the Saturday assignment is 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., parked at the corner of Jackson and Calypso Streets.

Miss Frances Flanders, parish librarian, noted that a large turnout has made use of the Bookmobile each Saturday.

Richard Nixon Returns To Work

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon went back to work Friday after a one-day bout with a mild virus infection.

Nixon's office said he was feeling "much better" after staying at home Thursday. He spent only a few hours at his desk Friday and will take it easy for a while.
